Boeing Carries Children On Park Special!

OVER 100 primary school children from Mombasa were treated to an experience of a life time: a memorable goodwill flight over South Coast, Malindi, Tsavo National Park even though the Kilimanjaro was shy of visitors and Mombasa island.

They were the lucky ones because a good number of them took places of their schoolmates from the SOS Village, Mombasa Parent's Club and other schools who's pupils were sitting examinations and could not be tempted otherwise, not even to board a new Boeing 757 which had a day earlier made a maiden flight from Amsterdam to Mombasa.

The flight was in appreciation of successful conclusion of an agreement between Air Holland and Kenya Flamingo Airways (KFA) a subsidiary of Kenya Airways for charter flights into Mombasa.

It was also a grand opportunity for the children to experience what it was like to be thousands of feet above the ground.

Flying with the children were Mr John Block, President of Air Holland; Mrs Block; Mr S.C. Kositany, Managing Director and Chief Executive of African Tours and Hotels who are themselves part of the success story with their 16 hotels and wildlife lodges spread from the shores of the Indian Ocean and into the great Tsavo National Park, Maasai Mara, Nairobi, Mt. Kenya Region, Kericho, Eldoret, Kabarnet and onto the shores of Lake Victoria in Kisumu.

With the 16 units is a well equipped Tours Division with modern mini-buses, coaches and 4-wheel drive for excursions, transfers, safaris and game drive.

Headline News

Mrs Kositany accompanied her husband and several foreign and local dignitaries were on the plane among them Mr David Killimo, general manager of Kenya Flamingo Airways and Mrs P. Adala, the newly appointed marketing manager of Kenya Airways.

Among the children were those from VOK Mombasa produced popular television series "Mix Them Gather Them" screened on Sunday afternoon. Their producer and director Miss Eunice Ogola was issuing instructions to her two presenters Miss Caroline Goomans and Mr Gilbert Owino

The excited children yelled howls of disapproval when they heard the Captain's booming voice announcing through the intercom that they were heading back for Mombasa.

That was not all as it were, as from Moi International Airport they headed straight to the five-star Mombasa Beach Hotel where African Tours and Hotels laid on refreshments for them although none was lacking on board.

'HAPAG-LLOYD' FLIES IN FROM HAMBURG

BRINGING more than 200 tourists from West Germany to Kenya was the Hapag-Lloyd, one of many charter Airlines operating direct from Europe to Moi International Airport Mombasa. Said Scholastica Ajode Managing Director Skajo Handling Agency a local Kenyan Company based in Mombasa "We feel extremely honoured to have been appointed as Hapag-Lloyd representative locally Hapag-Lloyd chartered by Tui will operate one weekly flight from Hamburg and Dusseldorf with an Airbus into Mombasa between November 1989 and April 1990". Based in Hannover West Germany Hapag-Lloyd Chartered Airlines is currently considering operating schedule flights to Kenya all year around. ## DUTCH CONSUL ON HAND TO WELCOME TRANSAVIA FLIGHT

THE first Transavia flight into Mombasa from Amsterdam, Holland, arrived at Moi International Airport on Monday (November 20) with all 128 seats "full".

This Boeing 737-300 which includes a "Lions" (business) section will be flying into Mombasa each Monday during the "high" season, and there are hopes it might become a year-round operation.

Welcoming Transavia to Mombasa was the Hon. Consul for the Netherlands, Mr A. Rutgers, Giriama and Maasai dancers, as well as airport staff and tour operators waiting to take clients to their hotels.

Among them was Shafket Pervaiz, UTC's General Manager, Coast, which company is looking after the ground arrangements of clients from Jambo Safari Club, Evenenents Reizen and Holland Overseas arriving on this aircraft.

They included a 22-strong "incentive group" who spent their first night in Kenya at Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental before embarking on a grand UTC safari taking them to Tsavo and Amboseli, Maasai Mara, Samburu and Treetops. Their "incentive tour" had been

HIGHWAYS Meet SUDTOUR Clients

MONDAY, November 20, 1989 saw the arrival at Moi International Mombasa of the first group of tourists from Sudtours, Holland and enthusiastic Dutch tour operator based in Amsterdam.

Sudtours has been established only eight years but already has 20 per cent of the Dutch tour business. Their incoming agents in Kenya are Highways Kenya Limited, more popularly known as Highways Tours and Safaris.

When the first group of 47 tourists landed at Moi Airport from Transavia and Air Holland charter flights within half an hour of each other, they were met by representatives of Highways and greeted with a welcoming fruit cocktail, Giriama dancers and a gift wrapped bottle of wine for each tourist.

Sudtours considers Kenya to be an ideal long haul destination for the Dutch market and bookings for the winter season are extremely encouraging. Hitherto Sudtours has operated only to Spain, Portugal, Greece and Turkey.

A spokesman noted: "Sudtours are very happy with the service offered by Transavia and Air Holland. Transavia currently operates Boeing 757 aircraft and on this route they offer a lion class similar to club class on scheduled services.

"When the aircraft crosses the equator, passengers are served with a Mombasa style cocktail".

Presents For Him And Presents For Her

PRESENTS for him, presents for her, and presents for fish - or fish as a present.

Such a nonsensical or wonderful combination - whichever way it suits you - can only come from Musa Karmali.

COASTWEEK is into Christmas shopping, so the start was naturally Musa Karmali of Kuze (Kuze Road, next to the Aga Khan Mosque is off Piggott Place, Kibokoni), and Karmali's phone is 25146).

For Him we suggest a personalised present like a pen (ink or ball) with his name engraved on it. Talking of engraving, this can be done on anything, and is a wonderful method of advertising companies on Christmas handouts.

Is he smart? - Available at Musa Karmali's are 100 per cent cotton short-sleeved shirts.

Tired of ties as gifts? There are some irresistible ones, but men usually like to choose their own. However, ladies, you'll win his heart by giving anything in the Old Spice or Denim range.

Calm the brute with Brut, or the romantic sounding Aramis. Give enough to last the whole year round because prices are down at the moment at Musa Karmali's.

— Or, give him a fish tank complete.....

For Her: If your friend, girlfriend, wife embarrasses you by walking out in the morning in rollers, slightly concealed by a scarf, then solve the problem by giving her a new roller cap. Also for hair in this shop, just received, are hairnets with sequins. Formerly the choice of older people, these are now all in fashion from teenagers up.

Teenagers and young ladies put on eye-make-up and literally scrape it off or try to wash it off - unsuccessfully - thereby stretching the delicate skin below the eyes. Give such a girl some Max Factor Eye-make-up remover pads.

Musa Karmali is one of the few places in Mombasa where you can test eye shadow. What is a true blue hue on one looks like a bruise on another. Most of their eye-shadows are by Max Factor.

And guess what has arrived at last? - Max Factor lip brushes, very small ones for short hair. All bows are there plus side combs and decorative pins.

There are Addis brushes for any type of hair and beautiful baby sets of brush, comb and soap box. Shower caps are both functional and decorative, and there are exquisite handkerchief sets for ladies too.

- or you can give her a fish tank.....

For Fish: Most of Mombasa fish-owners buy their fish food here, but surely the fish deserves more at Christmas.

What about an aquarium "background"? An action ornament is another attraction.

Plants are in plenty for aquariums - either real or plastic. Musa Karmali has air pumps too.

This shop is Mombasa's original stockist and is the oldest in existence in the whole of Kenya, having started in the early 1950s.

You can give a new aquarium owner (small tanks from 395/- only) such pretty things as Angels, or perhaps the Siamese Shark, Red Tail or Fringe Shark.

A Siamese fighter comes in different colours, but are identical in overall appearance.

Little fish are from 25/- up.

We asked the Musa Karmali men in our ignorance whether fish ate or attacked each other, to be told that they do!

NATURAL HABITAT

They added that all the more so in a confined space, but in their natural habitat there are places in which to hide. If in a big aquarium too there are places to which they run, sorry swim, and hide, thus being saved.

It was not a question of one species eating the other, but, like many animals the parents eat the young! However, Musa Karmali know so much about fish that they have overcome such infantile tendencies. When the young are born or hatched they are removed from their parents, kept from their parents.

For the underwater world of its own, but an individual Christmas present, we suggest you go and visit them - and soon.

SHOPPING with ELAINE

the little automatic ones. Also in stock by Max Factor are lipsticks, skin fresheners, toners.

You'll also find Yardley products, talcum, bath salts. Fragrances are Honeysuckle, Lavender, Violet (two), Lily of the Valley.

Other heady items for her are all types of rollers (some with brush for an extra hold), including

Callanetics Keep Bodies Trim!

FOR keeping the body trim and beautiful, a callanetics is sweeping the world - Mombasa being no exception.

Classes being run by Barbara Powers at the Little Theatre Club and Bora-Bora Rehearsal Hall have received an overwhelming response with women of all ages and sizes attracted to this gentler form of keeping fit where jumping, twisting and running is no longer "in".

Explained Barbara "Callanetics are a precise series of exercises designed to work the muscles really deep without putting pressure on the back.

You learn to relax and work your muscles in a multi-repeated movement sometimes of no more than half an inch each way".

They did wonders for "Fergie" (Duchess of York) and it was Callan Pinckney from Savannah, Georgia, who was invited to help "Fergie" fight her flab - a great success story which set the world's keep-fit brigade on fire while Callan's book about these new exercises sold like hot cakes and made her a millionaire.

Callan claims that "all you need is just an hour twice a week and you will be on your way to your dream shape". She says that among other things Callanetics remove double or triple chins, uplift sagging breasts, reduces waists, tightens and lifts the bottom, as well as tightening the skin all over the body.

Motivating Callan into such activity was on hearing that without surgery she might be in a wheel chair for the rest of her life.

The exercises she devised evolved from a combination of the 12 years she spent doing remedial and modern ballet, tap and belly dancing, yoga, thai-chi and judo.

Callan had spent the first seven years of her life in calipers to correct club feet, and later had scoliosis, curvature of the spine and lordosis. She had suffered from back trouble all her life and the exercise programme came about as a direct result of trying to solve her own terrible back problems and pain.

The results were unbelievably spectacular. People were amazed and wanted to know how Callan had been transformed from someone who was almost crippled with back pain to someone who was fit and active - and so quickly.

She showed those interested how to do these exercises. As word got round about how beneficial they were, so this latest exercise sensation took the world by storm, including Mombasa.

Barbara Powers who is running classes in Callanetics is a very talented young woman and has been taking keep fit and aerobic classes, also jazz dancing, for many years.

'WORLD MAGIC' FESTIVAL

Born in Frankfurt, Germany, she trained in classical ballet at the John Cranko School, Stuttgart Staatstheater and has performed at the Frankfurt and Stuttgart Theatres.

Barbara started teaching ballet and jazz dancing because of a knee problem. When this was cured she went into show business travelling all over Europe during which she met her husband, Kenya born Jack Powers.

With their "World Magic Festival" they toured Europe and Canada together.

From 1970 in Kenya they did a number of charity shows together and are active members of Mombasa's Little Theatre Club where Barbara has choreographed quite a number of shows and two revues. In 1983 Jack and Barbara staged their first "Night of Magic" there, which was a great success.

Jack and Barbara's "Night of Magic" is again being staged at LTC on December 15, 16 and 19-23.

Their youngest daughter, Scarlett, is presently studying ballet and music in Germany.

Classes in Callanetics take place at the Little Theatre Club in the evening on Monday and Wednesday, and at the Bora Bora Rehearsal Hall on Tuesday and Friday morning.

Sikhs Commemorate Charitable Works Of Charanjit Singh Suri

THE month of November has been a month of festivities for Siri Guru Singh Sabha, Mombasa as they celebrate the birth anniversary of the founder of the Sikh religion, Guru Nanak Devji.

The festivities started on Saturday, November 11 with the "Aramb of Akhand Path" (continuous recitation of the Holy Granth Sahibji) early morning and the Sampti on Monday, November 13.

This sewa was blessed to the family of S. Beant Singh Sokhi of Coast Building and Maintenance Works, Mombasa, where food (Guru ka Langar) was served by the family on all three days.

To highlight the occasion, the Sabha also performed the official opening of their new parshad room and the extensions to the kitchen. On September 11 last year, Mr and Mrs Kuldip Singh Suri laid the foundation stone of this extension in memory of his parents, late Mr and Mrs Charanjit Singh Suri who was a great social worker in Mombasa and had served the Sikh community of Mombasa from 1932 till 1975 as the Hon. Gen. Secretary, Chairman and Trustee for many many years.

Mr Kuldip Singh Suri, who is the current chairman of the Singh Sabha for the past three years continuously has also donated Shs 100,000/- in memory of his parents.

On Sunday November 12, Mr and Mrs Kuldip Singh Oberai of Kuldip Touring Company officially declared this project open. Mr Kuldip Singh Oberai was the one who initiated the whole project and requested the executive council to build a Parshad room where parshad could be made in a more sacred atmosphere.

This he also did in the memory of his late father Mr Bulaqi Singh Oberai, who had also been a very great worker to the Sikh community in Mombasa.

Mr Bulaqi Singh Oberai had also served the community in different capacities and it is very great honour for the present sikh of Mombasa to note that the first gurudwara built on Mwembe Tayari Road was built under the chairmanship and supervision of Mr Bulaqi Singh Oberai.

Mr Kuldip Singh Oberai donated Shs 175,000/- towards this project. The whole project had been built in memories of great parents of three well known families in Mombasa, as with these extensions Mr and Mrs Tirath Singh Nandra of Mombasa Terrazzo Construction built a large room to facilitate and keep Rumalas (sacred clothes) without any cost to the community.

This he built in memory of his late parents Mr and Mrs Phuman Singh Nandra. Mr Tirath Singh had also built these extensions at a very reasonable cost.

'SWISSAIR HOUSE' IS NOW NEARLY READY

"SWISSAIR House" at Nairobi's S.O.S. Children's Village, being built by the airline at a cost of more than one million shillings, is nearing completion.

Swissair's area manager for Kenya, Mr Walter Kiener, has visited the construction site at the village where he was greeted by S.O.S. Village director, Mr Tony Herrnegger and a group of singing children.

The house, scheduled for completion in January, is one of nine S.O.S. houses around the world sponsored by Swissair, who will also pay for its future running costs.

Nairobi's S.O.S. Village, housing nearly 200 children is one of three of its kind in Kenya and one of more than 500 worldwide designed to help children who are in need of care because they have lost their parents or are homeless for other reasons.

The village houses provide a permanent home for the children in small, "family" groups of 12 youngsters, who are cared for by an "aunt".

MOMBASA TO MARK WORLD A.I.D.S. DAY

DECEMBER 1, 1989 will be the second World AIDS Day. Kenya will join people in other Nations of the world in marking this day.

The main purpose of the World AIDS Day is to stimulate people in every way possible to be aware of AIDS. Discussion of AIDS touches a very sensitive cord within our cultural context.

Yet this disease which respects no cultural boundaries poses a great danger to our lives and our children the youth on whom we have invested, and continue to invest, all our tomorrows.

Here in Mombasa, the Provincial AIDS Committee plans to organise a major walk and rally. The proposed walk is scheduled to commence at the DC's office, through Nkrumah road, Digo and Kenyatta Avenue and Narok Road into the Municipal Stadium.

At the stadium the rally will be addressed by Provincial Administration Civic leaders, KANU leaders and specialists from Ministry of Health.

GERMAN FOOD FESTIVAL

GERMAN chef, Mr Florian Tschakert (left), head of Lufthansa first class cuisine in Frankfurt, recently paid a visit to Nairobi Serena Hotel to consult with resident Serena chefs, Mr Felix Huwyler (centre) and Mr John Macharia on plans for the hotel's upcoming German Food Festival. The extravaganza which will be held December 4-9, will include German food specialities prepared throughout the week at the hotel's Cafe Maghreb and Mandhan Restaurant, and a raffle draw offering a return air ticket to Germany and complimentary holidays at Serena Lodges and Hotels. A wide variety of German delicacies will be prepared under the guidance of Chef Tschakert including "Matjes Hausfrauenart", marinated Herrings on a Sour Cream Sauce with Apples and Onions; "Leberknödelsuppe", a Liver Dumpling Soup; and traditional German Sauerkraut.

"I believe you, now go next door and see if your wife believes yoy."

Jean Claude Van Damme Stars In All Action Drama

BLOOD SPORT, a movie based on true events in the life of Frank W. Dux, is to attract many showgoers who like action films. Showing for the last two days at Kenya Cinema, Blood Sport is a film loaded with action and feeling.

Dux, still holds four world records for the Kunito World Heavyweight Championships. Kumite is a kind of heavyweight boxing which is meant to test the fighting skills and spirit of participants.

Dux, and American who, at an early age got very close to the Tanakas, a Chinese family living in America, learnt all about the Chinese way of life, martial arts and the Kumite from Mr Tanaka who kind of adopted him when his own son died.

Dux grows up knowing all about the Tanaka clan and choose the army for a career. He hears of a coming Kumite championships and not anything, not even "ole Uncle Sam" will prevent him from taking an active part.

In Hong Kong, he meets seemingly bloodthirsty Chong Li (Bolo Yeung), compatriot Ray

PREVIEW with ABDUL R. SHERIFF

Jackson and attractive reporter Janice (Leah Ayres).

The Kumite begins. Viewers can guess the outcome, thrills abound as the fight "to separate the boys from the men", begins and proceeds to the men's fight.

And then there are the inevitable feelings of antagonism between players and Dux's and Janice's attraction to each other.

Dux is acted by newcomer-to-Kenya screen Jean Claude van Damme

Real life Dux begun the American Dux-Ryu Ninjitsu and his records were still unbeaten by the time the film was shot and released.

A plus for the film is its capturing of the character of the city of Hong Kong.

Zanzibar President Visits Mombasa

IT was a fabulously fantastic reception, gigantically invigorating and entertaining for the Zanzibari President, Ndugu Abdul Wakil who is also the second Vice-President of the United Republic of Tanzania. He learnt a great deal and picked up many good ideas about Kenya's economic, political and cultural developments.

• Ndugu ABDUL WAKIL

Ndugu Idris Abdul Wakil explicitly expressed his appreciation for what he learnt during his three days stay in Kenya and paid glorious praise to His Excellency President Moi for his wisdom, for his passionate love for children and for his humanitarian characteristics which are aptly embodied in his well enunciated maxim: "Be mindful of others' welfare".

He felt proud that he shared with President Moi one good historical fact - both had been teachers but he accentuated that Moi has been inherently a good teacher and from him and his nation.

"I have come to learn a great deal and pick up good ideas for the benefit of my nation - the United Republic of Tanzania". With his radiant face and wide smile, which he often wears, Ndugu Idris Abdul Wakil enjoyed superbly a Swahili Cultural Evening at the Mombasa KANU Building, organised by the Chairman, Shariff Nassir and the Zanzibari President spontaneously responded to the invitation. The Maulidi Twarab Orchestra sang touching and deeply moving songs of both nationalistic vein and romantic nuances which deeply attracted nuances of that nationalistic master piece: "Hiyo Kura ya Mlolongo Ndio Kura ya Halali". Ndugu Wakil offered the Maulidi Twarab Orchestra a token of 5,000 shillings as an artistic expression of his appreciation of the singing ability of the Orchestra.

On arrival, in the morning of Thursday he visited a wood-work training institution at Likoni of Association for Physically Disabled of Kenya where he was extremely impressed by a wonderfully good work done by talented physically disabled and that their talents are properly and usefully utilised.

Having seen beautifully, attractive pieces of furniture, he spontaneously uttered: "Yes, as a teacher, I am extensively curious and would like to learn about tremendously successful venture in undertaking this noble mission of teaching the physically disabled to earn their rightful earnings with dignity and integrity".

Later on he was taken around a beautifully maintained mixed farming where he witnessed how milk-cows are so well maintained as to produce prolific milk daily and how farming of vegetables looked after as produce richly nutritious "mboga" for non-meat eaters in the Shamba of V.K. Patel at Mtongwe.

He had his sumptuous luncheon, together with his hosts, including the Mombasa Mayor, Coun. Ahmed Mwidani at the Mombasa Beach Hotel.

On arrival at the Hotel, he was cordially, majestically and warmly welcomed by the Managing Director of African Tours and Hotels Limited, Mr Stephen C. Kositany.

Ndugu Idris Abdul Wakil, together with his retinue, spent a lovely night at the Mombasa Beach Hotel, on return from a superbly enjoyable cultural evening at the Mombasa KANU Building.

Warm Welcome For Transavia Charter Flight From Holland

On Transavia's next flight on November 27 will be many VIPs including a group of ten journalists from major daily newspapers and weekly magazines who will be on a "whistle stop" visit to Kenya. UTC will be taking them to Nyali Beach Hotel for lunch and then on to Shimba Lodge - the Coast's only tree hotel - where they will be spending their only night in Kenya. The next day they fly to Nairobi for meetings arranged by the Dutch Embassy there, and that evening KLM will be taking them back to Holland.

Transavia's captain and crew are staying at Alliance Hotels on the south coast and at the airport to greet them was the group's general manager, Chris Modigell.

Transavia is 24 years old and is 40 per cent owned by KLM. Its official representatives at Mombasa is Condor which gave Captain Louis Cramer, his officers and cabin crew a special welcome by presenting each with a bouquet as well as a refreshing Madafu cocktail to drink - this "outside catering" service being efficiently organised by NAS which brought along a portable bar and parked it near the gangway.

Other tour operators using Transavia flights to Mombasa include Neckermann (Holland), Mirjam Sud Tours, Mabi Plan and Jet Holidays. There is one refuelling stop en-route - this being at Luxor.

There are now two charters from Holland landing at Moi International Airport each Monday.

HIGHWAYS

FROM PAGE ONE welcoming party at Moi Airport received much praise from the arriving tourists who commented on the smart uniforms.

Mrs Narmin Somji, a director and Mr Masood Kamshui, senior manager of Highways limited led the welcoming party and saw to it that once again, Highways were head and shoulders above the rest.

EXPANSION AND MODERNISATION OF TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES IN MASENO AREA

Kenya Posts and Telecommunications Corporation is pleased to announce the automation of Maseno Telephone Exchange in Kisumu District on Thursday 23rd November, 1989 at 7.00 a.m.

On introduction of the new automatic exchange, subscribers will be able to dial their own local, distance (STD) and International (ISD) calls.

All existing Maseno numbers will be changed and become five digit numbers in the series of 51XXX. Subscribers on other automatic exchanges in East Africa will dial STD 035 followed by the new number. The parent exchange will be Kisumu.

AIRLINE SERVICE PLEDGE

The managing director of Kenya Airways, Mr Joseph W.N. Nyagah, has underscored the key role played by inflight attendants in building the image of any airline.

Mr Nyagah challenged inflight attendants of Kenya Airways to uphold high standards of discipline through good conduct in a bid to render efficient services to their passengers.

He made the remarks when he officiated at the graduation of 41 inflight attendants at the Kenya Airways Training School at Embakasi Nairobi.

Noting that airline business has become increasingly competitive and highly professional in the international arena, the Managing Director called upon the staff of the airline to measure up to standards of service to its customers.

Mr Nyagah hailed the Kenya Government for the support it continues to provide to airline and appealed to the employees to show appreciation to it by striving to make Kenya Airways the leading airline in Africa.

Saying that Kenya as country had excelled in many spheres of development, the Managing Director added that the people of Kenya expected Kenya Airways staff, whenever they served, to project a positive image of the country, its aspirations and act as its good ambassadors.

The Managing Director reiterated the policy of the company which require crew to endeavour to personalise their approach in their dealings with passengers by seeking to identify the needs of each passenger hence giving a personal touch to customer service.

Introducing the Managing Director, the Kenya Airways General Manager Administration Mr. N.K. Mutai, said the airline has embarked on a programme to increase its share of the market and quality of passenger and cargo transport by improving upon its training programmes.

SERENA HOTELS ARE 'RATED' IN GLOBAL TOURISM LISTINGS

TWO Kenyan hotels - Nairobi Serena and Serena Beach - have joined the elite of the world's hospitality industry with their admission to The Leading Hotels of the World.

This prestigious organisation, which has its headquarters in New York, has long been recognised as the most influential marketing group of hotels in the world.

Established in 1928, it presently comprises just over 200 hotels offering the finest accommodation and services available.

Commenting on the admission of the Serena hotels, the Serena Group's chief executive, Mr T.I.G. Barrasford, said:

"We regard it as a great honour, not just for Serena, but for Kenya tourism in general. It is recognition of the high standards that we have achieved in the local hotel industry".

Only five other establishments in Africa are members of The Leading Hotels of the World. These are Nairobi's famous Norfolk Hotel, plus two each in Morocco and Egypt.

Other member hotels include The Savoy and Claridges in London, The Gleneagles Hotel in Scotland, The George V in Paris and The Pierre in New York.

The entry of Serena into this organisation comes at a significant time for the local group which has the distinction of being Kenya's only purpose-built hospitality network with the Nairobi and Mombasa hotels and lodges in Samburu, Amboseli and Masai Mara offering a complete range of tourism facilities.

The Serena group is today an integral part of the country's dynamic tourist industry, and very much in the vanguard of overseas marketing of Kenya as a holiday, conference and convention destination.

Following a decade of quiet success, Serena has recently undertaken a major programme of rehabilitation to position itself as the premier hotel and lodge operator in Kenya.

The most visible example of this is the massive rehabilitation programme at Nairobi Serena at a cost of over Shs. 120 million.

Work will also begin in April on enlarging and improving the existing rooms at the Serena Beach and adding 50 new sea-front rooms.

Requirements for membership in The Leading Hotels of the World dictate that a hotel must meet the highest level of achievement in service, physical structure, location, decor, management, cuisine and all other aspects of guest comfort.

Applications from hotels wishing to join are carefully screened by the organisation's Executive Committee and only the most eminent are accepted, after a most thorough on-site inspection by a team from the body's headquarters.

Earlier this year the inspectors visited the Nairobi Serena and Serena Beach to examine all aspects of the hotel's facilities.

Serena management was contacted recently and informed that their application had been given the green light.

The benefits of membership in The Leading Hotels of the World are naturally considerable in terms of marketing as the organisation operates 17 offices around the world, interconnected by a computerised electronic communications system which processes and confirms reservations and provides clients with full information on member hotels.

A final word from The Leading Hotels of the World president, Mr Joseph A. Giacopone, "Our goal when we began in 1928 was the pursuit and assurance of unexcelled quality and the maintenance of the traditions of hotel excellence.

"We have never wavered, our standards remain intact and they have endowed us with the hallmark which continues to set us apart from others in times of conformity and frequent mediocrity. In fact, ours are the standards by which the deluxe hotel industry operates and is measured."

PIUS KAWA-SEFU
AIRWAYS
POSTING

KENYA Airways has appointed Mr Pius Kawa-Sefu as Assistant Properties Manager. Mr Sefu attended the University of Nairobi after his Secondary education and obtained a BA in Land Economics and thereafter a Masters Degree in building management.

He brings with him a wealth of experience after holding senior positions in the Ministry of Public Works. Prior to his new appointment, he was the Provincial Building Maintenance Surveyor, Nairobi Province.

Mr Sefu will assist in the management and maintenance of the airline's properties system-wide. He is married and with two children.

MR TIG BARRASFORD congratulates Nairobi Serena general manager, Mr Peter Mbooga (centre) and Serena Beach general manager, Mr Barry Mwangola, after making the announcement recently of the acceptance of the two hotels into "The Leading Hotels in the World".

AT THE cocktail and dinner party at Mombasa's Reef Hotel there was also a big welcome to Thomas Buchert, Condor's new Station Manager at Mombasa (left). He is seen with Kuldip Sondhi, Managing director, Reef Hotels group and his wife, Aase, a director, and Norwegian Consul, Mombasa, also Fritz Lubke, Director of Operations, Condor, Germany.

Thomas Buchert Taking Over As New CONDOR Station Manager In Kenya

A MAGNIFICENT cocktail and dinner party was hosted by the Condor station-management at Mombasa to bid farewell to Rainer Horn and to welcome his successor, Thomas Buchert.

Mr Horn has been Condor's Station Manager at Mombasa for five years and was leaving to become Lufthansa's Deputy Traffic Manager at the busy Dusseldorf Airport.

The party took place in the Reef Hotel's beautiful gardens close to the sea and among the 130 guests were representatives from Balair, Austrian Airlines, Transavia, Condor, Kenya Airways, as well as from K.P. and T, government, hoteliers, tour operators including Touristic Union International and Pollman's Tours and Safaris, and others involved in the tourist industry.

Condor, which is presently operating three flights a week into Mombasa (and there are hopes that these three flights might continue on a year-round basis) is a 100 per cent subsidiary of Lufthansa German Airlines-

Our Heritage of Faith

OUR world is full of struggles. Armed struggles and so-called peaceful struggles, just struggles and unjust struggles. The newspapers remind us daily - whether it be the struggle for freedom from oppression in South Africa, the struggle for democracy in Eastern Europe or the struggle for survival in the Middle East. These kinds of struggles will remain with us until freedom and justice are fully and finally established.

But our individual lives too are often characterised by conflict and struggle - with our families, with our neighbours and friends, often even within ourselves.

A classic example of this in the Bible is the life of Jacob. He had spent all his life struggling - with his brother Esau, cheating him of his birthright and blessing, and with his uncle Laban over ownership of livestock.

Then one day a man, who he recognised as God, came and wrestled with him all night. Jacob fought so hard that the man had to cripple him to stop his struggling. Through this vivid encounter Jacob learnt that all his life's struggle had really been with God.

He had been fighting to secure his own future, and to scheme and plan his own success in his own way instead of trusting God.

And all this despite the fact that God had already promised him, as a young man at Bethel, that He would bless him and give him the land of Canaan as an inheritance.

We too, like Jacob, need to see that so often our real struggle in life is with Almighty God. Even when we, like Jacob at Bethel, have accepted His promise for our life, we continue to fight to work out the blessing for ourselves.

Jacob found that ultimately God wins, but declares you the winner when you stop fighting and cling to Him in weakness.

If we will but see it, Jacob's discovery is ours too.

Mr Horn received many tributes from Condor as well as from organisations and tour operators at Mombasa including members of Moi International Airport's Facilitation Committee for his helpfulness and co-operation throughout as well as for his dedication to the growth of tourism in Kenya.

There was also a big "thank you" from Fritz Lubke, Director of Operations, Condor, Germany, for having done such a good job at Mombasa and wishing him all the best in his new appointment to the management of Lufthansa at Dusseldorf.

He also introduced, and welcomed, his successor Thomas Buchert who has been working as "Relief Station Manager" and brings with him a wealth of experience gained in many different airports and countries of the world.

In an interview, Mr Lubke said that Condor's three flights are presently bringing more than 1,000 tourists into Mombasa a week during the "high" season.

AIRCRAFT

Adding "as there is now very little difference between the "high" and "low" seasons in the demand for Kenya holidays there are hopes that the present three flights a week might be able to continue on a year-round basis".

He revealed that "in 1992, because of the Common Market, Condor is anticipating an enormous growth for the next five-six years".

Condor has a fleet of 22 aircraft ranging from DC10s to Boeing 737s and has been operating into Mombasa for nearly 20 years.

It was also the first airline to introduce a Boeing 747 into Mombasa. The three main tour operators using Condor to fly their clients here are Touristic Union International (TUI), Neckermann and Hetzel.

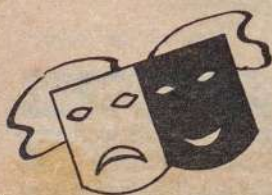

At Mombasa, Condor is also the official representative of Balair, Austrian Airlines and Transavia of Holland.

SKAL Club Enjoy Visit To Kigotho Apartments

THE new Kigotho Apartments have been the venue for another Sunday Family Lunch outing of the Skal Club of Mombasa.

A crowd of Members, Guests and their children started arriving at the Kigotho Apartments on Links Road Nyali (on the main road behind the Mombasa Beach hotel) from 11.00 a.m. and many were still to be found around the pool and Rooftop Bar Terrace at sundown when a display of fireworks was held for the Children (it being November 5 - Guy Fawkes Day).

During the course of the afternoon a delicious barbecue and buffet lunch was served including Chicken in the basket, succulent fried fish fillets and hamburgers accompanied by french fries and assorted salads - all being prepared under the watchful eye of Roy Rogers the owner, director and manager of this new Holiday Apartment Complex.

This was followed by a variety of desserts which included a huge cake presented by the Management and inscribed Skal Club of Mombasa.

Scheduled for final completion and official opening in early December the Kigotho Apartments comprises 12 apartment units each of one and two bedrooms (and two studio apartments) all with en suite bathrooms and with large lounge, kitchen and verandah.

SWIMMING

All apartments overlook a fair sized pool and there is also a restaurant and bar open from 11.00 a.m. to 11.00 p.m. daily. Mr Rogers (better known for his involvement in Tip Top Watersports) and his wife Wanjeri are the Proprietors and are always in evidence making sure that their clients every need is attended to.

Verdict: Another thoroughly enjoyable outing.

OLD TOWN MOURNING

PROMINENT Mombasa businessman Mr Omar Ali Abdulrahman has died after a illness at his Kibokoni home in Old Town and was buried at the Arigo Muslim Cemetery. A gathering of mourners including politicians and businessmen attended the funeral of Mr Abdulrahman, who was widely known as "Omar".

The deceased is related to an Assistant Minister for Information Broadcasting, Shariff Nassir. Lamu District KANU Vice-man, Mr Abdulrahman is described as a big loss to the Arab community at the coast.

SPECIAL PRAYERS

Special prayers ("Khitma") for the late Abdulrahman were held at a mosque in Kibokoni, Mombasa. He is survived by a wife and several children.

KENYA CALL FOR BRITISH NAVY

H.M.S. BEAVER the Royal Navy Type 22 Frigate due to visit Mombasa.

AFTER a three month gap in between RN ship visits HMS Beaver will call at Mombasa on November 23, for a 19-day stay.

A navy spokesman noted: "As many will remember Beaver was here last year in July and despite many new faces, including her Commanding Officer, Captain Tony Morton, there will be several old hands aboard."

Captain Morton's career to date has been a varied one. He qualified as a Buchaneer Pilot in the mid 60s and commanded the last Buccaneer Squadron in Ark Royal before she was decommissioned in the late 70s.

He commanded HMS Falmouth in the Falklands conflict and was subsequently awarded the DSC.

NAVAL ATTACHE

He was the first Commanding Officer of the last RN visitor, the new HMS Sheffield and immediately prior to that was Naval Attache in Paris.

Of the 11 Type 22 Frigates currently in Service five have visited Mombasa in the past 21 months. They are Boxer, Sheffield, Beaver, Brilliant and Brazen.

"Once again Mombasa's popularity is being demonstrated by some 60 ladies arriving to join their menfolk for a holiday - a holiday which may well have cost the more junior sailors a large percentage of their annual pay.

"Most have already booked safaris into Kenya's magnificent Game Parks, a clear sign that any recent adverse publicity has been more than countered by the highly effective measures taken to rid the Parks of "undesirable elements".

The party was in honour of eight Council Members of the Law Society of Kenya who were on a brief visit to the Coast.

Richard Tyson-Davies On Enigma Of 'Two Cheers For The CHIP ...'

AS PART of its 10th Anniversary celebrations, the Kenya Institute of Bankers invited Richard Tyson-Davies, Public Affairs Manager, Association for Payment Clearing Services, London, to come to Kenya and deliver three lectures on developments in banking entitled "Two Cheers for the Chip".

Apacs is owned by major banks and building societies in the UK and Mr Tyson-Davies spoke with considerable experience having been with the Bank of England for nearly 30 years.

His first two lectures were given in Nairobi, and the last at Mombasa's Oceanic Hotel which attracted a surprisingly good turn out of members of the Kenya Institute of Bankers, Coast Branch, the Chairman of which is Mr P.R. Modi, Chief Manager, Barclays Nkrumah Road Branch.

Mr Tyson-Davies, who was an excellent and interesting speaker, referred to the introduction of technology into banking institutions in Kenya tying that with his knowledge and experience of banking developments in the UK over the last 20—30 years.

He outlined what is happening in this area with particular emphasis on what he considers to be the "core activity of banking - the transmitting of money" giving examples from his personal experience which, he considered, may be of help to young bankers in Kenya.

He also urged them not to allow technology to become their master, but instead to learn how to control it so as to derive the maximum benefit from such technology.

He cautioned against spending large sums of money on equip-

Modi (third left) is seen presenting a gift of a copper wall clock to Richard Tyson-Davies, Public Affairs Manager, Association for Payment Clearing Services, London, who had given a most interesting and informative lecture on developments

ment without first inquiring as to what extent it will benefit them.

Said Mr Tyson-Davies "mistakes have been made in the UK and should not be repeated here when you have the opportunity of learning from the experiences of others".

He spoke of interesting developments in banking in developed countries including cash machines, of which there are thousands all around England, and which have recently started appearing in Nairobi.

OVATION

He also referred to matters of international importance including the risk of moving large sums of money around the world.

Mr Tyson-Davies received a tremendous ovation and was presented with a wall clock mounted on copper in the shape of Africa.

There was also a bouquet for his wife, Penny.

A "vote of thanks" for such an interesting and informative talk was given by Mr L.J. Pires, Executive Director, Kenya Institute of Bankers, who also mentioned how impressed he had been with the turn out and beautiful venue chosen.

In welcoming and introducing Mr Tyson-Davies to members, the chairman of KIB's Coast Branch, Mr P.R. Modi, said that in the last ten years banking in Kenya had developed rapidly under a stable government and the wise leadership of President Moi.

He noted that most banks and Financial Houses are now being computerised which demonstrated the aggressive use of available technology to meet business strategies.

It was resulting in a more prompt, reliable and efficient customer service, as well as more up-to-date information for management.

Said Mr Modi "this coupled with the professional and friendly service given by Banks and Financial Houses can only improve our service to the public".

PROGRESS

Saying that this year is the 10th anniversary of KIB he took the opportunity of congratulating members for their achievements and progress which had contributed towards the Institute's success.

He urged them to continue with the trend of serving the public diligently and maintaining long term relationships through friendly and helpful service in keeping with the Institute's motto of "Customers whom we serve now are the foundation of our progress".

ROTARACT CLUB OF MOMBASA HOSTING JOMVU 'EYE CLINIC'

AS early as 7.00 a.m. on Sunday October 29, 1989 the village of Jomvu Kuu was invaded by Rotaractors from the Rotaract Club of Mombasa, busy setting the scene for the eye and dental camp that was being held there.

By 9.00 a.m., when registration and screening began, the waiting rooms at the Clinic were already packed to capacity.

The combined efforts and hard work of the Rotaractors saw to the systematic and smooth running of the entire project which continued till 1.00p.m. with an hours break for lunch and to give the doctors "a little time to breathe".

The exercise resumed at 2.00pm and doctors and Rotaractors worked tirelessly till 4.30 p.m. when upto 600 patients had been screened and/or treated.

As a token of appreciation and thanks for their time and hard work, the doctors and nurses were presented with certificates of appreciation from the Rotaract Club of Mombasa.

When speaking to the chief of the area, who had come to see how everything was going, Chairman Shakeel Ladha said that it was obvious that one day was not enough for such an exercise to be totally successful and that efforts would be made to hold such camps for a longer period of time in the future.

Highly encouraging remarks were received from doctors and Rotarians in whose opinion, Rotaractors had excelled in organisation of such an event.

This was the first of such camps to be held by the Rotaract Club of Mombasa. According to Dr Valli of Interoptica, it was good to see the youth getting involved in social and welfare work.

Dr Karim of Kenya Optical was also full of praise and felt that a great service had been done and much achieved from it. Drs Ganiwalla and Mwangi found the Rotaractors to be a well-organised co-operative, cordial and happy lot of youngsters and found it difficult to believe that such a young group of individuals could organise such a successful programme.

Rtns Dhanjal and Aboo commended Rotaractors on an excellently organised activity and hoped that there would be a follow-up on the medical cases.

Tired, but happy Rotaractors then relaxed at the Kenya Beach Hotel where the fellowship spirit in the Club was obvious.

Said Dr Mwangi, who had joined Rotaractors on the fellowship outing, "I wish I was under 29!"

Sincere thanks to the East African Industries for their generous donation of toothpaste and toothbrushes, worth Shs 10,000/-, which was well-received by the grateful villagers of Jomvu Kuu.

Congratulations to Rtr Shakeel and his 25-strong team of Rotaractors on a job well done!

A Kenya programme is being introduced by his company and Mr Apostolos was here "looking far beds". Fourth right is Marc R. Lawson, Assistant to Group General Manager, Alliance Hotels. Second right is Godfrey Ikanda, Front of House Manager, Jadini and Africana Sea Lodge.

Marangidis Apostolos Enjoys Jadini Holiday

LONG-HAUL travel is the fastest growing sector in tourism in Britain today, and Ilios Island Holidays at Horsham, UK, is planning to promote holidays further afield than in Greece, Spain, Italy and Turkey.

Spending 12 nights at Jadini Beach Hotel recently was Marangidis Apostolos a partner in Ilios Island Holidays who was accompanied by 25 of his colleagues including travel agents also civil aviation people from Athens Airport. Most are from travel companies in different countries of the world but who work in Greece.

Said Mr Apostolos "this is my fourth visit to Kenya. Adding "I like everything about this country. It is paradise here".

He was in Kenya "looking for beds" and is certain that their new Kenya Programme will entice many more British, as well as Greek, holidaymakers here.

DIE HOCHSAISON IST VIELVERSPRECHEND!

CHRIS MODIGELL, Gruppen General Manager von Alliance Hotels, ist wahrscheinlich der meistgereiste und einer der eifrigsten Förderer des Tourismus an der kenianischen Küste. Er kehrte kürzlich aus Europa zurück und ist aufgrund von Besprechungen mit Reiseveranstaltern zuversichtlich, daß Kenia in diesem Jahr wiederum mit einer ausgezeichneten Hochsaison rechnen kann.

Es wird viel unternommen, um die Touristen nach Kenia zu locken. In Hamburg war Herr Modigell zusammen mit rund 700 Vertretern von Reisebüros eingeladen zur Lanclerung des Winterprogrammes der LTU Reisebüros (Meier's Weltreisen, Jahn Reisen, Transair und Tjæreborg), in dem Kenia einen wichtigen Platz einnimmt.

LAUDA AIR
 Von Österreich aus werden zwei größere Flugzeuge während der Wintersaison nach Mombasa fliegen, um mehr Touristen nach Kenia zu bringen. Lauda Air hat soeben eine Boeing 767 eingesetzt, während der neue Airbus 767 von Austrian Airlines seit 6. November regelmäßig nach Mombasa fliegt.

Was Großbritannien anbetrifft, erwähnte Herr Modigell, daß mit den zusätzlichen Charterflügen nach Mombasa dieser potentielle Markt auch weiter erschlossen wird und sich die britischen Reiseveranstalter eher für Kenia interessieren, wenn ihnen mehr Plätze in Chartermaschinen zur Verfügung stehen.

Die Auswirkung ist bereits deutlich bei Alliance Hotels zu erkennen, wo die Buchungen aus Großbritannien um 150 Prozent zugenommen haben.

Seit Kenya Airways nach Kopenhagen fliegt, sollten auch mehr Touristen aus skandinavischen Ländern ihre Ferien in Kenia verbringen. Überdies führt Transavia ab 20. November die ersten Charterflüge von Holland nach Mombasa durch, was auch für Belgien interessant sein wird. Sechs Reiseveranstalter aus Holland und Belgien haben Plätze gebucht in dieser Chartermaschine.

Leider ist der italienische Markt um rund 50 Prozent zurückgegangen, weil viele Touristen aus Angst vor Malaria Kenia meiden. Die italienischen Reiseveranstalter haben jedoch zugestimmt, ihren Kunden eine Malaria prophylaxe zu empfehlen, wenn sie nach Kenia reisen, wie das bei Reisebüros in anderen Ländern schon lange üblich ist.

Herr Modigell beschloß, einen Teil seines Jahresurlaubs dazu zu verwenden, um die australische Tourismusbehörde in Sydney zu besuchen, an welcher als einzige afrikanische Länder nur Sambia und Simbabwe wirkungsvoll vertreten waren.

Er sprach mit verschiedenen Reiseveranstaltern, die bereits Urlaub in Kenia, vor allem Safaris offerieren. Dabei wurde hervor gehoben, daß das Potential zwar vorhanden wäre, aber der Mangel an Plätzen im Flugzeug das größte Problem darstellt.

Herr Modigell wies auch darauf hin, daß mit der Abwertung des kenianischen Schillings gegenüber den harten Währungen Kenia günstigere Ferien offerieren kann als andere Fernreiseziele.

MAURITIUS
 Herr Modigell machte auch einen Zwischenhalt in Singapur. Dort fand er heraus, daß die Singapurianer auf dem Weg nach Kenia einen Badeurlaub in Mauritius einschalten, da sie dort ohnehin vier Tage auf die Flugverbindung nach Kenia warten müssen. In Kenia verbringen sie dann durchschnittlich zehn Tage auf Safari.

PROSIT!

 Eine solche Urlaubsreise ist recht kostspielig, weil Mauritius teurer ist als Kenia. Die Singapurianer haben jedoch keine andere Möglichkeit, da es keine bessere Flugverbindung nach Kenia gibt. Es wurde Kenya Airways vorgeschlagen, diesen potentiellen Markt in ihr Streckennetz aufzunehmen.

Chris Modigell besuchte auch Hongkong, wo er auf großes Interesse an Badeferien in Kenia stieß. Wiederrum sind die fehlenden guten Flugverbindungen das größte Hindernis.

In der Zwischenzeit hatte Herr Modigell sechs führende Journalisten aus Hongkong nach Kenia eingeladen, damit sie sich selbst in diesem Lande umsehen und von den vielen Touristenattraktionen überzeugen können.

TOPAS – DER GLÜCKSTEIN FÜR NOVEMBER

GEMSTONES LAPIDARY Limited hat uns für das letzte halbe Jahr zuhnden unserer Leser jeweils regelmäßig Informationen über den Glückstein des Monats zur Verfügung gestellt. Der Glückstein für November – der TOPAS – ist ein allgemein beliebter und widerstandsfähiger Edelstein, dessen Name wahrscheinlich von dem Sanskrit Wort "Tapas" abgeleitet wurde. "Brasilianischer Saphir" und "Skandinavien" wurden gewisse Topase genannt, die in der Farbe und Erscheinung diesen beiden Edelsteinen ähnlich sahen. Diese Bezeichnungen sind jedoch veraltet und werden heute kaum mehr verwendet.

Als Prinzessin Salome für König Herodes ihren Schleiertanz vorführte und als Belohnung auf einer Silberschüssel den Kopf des Johannes des Täufers verlangte, versuchte Herodes mit allen Mitteln, sie von diesem makabren Wunsch abzubringen, indem er ihr seine kostbarsten Edelsteine anbot: "Topase, so gelb wie die Augen der Tiger, so rosa wie die Augen der Waldtauben und so grün wie Katzenaugen..."

Außer den eben genannten Farben sollte auch noch Blau, Braun, Rot sowie farblos erwähnt werden, um die Liste der bekannten Topasarten zu ergänzen. Gelb ist die Farbe, die mit diesem Edelmetall am meisten in Verbindung gebracht wird, denn alle gelben Edelsteine wurden einst Topase genannt.

KIESELSTEINE
 Die Kristallographie der Topase ist orthorhombisch, wobei die Kristalle mehr oder weniger spitz oder mit einem Stumpfende enden. (s. Zeichnung). Manchmal sind sie sehr groß, massive Klumpen oder abgerundet wie Kieselsteine. Sie erreichen einen Härtegrad von 8 nach der Moh-Skala, im Vergleich zu 10 der Diamanten. Das spezifische Gewicht der Topase liegt zwischen 3,53 und 3,56. Edelsteine von bis zu 20.000 Karat wurden aus Mineralien in verschiedenen Farben geschliffen. Diese Riesensteine gibt es in Blau, Blaugelb und farblos. Viele außergewöhnliche Topase können in öffentlichen Sammlungen besichtigt werden, unter anderem der riesige tiefblaue "Morgenthau Topas" von 1.463 Karat im Amerikanischen Museum für Naturgeschichte; ein makelloser in Stufen geschliffener blauer Topas von 1.300 Karat ist im Britischen Museum ausgestellt.
 Bedeutende Vorkommen von

TOPASKRISTALLE: orthorhombisches System, prismatisch, mit stumpfem oder pyramidenförmigem Ende.

der Insel Madagaskar. Topas ist ein weitverbreitetes Mineral, jedoch seltener, wenn es als Edelstein verwendet wird. Meistens werden Topase als Nebenprodukt anderer Mineralien abgebaut. Zum Bei-

Topasen gibt es in Brasilien, UdSSR, Pakistan, USA, Japan, Tasmanien, Nord-Queensland in Australien, Burma, Ceylon. Auf dem afrikanischen Kontinent wurden die wichtigsten Funde in Südwesafrika, Nigeria und Simbabwe gemacht sowie auf spiel wurden Topase gefunden in den Erzabfällen der Edelsteinminen von Ceylon und im Mogok-Gebiet von Burma, als man nach Rubinen und Saphiren suchte.

Bei GEMSTONES LAPIDARY Ltd. gibt es außer Topasen viele andere exquisite Edelsteine, nämlich Tsavorite, Tanzanite, Rubine, Saphire, Aquamarine etc. Auf Wunsch können Sie dort irgendeinen Edelstein aussuchen und ihn nach Ihren Angaben in 18 Karat Gelb- oder Weißgold fassen lassen.

Besuchen Sie bei Ihrem nächsten Aufenthalt in Kenia Gemstones Lapidary Limited in der Moi Avenue in Mombasa. Das Verkaufspersonal wird sich freuen, Ihnen alle weiteren gewünschten Auskünfte über Edelsteine zu erteilen. Die Echtheit aller Steine wird durch ein Zertifikat garantiert.

HONDA-HÄNDLER AUF INCENTIVE-TOUR

DIE ZWEITE GRUPPE DER erfolgreichsten Honda-Händler (PP - Power Products) der ganzen Schweiz vor dem Diani Reef Grand Hotel, wo sie die zweite Woche ihrer Incentivereise mit Bedeferien an der Südküste verbrachte. Nach einer wohlgeplanten Safari mit ruhigem Ablauf von Nairobi nach Samburu, Nakuru und Masai Mara führen sie mit dem Nachtzug an die Küste zurück. Dieses Nostalgieerlebnis, das sie an den "Orient-Express" erinnerte, wurde von allen sehr geschätzt. Sie lobten den hervorragenden Service und die optimal motivierte Mannschaft.

Ausgezeichnet gefallen hat ihnen auch die Dhau-fahrt mit Kenya Marineland. Während sie in Musse der Mtwaya Creek hinaufsegelten, sahen und erlebten sie viel Interessantes, alles fachmännisch erklärt von Reiseleiter Fritz Leuenberger.

Am Samstag vor ihrer Abreise wurden die Honda-Händler vom Diani Reef Grand Hotel zu einem Galadiner eingeladen.

Die Incentivetur war organisiert vom Reisebüro Harry Kolb in Kitchberg/Zürich. Für die Landarrangements in Kenia war Private Safaris Ltd. verantwortlich. Harry Kolb (links) und Marius Tobler (rechts) betreuten als erfahrene Reiseleiter die Gruppe, die sich zusammen mit Frauen und Freunden in 55 Personen zusammensetzte. Im Oktober hatten sie bereits die erste Honda-Gruppe (Motorradhändler) nach Kenia begleitet.

Those Lunatics Who Like To Weave About In Lanes

MOST of us complain that people overtake on both sides despite the fact that it is common sense to overtake only on the left.

In most countries it is true that the rules state categorically that slow drivers should keep to the kerbside lane and fast vehicles and overtaking vehicles on the nearside lane.

We have had endless arguments with Kachumbari on this since he is of the recent school that learned their driving in the mushrooming driving schools whereas us old folks went to driving school when only the A.A. was "the place" to learn.

At the time the rules and regulations were based on the British Highway code and that was similar to what it was in the other European countries irrespective of which hand they were driving on.

In the United States the rule

This led to a lot of lively discussion at the bar and it turned out that most people were not even aware that any provision for overtaking existed in the Code.

So all these lunatics who like weaving through traffic and causing other road users are within the law.

Perhaps it is time that the Lawmakers sat down and had a long look at the code again.

There exist a lot of anomalies in the book and yet all the people currently learning how to drive are being taught how to drive unsafely because of these same anomalies.

We all cry out about the high rate of accidents in this country yet most of the accidents are caused by bad behaviour of drivers.

One wonders whether the fact that the Code allows them and the driving schools teach them to drive in a manner that could easily be considered discourteous adds to the multitude of avoidable reasons that cause accidents.

Kachumbari had occasion the other day to witness a gross case of lane indiscipline.

A lorry was driving towards town across Makupa Causeway. For some unknown reason (that later turned out to be fear of the bumps) the driver swerved the opposite side of the dual carriageway, missed a lamp-post and rammed into an oncoming car that was minding its own business in its rightful lane.

Had the driver of the opposite vehicle not been alert they would have ended up as mince meat to add to the other hundreds of tonnes that have been created due to the carnage on the roads in this country.

As Kachumbari says, it is time we had a radical look at the driving laws, the enforcement of the laws and the behaviour of the people for whom the laws are made - that is Mr Average Driver.

with
PATRICK

differs slightly in that once you've chosen a lane you stick to it until you have to move out to leave the highway and that is irrespective of what speeds the other lanes are travelling at.

Kachumbari, having won himself a highway code during the motor club gymkhana last week searched high and low looking for me.

He eventually came across me at the Kadogo Club which is one of our regular watering holes.

With a triumphant shout he came across and before I could get a word in he ordered a crate of Triple J and asked the barman to put it on my bill.

PROTESTATIONS

Amidst my protestations he whipped out his newly won Highway Code of Kenya and flipped quickly through the pages and when he found the page he was looking for he ahemed loudly to attract attention and proceeded to read out the contents.

The Highway Code in Kenya surprisingly states that one is Allowed to overtake on either side provided that the road is multi-laned and the lanes on the same side of the road are clearly divided by lines, bollards or other suitable means.

One cannot overtake on either side of a single lane road.

HASHERS TAKING IN NGUU TATU SCENERY

LAST week's hash was arranged by Simba ably assisted by Boxer.

The setting was in Nguu Tatu which Simba thought he knew well since he spends the major part of his day working in that area.

So when he set out on Saturday morning to lay the trail he was thinking of the accolades he would receive from his fellow hashers for a job well done since his hash would be perfectly timed and would have the required hill climbs.

Alas this was not the case. There were no hill climbs at all and Simba informs your scribe that even after a thorough search he just could not find any hills in Nguu Tatu.

Even Boxer began to develop a hatred for these elusive hills and so it was decided to set the run regardless of the terrain.

The turn-out for some reason was low as the pack made their way towards the Water Tanks in the Wilds of Nguu Tatu.

The hash commenced and each hasher ventured out in different directions to find the trail.

Moneybags disappeared into the hash whilst Druggie went down the road and around the bend.

But it was Premium who eventually saw the trail and led the pack until the first junction and then he too went astray.

The one unusual characteristic of this hash was that the leadership alternated rapidly as each front runner ended up in a false.

From the junction Taher "Punctureali" led until he disappeared into a false and Jamil

"Jabber" took over upto the first holding spot overlooking the quarry.

The route then went into proper bushland and many hashers started complaining about thorny bushes and the presence of ticks in the woodlands. This is all part and parcel of hashing as the trail continued past the many ponds and through a mini-maize farm.

The home-run was a long two km run on the main road and this was appreciated by many as this provided an opportunity for serious running.

Moneybags still had lots of energy left and continued running past the spot where the cars were parked until the thought of beer came to mind and he rushed back for the drive to Manor.

The On-On was a super affair which continued even at the Sports Club courtesy of Jagdish.

The hash next Saturday, November 25, 1989 will be the special 225th run to be set by Adnan Chatterbox. All are welcome and meet at Manor at 4.30 p.m. sharp.

All Set For 'Mamba Rally' From The Mamba Village

up the farm was to preserve the crocodile whose hide was in great demand.

By setting up the farm, the demand for the hides could be met without having to resort to poaching of the animal in its natural habitat.

Carnivorous Plants And Marine Life

This is a perfect example of how conservation can co-exist with commercial interests.

The complex has two distinct arms. The tourist side consists of a restaurant, bar, disco, two coffee shops, camel riding and horse riding.

To be newly opened is a botanical garden that will have aquaria depicting marine life as found in the Indian Ocean.

The main trust, however, will be the carnivorous plants that have been collected from all parts of the world including Kenya.

The 7000 species to be housed in a specially sculpted area within the existing complex includes orchids.

Uniquely, carnivorous plants thrive in nitrogen starved rain forests.

They derive their nitrogen from digesting insects using enzymes that are in the liquid that attracts the insects in the first place.

Also recently introduced and proving very popular is horse riding.

There are horseback tours to the beach available where if one is adventurous enough, one can enjoy the sunset on the sparkling white Kenyan beaches.

The complex also has a qualified instructor for those wishing to learn horse riding.

The commercial side and the one that is better known is the crocodile rearing side.

The farm has a total of 8000 crocodiles that range in size from hatchlings to the infamous "big daddy".

The crocs live in what closely resembles their natural habitat - created out of a refuse dump. After mating in September, the females lay between 18 and 100 eggs each in December and January which are incubated under ideal conditions to achieve a hatching rate of 99 per cent of the fertile eggs after a further three months.

The hatchlings are bred in specially prepared ponds for fast growth. After two years they are slaughtered for their skin which is then exported as wet and salted hides to overseas markets.

The meat is not wasted and can be eaten as a delicacy at the restaurant.

Recently, by careful breeding, Mamba Village have scored another first by producing "white crocodiles". Far from being albinos, the whites are as a result of genetic matching.

The whites are still young and are being developed into breeding stock for the anticipated market for white crocodile skin.

It is of interest to know that the crocs at the village are fresh water Nile crocodiles and exposure to salt water would kill them in a space of one hour.

Feeding of the crocodiles takes place at 5.00 p.m. daily.

One can then feed on crocodile meat at the restaurant if they so wish or at one of the leading restaurants in Kenya who now feature crocodile meat on their menus.

A THREE WICKET VICTORY

ALTHOUGH Mombasa Sports Club are not participating in the C.C.A. League, they still remain one of the most active teams at the coast, having played 14 times since the end of July.

Many of these games have had close finishes and last Saturday was no exception, when Sports Club snatched a three wicket win with only four balls remaining.

The visitors were Hatim Karimjee S.C., who had sportingly provided opposition at short notice.

In a 30 over game, Hatim Karimjee had a disastrous start, losing three wickets for only 1 run against accurate bowling by Raju and Atul. Raju was in devastating form, taking four wickets for 12 runs in his six overs, all clean bowled.

Kapacee (27), Mufti (25), Feroz (24 not out) and captain Aziz (47) all batted well to take the visitors to a respectable 130 for eight wickets.

Aziz hit six fours before being well caught by Raju off Atul, who finished with three for 23.

In reply, Sports Club also started badly, losing two wickets for three runs, hit a good stand by Richard Cooper and Atul Patel took the score past 50, when Atul was caught for 25.

Masood (19) helped take the score into three figures and Cooper, playing his first innings for Sports Club, laid the foundations for the win with a very good knock of 62 runs.

Karimjee fought back by taking four quick wickets in the space of 14 runs, but a short single off the second ball of the last over saw the hosts home by three wickets.

Tomorrow, November 25, Sports Club take on the unknown K.C. Invitation Eleven and regular Saturday games are planned through until 1990, when they will host Repton Pilgrims from England on January 7.

MEMON OPEN TABLE TENNIS CHAMPIONS

THE eagerly-awaited Ninth Memon Open Table Tennis Championship is scheduled to start at Memon Villa in Mombasa on Monday where participants from Tanzania and Uganda will be among those to fight for top honours, writes Abdulrahman Sherif.

At the time of going to press, the Secretary of Memon Sports Club, Abdul Aziz Varvani was waiting to receive confirmation from Zanzibar. The Mombasa Club also invited the Islanders for the Championship.

Mr Varvani told COASTWEEK on Tuesday, November 22, that Tanzania Mainland confirmed they will send 10 players among them eight internationals and two juniors plus two officials.

The Tanzania national team players to take part in the Memon Open are: Ahmed Divani, Felix Donald, Ahmed Jumaan, Joseph Stauslau, Ayoub Zubeir, Erman Zakaria, Akil Tapy, Deepak Pujara and Aziz Katate. The juniors are Mohammed Jumaan and Joseph Ftanilau.

Isaa Yasin travels as the Tanzania team leader. Chambo, the secretary of the Tanzania Table Tennis Association, is the only other official to accompany the team.

Uganda team which comprises of 15 players most of them juniors and 10 officials, have also confirmed their willingness to take part in the Memon Open. They arrive Mombasa on Sunday the day Tanzanians are also expected to arrive.

The Uganda Internationals are: George Yaga, John Sebbowa, Sam Wasswa, Julius Mweziye, Jamil Mayanja, and David Mulinde. On Tuesday, Uganda could only release names of two juniors. They are Olanya and Andrew Gitita.

Officials are Francis Mulinda (Chairman of Uganda TTA), Sam Kamara (official), Francis Sebuguzi (team leader) and Prostobu Guy (official). Names of other six officials were not released immediately.

Kenya's top stars among them Noel Carvalho, Mariga Mwangi, George Mudiri, and Moses Maina are to participate.

CAPTAINS' PRIZE COMPETITIONS

NOTH the Lady Captain of Mombasa Golf Club and the Men's Captain of Nyalii Golf and Country Club hosted their prize competitions last weekend writes Followthru.

Ladies first! At Mombasa the Lady Captain Kokila Patel had a good entry of 16 players plus six invited guests and six "beginners" playing in a nine hole subsidiary competition.

Although it was a very hot afternoon, there was enough breeze to make conditions bearable and the course was playing well though the greens are hard and fast and require special knowledge. Jean Elms, who makes a habit of playing well at Mombasa, had no problems and was putting extremely well.

She had an excellent score of 16-and-half (35-and-half - 19) which proved to be quite unbeatable. Bessy Habermacher put up a good challenge with a score of 18 (34 - 16) for second place and third was Suhass Gudka who after a brilliant first nine below her handicap, collapsed somewhat and could only score 19 (30 - 11).

Best First Nine went to Zebi Anjarwalla on 36-and-half and Best Second Nine to Perviz Barnsley with 18 points. Best of the guests was Catherine Ndegwa on 25 and the Subsidiary was won by Nafisa Kanji with 13 points.

In her speech Koki gave much praise for the loyal support of her hard-working committee without whose help a successful year would not have been possible.

She also had a special word of thanks for the Caddy master, Omari and all the staff. Thanks again went to her Committee who provided the lovely tea enjoyed by all the players and their families.

Jean Elms on behalf of all the Ladies thanked Koki for a most enjoyable afternoon and for all her hard work throughout the year.

Full results: winner: Jean Elms 16-and-half, runner-up: Bessy Habermacher 18, third: Suhass Gudka 19, best first nine: Zebi Anjarwalla 36-and-half, best second nine: Perviz Barnsley 18, hidden holes: Jane Njoroge, best guest: Catherine Ndegwa 25, subsidiary: Nafisa Kanji 13 points.

The competition for the men at Nyalii was a two day event and David McConnell the 1989 Captain had very good support in spite of the tropical heat and high humidity which caused a few players to wilt especially on Sunday morning.

The course was in perfect condition, though the greens are rather slow and consequently scores were generally very good indeed.

72 men took part and on Sunday morning David also invited eight guests and all the Ladies' section to join in the Stableford competition. This as David said was to thank the ladies for the very important fourball team-mates Bob Davidson and Wachira Mahihu on Saturday and all three seem to have been affected by knowing each others game too well and by all the side bets involved, however on Sunday morning when they were split up, Bob and Wachira produced two remarkable rounds of 40 points each (2 over par for Bob and one under par for Wachira) Bob winning the Best Sunday prize on countback (18/2 to 20/20)

In the subsidiary competition the winning lady was Elisabeth Wilson with a good score of 36 points and runner-up was Jane Njoroge on 34. Among the men, the Caddy Master Rama Mugo, playing off 10 handicap had an excellent round of 37 points to win. For the Best Nines, Kiran Patel won the First (19 points) and Trevor Owen the Second (20 points).

In the main event S. Tarmohamed scored a creditable 34 points to take third place. Ben Okello, whose putter had not been working on Saturday, had no such problems on Sunday and had a blistering round of 39 points to give him a differential of 33 taking runner-up prize on countback.

Jayant Shah with his one shot deficit from Saturday continued in superb form, again playing well below his handicap of 15 to score 37 points and thus emerge as this year's winner with an excellent score of 31 (68-37).

The Captain had filmed much of the weekend's golf and the video films were much enjoyed by the players while awaiting the prizegiving - suitable comments being passed on the various styles and swings.

In his speech David thanked his Committee for their support during the year and especially Gulam Khaku the Vice-Captain who had stood in for him while he was away overseas recently.

He also thanked David Volemi the manager and all the staff for their hard work. Bouquets of flowers were presented to Hilary Brahmhatt for her support as Lady Captain, Kiran Patel for help with the lunch, Jean Elms for the beautiful flower arrangements, Joyce Watt for starting the competition (beautifully received by Bill!) and last but not least to his wife Ann.

David then presented the winners with their prizes and on behalf of all the players Jayant Shah thanked David and Ann for a most pleasant weekend's golf as well as the lunch and tea enjoyed by all the players and their families.

Full Results: Winner: Jayant Shah 31 (68-37), Runner-up: Ben Okello 33 (72-39), Third: S. Tarmohamed 33 (67-34), Best Saturday: Peter Potgieter 67, Best Sunday: R.A. Davidson 40 points (club Wachira Mahihu).

Guests: Best Lady: Elisabeth Wilson 36 points, Runner-up Lady: Jane Njoroge 34, Best Man: Rama Mugo 37, Best First Nine: Kiran Patel 19, Best Second Nine: Trevor Owen 20.

GOLF NEWS

role they play in Club activities especially as far as catering is concerned.

The format for the main competition was nett medal score on Saturday less Stableford points on Sunday.

Peter Potgieter and S. Tarmohamed emerged as leaders on Saturday evening with a wonderful score of nett 67 - Peter's 75 gross included two birdies in the last three holes.

Close on their heels was Jayant Shah with 68 and not far behind was Bachu Brahmhatt on 71.

But as this was a two day competition and one knows how fortunes can change, also posing a threat were Ben Okello, Vinod Nagda and Satish Talwar on 72, Gulam Khaku, H. Anjarwalla and Jim Kimanthi on 73 and a whole string on 74.

Sunday's draw was seeded, with a lady golfer joining each team to live up to the proceedings. The overnight leaders set off rather late in the day and had to endure the full force of the sun.

Only three of them could maintain the pace, the rest falling very rapidly by the wayside.

On the other hand several players who had not scored well on Saturday made great improvements with scores that largely went unnoticed in the day's proceedings - notably Peter Kimani 37 points, Jack Janssen and Ashwin Patel 36, and Gianki Bonnano, Lorenzo Aonzo and David Pethers 35.

It is interesting to note that Ashwin Patel's differential of 38 was the score with which he won last year's competition and is an indication of how the scoring improved in this year's event.

Club Chairman Ted Kabetu was playing alongside his regular

THE FALDO FORMULA

ON THE DOWNSWING, YOUR HANDS AND CLUBHEAD ACCELERATE LIKE TWO RUNNERS AS THEY NEAR THE "FINISH LINE".....

IMAGINE A VERTICAL LINE EXTENDING FROM THE GROUND ABOUT TWO FEET PAST IMPACT. THAT IS YOUR FINISH LINE. AND, BE SURE TO:-
(1) ONLY ALLOW THE CLUBHEAD TO OVERTAKE YOUR HANDS AFTER IMPACT.
(2) ACCELERATE AS YOU APPROACH THE LINE.

DOING THESE WILL ADD TO BOTH YOUR POWER AND ACCURACY.

Kwale Kiweke Play Nyundo Guraya XI

NYUNDO FC of Guraya in Mvita Constituency are back in action after being idle for the past two months. Nyundo play the visiting Kiweke team from Kwale tomorrow at Tononoka Sports Ground in a Coast Premier League Group 'A' clash to kick-off at 4 p.m. It is a match that could go either way.

Nyundo, having played fewest matches in the 14-league clubs, will be playing several games in few days to complete their fixture in time. They have another fixture on Sunday where they entertain Rhino of Kwale at the same venue.

Nyundo face another formidable task on Tuesday. Their opponents are none other than their new rivals Mwenge. Mwenge signed several Nyundo players and their game on Tuesday at Tudor School is expected to attract a good crowd. The Guraya kids tackle Congo Boys at the same venue on Thursdays.

Chelsea, now in eighth position, takes on Chui at Tudor School Ground tomorrow. Chelsea who made a poor start are now hotly favoured to be one of the teams to avoid the big drop. Mombasa Stars play Civil Servant at Mbaraki Police Ground tomorrow.

Civil Servant who failed to honour their last weekend fixture against Wanderers and Congo Boys in Mombasa, could face expulsion from the league if they refuse to travel to the town for two fixtures against Mombasa Stars tomorrow and Mwenge on Sunday, at Mbaraki Police and Tudor School Ground respectively.

Mombasa Stars are hotly favoured to snatch both points when they clash with Chui of Taita Taveta at Mbaraki Police Ground on Sunday. On Wednesday, Black Santos makes another appearance at Tudor Ground for a date with Bandari, the league leaders.

Turning to Group 'B', Kenya Navy suffered their second defeat in five days when they surrendered two points to Coast Stima at Malindi Municipal Stadium. They went down 0-2 to Stima, having earlier lost 2-1 to Lamu Diplomat.

Nevertheless, Navy men are now topping the table with 35 points from 25 matches, followed closely by Alaskan with 30 points and Stima (with inferior goal difference) are third with the same number of points.

by ABDUL R. SHERIFF

Alaskan, an undoubtedly the best club in Malindi presently, are hotly favoured to snatch one of three mini-league places from their group. Alaskan players and officials are working hard to achieve that goal.

Hola Police visit Malindi for a fixture against Yanga today and another with Seamen tomorrow.

All the three clubs are in danger of being relegated to the district leagues and the games between them will attract many Malindi fans who are to cheer their teams to victory.

Tana Maroon will be at home to face Starfish in Hola while Posta clash against Mombasa Breweries at Malindi Stadium on Sunday and a local derby is to take place at Hola Ground on Sunday between Kilimo and Tana Maroon.

RABAI Sports

RABAI Sports Club enhanced their chances of winning this year's Kilifi district soccer championship and book a ticket for the Coast Premier League when they registered an identical

4-2 win over Kaya Rangers FC and the Whispering Palms at the Dr. Krapf Memorial Sports Ground over the weekend writes Kampaka Pecky.

The Rabai glamour boys seeking another chance to win the district championship they last captured in 1983 settled to a goalless draw in a return leg clash against Kaya Rangers.

This weekend they travel to the north coast hotel and clash against the Whispering Palms FC.

Rabai Sports Club has produced players of national performance such as KTM's Mohammed Seif, Nyeri Stima's Daniel Kibwanga, and Patrick Shehi, Breweries Michael Mbaji and Franklyn Tsuma and Mombasa Wanderer's Mohammed Mwakaneno.

SIGMA CRICKET

SHREE Cutchi Leva Sports Club beat Patel Sports Club by 18 runs in the Sigma Paints KO tournament.

Cutchi batted first and with useful contributions from Ramesh (36) Mayji (36) and Ramesh (21) finished 168 all out. Anand Menon took 3/26 in eight overs.

Patel started badly, 50/4 but Nazir (37) and Jitu (40) staged a recovery. The later batsman could not complete the task and Patel were all out 150. For Cutchi, Ramesh 3/35, Ravji 2/23 and Suresh 2/27. This was yet another good performance from the youthful Cutchi Leva side.

Cutchi Leva now meet Coast Gymkhana on Sunday 26/11 at Coast Gymkhana. With Swami bapa and Ngara out of the Uthara Cup, Gymkhana could be strengthened by the presence of Bharat Sawjani and Anup Chotai. Gymkhana start as favourite to win the Sigma Paints KO semi final.

Hatim Karimjee play Union Cricketers at JSC ground on Sunday 26/11 in the first round of Sigma Paints KO tournament. Karimjee with more experience should easily win this round to meet Jaffery in the semi-finals on December 3, 1989.

The CCA organised Inter Schools knock out tournament gets off the ground on Friday November 24, 1989 at 10 a.m. at JSC where Aga Khan High School take on Allindia Vastan High School.

The Coast Academy play Oshwal High School on Saturday November 25, 1989. Kenzie High and New Era drew 8/8 and would meet the winners on November 27, 1989 in the semi-finals.

A floating trophy "Ganiwala Cup" donated by Dr. L. Ganiwala will be presented to the winners after the finals scheduled for Saturday, December 2, 1989.

'LOTUS HOTEL' TENNIS

THE LOTUS tournament so generously sponsored by Mr Z. Nderu of Lotus Hotel, Mombasa commenced at 8 a.m. on Saturday November 18.

Matches were played all day Saturday and Sunday in an effort to get the bulk of the matches played at the weekend as many of the entrants are still in school during the week.

At the date of going to press no upsets have been recorded, with all the seeded players undefeated. Rajesh and Alpesh Chudasama heading the boys under 18 and under 15 respectively and Pratik Patel leading the under 12s.

Altogether 74 players have entered the tournament and it is especially gratifying to see a record number of girl entrants, seeded players among the girls being Mili Shah and Nihal Notari.

The Coast Lawn Tennis Association is most concerned with promotion of tennis among the coast juniors and this tournament will be a good forerunner to the Junior Coast Open which will be played at Mvita Tennis Club from December 2-9.

In addition to the trophies presented to the winners and runners-up of all the events a trophy will be presented to the most promising player and the most disciplined player. Prize-giving will be on Sunday, November 26.

Coast Open Tournament

THE Kenya United Steel Company (KUSCO) are kindly sponsoring this year's Coast Open Junior Tennis Tournament which will be played from December 2-9, 1989 at Mvita Tennis Club, Mombasa.

This event being organised annually by Mvita Tennis Club started way back in 1975.

Last year we had a good number of entries from Uganda and we expect the same or even more. We also, expect entries from Tanzania this year. A record number of entries from boys and girls are expected this year.

The events will be boys and girls under 18, 15 and 12 years, Singles and Doubles. Mixed doubles only under 18 years.

Trophies and other gifts worth Sh.10,000/- will be distributed among the winners, runners up and losing semi finalists.

The entry forms are available from the Mvita Tennis Club and all other sports clubs and entries close at 12.00 noon on Wednesday November 30, 1989.
