BETTER SERVICE FOR LANDLOCKED AREAS

KENYAN PORTS BOSS ASSURES BURUNDI TRADE

THE KENYA PORTS Authority (KPA) is geared towards ensuring that the Port of Mombasa continues to render improved services to the landlocked countries in handling imports and exports of the Burundi.

This was said by the Kenya Ports Authority Managing Director Mr Philip Okundi when he addressed importers and exporters and other businessmen in Burundi's capital Bujumbura early this week during the UNCTAD and UNDP sponsored Seminar on Customs Procedures and Trade Facilitation in East and Central Africa.

Mr Okundi thanked Burundi importers and exporters for their continued use of the services offered by the Port of Mombasa and pledged that Kenya Ports Authority will endeavour for increased efficiency in serving transit cargo and liaise with other relevant bodies in ensuring the smooth flow of transit traffic through the Northern Corridor which emanates from Mombasa Port.

Mr Okundi who was heading delegation aimed at Marketing the Port and its proposed Inland Container Depots at Kisumu and Eldoret already under construction, underscored the role played by the Port in fostering good relationship between Kenya and Burundi.

He noted that the construction of the Inland Container Depots (ICDs) at Kisumu and Eldoret is in line with Kenya Ports

Authority's long term policy objective of bringing the ports services nearer to the landlocked countries who use the port of Mombasa and, therefore, render their use of the port services more economical by reducing transport and other related costs.

Mr Okundi therefore appealed to the Burundi exporters and importers to take advantage of these facilities once completed.

The Kisumu and Eldoret ICDs are scheduled for completion by end of 1992 and 1993 respectively and will reduce the distance from the port to Burundi by almost a half. These facilities will also benefit other

Windsor Golf And Country Club ...

KENYA'S NEWEST AND most prestigious tourism investment project The Windsor Golf and Country Club scheduled for completion in November this year has been described by Britain's Financial Times as, "An international class hotel that will offer a new standard of accommodation, leisure and conference facilities in Kenya".

The Financial Times — is one of the world's most authoritative financial organs — carried the report of Kenya's new project in a special assessment by its correspondent and regular columnist Michael Thompson — Noel — who visited the project recently.

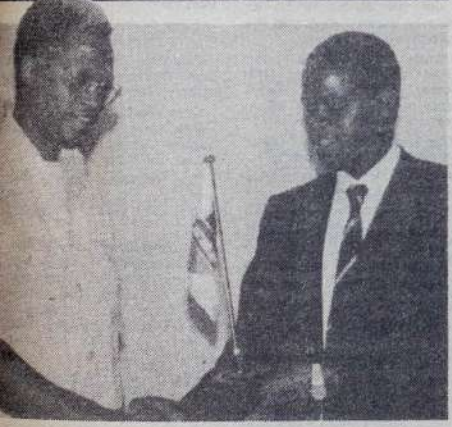

Thompson-Noel refers to the phenomenal growth of interest in golfing holidays and holidays which contain golf with other leisure pursuits and comments on Windsor's international class golf course as "an excellent 18 hole layout — the first to be built in East and Central Africa for more than 25 years and the first in that region to offer the facilities of an international class hotel on site".

Thompson-Noel reports that the Club will be the flagship of Windsor's expanding group of leisure and tented camp properties in Africa — which now includes the just opened Siana Springs and the very popular Kichwa Tembo.

A BIG BOON TO holidaymakers and businessmen from overseas is the opening of a branch of Trade Bank at Mombasa's Moi International Airport, offering a seven day round-the-clock foreign exchange service to those arriving and departing by air.

It is a Kenyan bank which, since opening in 1984, has experienced phenomenal growth with assets now standing at Shs 2.5 billion.

On cutting the gold satin ribbon across the door and declaring its latest branch at Moi International Airport to officially open, the Mayor, Councillor Ahmed Mwidani, congratulated Trade Bank on its

DON'T MISS THIS "CASH AND CARRY" CLEARANCE

A CASH 'N' CARRY Clearance Sale commences...When? One week only, that starting November 30 1991, and ending December 7—both dates inclusive.

On what? All items of stock! And during that week Hatimi Joinery Works Limited are not taking any orders for new furniture. That special week will be simply a clearance sale.

Can one view in advance? Of course, and, whilst about it, you can list the prices, or even make a reservation. And you know what, during the sale the labels or price tags will show the same prices as now, so that you can actually see you are getting 30 per cent off during that one week sale. Go along, compare now and then....

Discounts will also be on all bedroom suites. If you're short of space, especially for children, take this opportunity and buy the 'High Captain's Bed'. The child sleeps up high, while the under-sections of the bed are a combination of draws or wardrobe and study unit.

Also abounding in the shop are carpets, coffee tables, garden furniture, bathroom fittings and lots of shower mats and shower curtains.

One last question you might pose is "Please, if it's Cash 'n' Carry, how can we put a sofa set on the car seat or a carpet in a chiondo? Oh, dear readers, all that is catered for to by Hatimi, who don't work half measures, and in this case they state that everything, bulky or otherwise, will be delivered Free Of Charge to anywhere in the Island and Mombasa environs.

So—diary dates: November 30 through December 7.

New Hatimi Showrooms

Where is Hatimi's Showroom? Most people know, but others think of the old workshop way up in Shimanzi. No, don't rush there, for they have an ultra-modern place right in the middle of town—between Shiva Towers and Fatemi House (the curved one) to be precise. Briefly, Hatimi's showroom is opposite Pistacchio.

Why the sale? — Easy to answer! Because there will be new lines.

Having answered most possible questions from COASTWEEK readers we'd like to share with you our own observations regarding this forthcoming sale and Hatimi Joinery Works Limited itself.

They are a classy shop with bright field salespeople and smart salesgirls in the showroom. They cater for someone who wants something upmarket, so you should take this opportunity—this Cash 'n' Carry.

While walking round the shop we particularly liked the round dining tables (now 14,000/- but about 11,000/- when the 30 per cent is deducted).

Also beautiful three piece suites (sofa sets) starting in the 11,000/- range, thus going down to 7,800/-.

SELECT CHRISTMAS PRESENTS AT 'THIS AND THAT' STORES

CHOOSE YOUR CHRISTMAS present during lunchtime. Hard to do in Mombasa, except at 'This and That'.

'This and That' Ambalal House looks bigger these days, but the reason is that the whole premises is devoted to the shop, the secretarial services having moved.

You might have seen mid-year that This and That is under new management, and both the Ambalal and the Nyali Beach Hotel shopping arcade shops belong to Joey Kennaway. Their respective telephone numbers are 314878 and 471551/2 (through the hotel).

Joey is quite a discerning buyer, likes top quality and thus selects the best.

Also new in the town shop are the staff who ably hold the fort during Joey's absence at the Nyali place. You'll meet Philip and Ferninas.

Perhaps what is nice is that you'll find some items exclusively here, such as Kazuri's Ceramic necklaces and jewellery. They are exquisitely made and come in beautiful colours. This ceramic firm also make a few ornaments.

Woolen Rugs have just arrived in the shop. They are so individual and have a unique blending of colour.

Now introduced too are table

SHOPPING with ELAINE

mats and other table adornments

Not quite all the old stock has gone for Joey has kept on the popular lines of toys and smaller gifts which are always in demand particularly this festive season.

There was a showcase in which we admired Swiss make-up—not much so snap up your own pampering present.

Then there are out-of-the-ordinary clothes like the modern tropical shorts and 'Dry Season' clothes, plus 'One-way' T-shirts. Children's clothes abound too.

If you're suddenly invited to a party or have to get that extra Christmas present, live on the North Coast and can't really get to town do visit the Nyali outlet for they too have this and that... The stocks are not identical. Nyali leans perhaps a little more to the safari line when it comes to clothes and of special note is the Alison Rust hand knitted cotton tops with leather applique animals.

Also good for safaris are the leather coolers (both wine and beer). When taken from the fridge and put in these leather coolers the bottles stay remarkably cold for a long time. Good for Beach 'n' Bush as their name.

We can't give you a list because the stock is continually moving and changing, nor can we say this shop has anything specific—just an assortment of "This and That".....

THE INTERACT CLUB OF Agakhan High School has donated a cheque of KShs 5,000/- to the Port Reitz hospital for mental patients during the induction ceremony held at Agakhan High School Hall. The outgoing chairman Rajesh Parbat is seen presenting the cheque to the matron of the hospital. In the background is the chairman of the Rotary Club of Kilindini Rtn. Jasvinder Oberoi.

Our Heritage Of Faith

IS LIFE WORTH LIVING? Each year a number of people come to the conclusion that life is not worth living.

Some take poison, others jump from bridges or apartment houses, while many resort to firearms. Are these people right? Is life worth living after all?

One of the chief weaknesses of our age seems to be its tendency towards ease and the desire to escape hardship.

People, especially the young should remember that the elevator to success is always out of order....you must climb the stairs!

Men want "pull" and what they actually need is "push".

For what is your life? It is even vaguer that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. (James 4:14). I believe life is worth living if we live for the life-giver.

Jesus saith unto him (Thomas) I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (John 14:6).

"These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. (John 15:11).

The following who lived for things have this to say: Future: Jay Gould, the multi-millionaire, said, "I am the most miserable man on earth."

Fame: Essayist, Charles Lamb said: "I walk up and down thinking I am happy and knowing I am not.

Edgar Allan Poe, famous poet, drank himself to death.

Napoleon Bonaparte died a lonely, horrible death after all his military victories.

After years of pleasure, Robert Burns wrote: "pleasures are puppies spread, you seize the flower, the bloom is shed."

The educated apostle Paul said: "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain". (Philippians 1:21).

The uneducated Jerry McAuley "the river thief", found such joy in living after his conversation that he established rescue missions to tell others the good news that life is worth living when it is lived for Jesus Christ!

Life is worth living because Jesus Christ is living, and Christ is a believer, the Hope of Glory.

M. Babcock puts it so well: "We are not here to dream, to drift: There is hard work to do and loads to lift.

"Shun not the struggle—face it—it is God's gift. Be strong! It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong, how hard the battle goes, the day how long; Faint not! Fight on! Tomorrow comes the song."

Rev. Nicodemus Waka, Changamwe, MOMBASA.

"Of course I'm complaining. that's supposed to be a non-stick sauce pan!"

"Know any more games?"

"Well, I don't think much of the view."

MARRIAGE LICENSES

"You mean I'm not worth as much as a radio licence?"

"It's the talk of the Cloisters - She's been reduced to a simple Mother Inferior!"

"We were happy for almost twenty five years - then we met."

CONFIDENTIAL

THE EAST AFRICAN WILDLIFE SOCIETY Whaletail Exhibition and Auction being held at Wilson Airport, Nairobi from November 26-30, will be officially opened by the Patron His Royal Highness Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands. At least one coast artist, Frank S. Cornwell has supplied three paintings to this occasion. Frank was officer in charge of Voi Police Station in 1955 and had the privilege to work with the late David Sheldrick and his National Parks Rangers. He well remembers Daphne Sheldrick's very first Tsavo Orphans. Some of Franks paintings can currently be viewed at the new Le Bistro Restaurant, near the Tusks, Mombasa while others hang on the walls of Barclays Bank of Kenya Limited. Branches from the new Port Branch Moi and Nyerere Avenue Branches as well as Nairobi. # Bahari Rotary Club Community Service

COMMUNITY SERVICE OF the Rotary Club of Bahari organised one of the annual prestigious events in its Rotary Calendar in form of a medical camp at Takaungu Village Kilifi District.

The venue of the Camp was Takaungu Primary School. Rotary Club of Bahari established the first Rotary Village Cosp (RVC) since January, 1990 in Takaungu.

There was a good number of helping hands to carry out a successful Medical Camp.

Rotary Club of Bahari Mombasa has always been fortunate to have so many doctors within the Club and from a cross-section of the medical practitioners in Mombasa to assist when called upon to do so.

Officer from Kilifi was also in attendance.

The Club's in-coming chairman Dr Satish Vaghela and Dr Mwangi were present as dentists.

No medical camp is incomplete without the following services.

Three nurses from Guru Nanak Clinic and Mr Samji from Bamburi Pharmacy and Mrs Chani Sur from Surgipharm as pharmacists were there in person to make the camp and the occasion successful.

To all these professionals the Club contends a very warm hand of gratitude for looking after the patients so well.

The Camp was a beehive of activity with Rotarians from the Club and the Rotaractors from the Rotaract Club of Bahari Mombasa who provided all the helping hand to ensure the smooth running.

About 500 patients were treated and were given medicines which were organised as follows:

- Half the medicines were donated by the Pharmaceutical Products Limited, courtesy of Rotarian Shailesh Rajani of the Rotary Club of Bahari, and

- Rest of the medicines were bought locally with funds as donations from well-wishers.

The Club will be holding its annual Eye Camp in March next year when patients with eye problems will be attended to.

MY MINISTRY HAS nothing to hide about the perennial shortage of water at the coast, particularly Mombasa town and its environs, namely, the south coast and the north coast.

It is in record that last month and to be exact on Saturday, October 26, 1991, I attended a leaders' meeting held at Mvita grounds here in Mombasa and I explained at length the cause of lack of adequate supply of water in the coast region.

The water problem at the coast, as I have said severally in the past, is mainly that of the demand outstripping the supply.

The National Water Conservation and Pipeline Corporation who are the undertakers of water supplies in this region, provide water to about 1.7 million people living in an area estimated at 5,700 square kilometres.

The figure excludes those people going to the area for short stay including tourists whose numbers vary from month to month.

The area covered stretches from the Kenya-Tanzania border in the south to Malindi and the Sabaki river in the north and includes Mombasa and its interior.

Narrow strips of land are also fed with water as the main pipelines cut across Kwale, Mombasa, Kilifi and Taita Taveta districts.

The current demand for fresh water within this vast area is estimated at 200,000 cubic metres (tonnes) per day of which Mombasa town and its immediate suburbs require nearly 125,000 cubic metres

The water problem at the Coast is that of demand outstripping supply

(tonnes) per day.

Baricho pumping station and Mzima pipeline which are the main contributors of water going to the coast region produce a total of 85,000 cubic metres (tonnes) per day which is not adequate for the demand of Mombasa town and its neighbourhood in the south and in the north.

The same two resources of water also feed the narrow strips of land already mentioned where the pipelines traverse Mombasa, Kilifi and Taita Taveta Districts.

In this connection only about a half of the total production reaches Mombasa in a day, hence the constant lack of water at times in the island.

To ensure that all areas at least get water, rationing is done at strategic reservoirs along the Mzima and Sabaki pipelines.

The last main water supply to be constructed at the coast is the Sabaki pipeline in the 1978-1982 period. The other two sources of Marere and Mzima pipelines were developed some decades ago.

However, as I have said in the past, these three sources have remained as the sole source of water for all these years despite tripling of population figures and massive development in the construction sector.

Despite running the old installations, the Corporation has endeavoured to keep them going while looking for ways of setting up new bulk supply systems to reduce the heavy deficit of water in the short run and also developing other large sources that are capable of meeting the demand for the next two decades.

As I have mentioned in the past, the World Bank has agreed to finance major works on some will bespent on the rehabilitation of some weak parts of the pipeline so as to ensure durability and reliability.

With the same funds, the Corporation will also be able to commission preparation of a detailed engineering design for the intake of the second Mzima pipeline.

Other major works under the same funding will entail improvement of distribution network for Mombasa and of the existing pipelines and also to do the groundwork for implementing the proposed second Mzima pipeline.

STATEMENT BY THE MINISTER for Water Development, Hon. John H. Okwanyo, E.G.H., M.P., on the current water shortage in Mombasa and the measures that the Ministry is taking to alleviate the situation.

To be specific, the funds from the World Bank will assist our Government through the Corporation to rehabilitate the Sabaki pipeline and its pumping plant at Baricho.

The Baricho intake will also be augmented by sinking wells at the river bank to provide clean underground water.

The works will also be extended to Mzima pipeline.

On Mzima pipeline, the funds

Improvement of metering and billing system to enhance efficiency in revenue collection for the continued operation and maintenance of the water systems.

There is also an on-going development of improving the current distribution system for Malindi area which is anticipated to cope up with fast development, particularly in Casuarina and Watamu areas.

The funds for this project have been acquired and construction work is expected to start early next year.

In addition, two large diameter boreholes are being worked on and will be ready within the next six months. Once these projects are completed, a substantial amount of water which was going to Malindi from Sabaki pipeline will now be diverted to Mombasa.

The measures I have outlined above are all geared towards providing a short-term relief and also prepare for the development of the second Mzima pipeline.

It is expected that all in all, there will be an increase of 40,000 cubic metres (tonnes) of water per day from the Sabaki pipeline.

The Government is fully aware of the economic potential of the coast region to the country and I would, therefore, like to assure the industry and all the consumers that steps as outlined are being taken to redress the current shortages.

However, until the implementation of the short term measures enumerated above, the current demand cannot be met.

Our efforts will be geared towards ensuring that the current productions are maintained with minimal interruptions and that the water available will be shared as equitably as possible.

The consumers on their part, should meet their financial obligations for payment for the water consumed as these funds are applied towards the continued operation and maintenance of the water systems.

In particular, I wish to appeal to the major consumers and government departments and ministries to pay their long standing arrears running to millions of shillings to help the Corporation meet its financial obligations, particularly for purchase of chemicals and electricity.

The Municipality of Mombasa and the Coastal region is working on plans to install individual meters to the consumers occupying council houses so that consumers make direct payment to the Corporation.

The consumers should bear with us while this is on-going as the exercise is likely to take some time.

The Municipality on their part should pay for the arrears on these accounts so that the consumers will not in future suffer for punitive disconnections while they have already paid for their water together with their monthly house rents.

Finally, consumers who do not meet their monthly water rates will continue to be disconnected in order to recover the amounts owed.

This action should not be viewed as lack of concern on the part of the Corporation for their consumers, but rather the Corporation hands are tied and services will suffer if the funds are not forthcoming.

We appeal to the consumers to understand the problems at hand and seek assistance from the regional office when localised problems occur as the water available is not adequate and hence there will always be unsatisfied demand all round.

As a follow-up on the steps to improve the supply of water during the current peak period, the Ministry has already despatched four water tankers to be on standby so as to cope up with the smooth provision of water during major breakdowns and shortages of water within the distribution areas.

Have a smile!

"You never worry about my figure when I'm cooking it!"

Chairman of the Mombasa and Coast Tourist Association, Zul Harunani; government officers, clients, while Trade Bank was represented by its Managing Director, Mr Ian Rayner and Mombasa Branch Manager, Mr Ramesh Dharna.

In welcoming everyone to the official opening, Mr Rayner said 'our interest has always been to try and give good service to our customers and to extend it wherever we can. With tourism booming at the Coast we felt there was something more we could do here'. Adding 'flights are sometimes delayed. Therefore, it is important to have a 24 hour foreign exchange facility at this international airport'.

He also revealed that the bank is looking at the opportunity of offering a domestic banking service, including savings accounts, to employees at Moi International Airport which will save time and the problem of getting into town.

He went on 'we are also looking into the possibility of having an office at the airport to offer a service to exporters as we are already doing in Nairobi'.

Mr Rayner concluded 'our government has given us much encouragement in our economic activity and is trying to make regulations as streamlined as possible'. Noting that Foreign Exchange Declaration Forms for arriving foreign visitors had now been abolished Mr Rayner declared 'it is a very good move and one which will be much appreciated by visitors'.

In addressing guests, the Mayor said 'I wish also to support His Excellency the President's call made during Kenyatta Day to those Kenyans who have kept their money in Foreign banks to return it to Kenya. This would assist in building a strong economy, especially when it is put into viable use like in the business industry'.

'This move, indeed, brings the country closer to a free foreign exchange market and Kenyans with money in foreign banks will have a free hand to bring it back into the country without having to account for it. This once again is an indication, in the true sense, being shown by the government of President Moi that it is committed to the country's economy and the general welfare of the people'.

CERTIFICATES

Said the Mayor 'this relaxation has already started showing some good results. Trade Bank has reported having already received several million shillings from the sale of the convertible foreign exchange bearer certificates which were introduced by government recently'.

The Mayor went on 'I am advised that Trade Bank has also established a special section to deal with foreign currency matters and has offered incentives unmatched by other banks. Since the banking industry is a competitive one, it was a wise move in the right direction to establish such a unit'.

He also commended government's decision to relax the regulations that require foreign visitors arriving by air or sea to declare the amount of foreign currency they are bringing with them into the country.

The Mayor then called upon those in the hotel industry to consider building more hotels or extend their existing premises.

'I am advised' he said 'that there are about 25,000 beds in our hotels at the coast and this number is slowly becoming inadequate—hence an urgent need to increase accommodation'.

With the tourism industry poised to be the future economic viable industry not only in Kenya but in the whole world, investors and industrialists have a big challenge to build more hotels'. Said the Mayor landlocked countries that use the port of Mombasa namely, Uganda, Rwanda, Saire and Southern Sudan.

'I am throwing the challenge to them'.

Adding 'apart from the tourism industry playing an important role in the country's economy it will also continue to create employment for hundreds of Kenyans'.

The Mayor continued 'in an effort to attract more tourists, my Council is trying its best to see that all roads are in good condition. Already the repairing and re-carpeting of roads is taking place, and our aim is to see that all are repaired'.

We are also in the process of urging all businessmen in the town to paint their business premises'. Said the Mayor 'I am glad to note that the Medical Officer of Health of my Council has already served notices on landlords to this effect. If the town's buildings are maintained and kept attractive the image of the town will also be good by being more attractive to tourists and residents'. Said the Mayor 'I have visited many countries including Canada, London and parts of the USA and their cities are all very clean. It is our responsibility to be dedicated in seeing that our town of Mombasa is clean. It is a collective responsibility for us all'.

In conclusion the Mayor said 'for Kenyans to maintain peace and stability they have to be loyal to the President, Government and ruling party, KANU. I, therefore, call upon all to maintain this spirit'.

KENYA PORTS BOSS IN BURUNDI

Eldoret ICD's will provide facilities for receiving import as well as export cargo from the transit countries like Burundi and will enable shippers from these countries to import and export their cargo on a through bill of lading at these depots.

Mr Okundi added that the use of these Depots by Burundi shippers will ensure that the distance from and to the port on Mombasa is reduced by a half.

The Managing Director who also met and held discussions with members of the Burundi Chamber of Commerce and also held separate talks with various Government and quasi-Government personalities said the port of Mombasa has remained a hub port in the region which with the recent modernisation programme is prepared to handle as much cargo as the region can generate.

In response the businessmen noted that the ICSs will go a long way in facilitating the swift flow of Transit Cargo to and from Burundi and commended the Kenya Government through Kenya Ports Authority for its foresightedness in this direction.

Tea and Coffee are the major exports of Burundi while imports include intermediate inputs into industrial and agricultural sectors and industrial plants and equipment.

In a keynote address to the businessmen Mr Okundi presented a vivid account of the history and the future perspective of the port, its present facilities and development projects aimed at enhancing cargo handling efficiency.

TRANSPORT AND POSTS

Speaking during the opening the Burundi Minister for Transport Posts and Telecommunications Lt. Col. Simon Rusuku observed that since the signing of the Northern Corridor Transit Agreement in 1985 positive progress has been achieved in alleviating obstacles which hitherto hindered the smooth flow of transit traffic from the port of Mombasa through the Northern Corridor to Bujumbura.

He noted that the establishment of the Northern Corridor Transit Coordination Authority headquartered in Mombasa has realised noticeable improvements as far as the flow of Transit Traffic and efficiency is concerned.

The Minister commended the port of Mombasa for its role in handling Transit traffic to and from Burundi and for rendering efficient and economical services.

He noted that the seminar was an appropriate gathering of Burundi business in the transportation of transit traffic and called for recommendations which will further alleviate the high cost of transport and transit resulting from administrative and customs constraints.

Mr Okundi was accompanied by the Kenya Ports Authority Marketing and Public Relations Manager Mr A. Kabuga, the Chief Operations Officer Mr Marwan Rashid and a Senior Economist in the Ministry of Transport and Communication Mr J. Kinyanjui.

Others in the delegation were the Chairman of Kenya Clearing Forwarding and Warehousing Association Mr M.K. Eret, Principal Collector of Customs in Mombasa Mr E. Thuiya and a Kenya Ports Authority Marketing Officer Mr E. Masak DELIGHTED WITH WHAT Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental has to offer, including food, was a group of 36 doctors and their partners from Toulouse, south of France, who spent four nights there.

The French Medical Association organises trips for members to different countries of the world—this being the first to Kenya and was led by its President, Dr J Brochet.

They said that they had read so much about famine in Africa that they thought there might be a problem over food!

They had, therefore, been most impressed by the quantity and variety of fresh food which had been offered even in remote game parks.

They spent two nights at Kilimanjaro Safari Lodge in Amboseli National Park and one night at Kilgumi in Tsavo National Park where among the wildlife visitors were three lions.

While at the coast they went goggling in Kenya's fabulous marine park, Kisili Mpunguti, and sailed on a traditional dhow to Wasini Island for a seafood lunch.

Looking after their ground arrangements was Flamingo Tours and Safaris, their tour leader being Hayat Ndisi based in Nairobi.

ONE OF THE LEADING companies of insurance brokers in France—Monvoisin Vincent Assurances—chose Kenya as this year's venue for a VIP holiday for 38 of its best salesmen, writes NETA PEAL.

Said its General Manager, Patrick Janson 'we introduced an incentive scheme five years ago to reward our best salesmen and like to change continents so as to offer exciting new venues which they may not have visited before. The last trip was to Thailand and this year Kenya was chosen as it was considered the best country for a holiday in Africa'.

Air France flew them to Nairobi from where their safari to Amboseli and Tsavo National Parks commenced, with two nights being spent at Amboseli Serena Lodge and one night at Tsavo Safari Camp.

beautiful environment surrounded by palm trees. Said Mr Janson 'we all love the sun as well as the clean warm sea for it is now very cold in France'.

French people love the opportunity to dine al-fresco, and so a special seafood dinner was arranged for them around the swimming pool close to the sea.

It was thoroughly enjoyed by all including the magnificent view of Mount Kilimanjaro. Their only disappointment was in not seeing a lion.

They made full use of the facilities for water sports there. Some tried their hand at deep sea fishing, catching very little but having enormous fun.

They also dined on the Tamarind Dhow while sailing around part of historic Mombasa Island.

Accompanying the group was Alain Arfi, General Manager of 'Take Off' who said that his company deals exclusively with incentive groups. More interest is being taken in Kenya as an incentive holiday in Kenya.

Mr Arfi is no stranger to Kenya for he started bringing incentive groups here 15 years ago.

'Kenya Is A Paradise' Say Italian Incentive Group

ITALIANA PETROLIO EMPLOYEES on a 13-day holiday in Kenya are seen at Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental where they stayed five nights, describing it as a 'splendid hotel'. Centre front is Charles M. Kimani, Branch Manager, Tour Africa Safaris, Mombasa which company looked after their ground arrangements here.

'I THINK KENYA is paradise' declared Mr B.U.I. William, Manager of Cran Tour 'Incentive' Division of Semi Graturismo which is part of Italy's powerful E.N.I group.

Said Mr William, in an interview at Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental 'I love this country and have been here more than 20 times. You have everything here a tourist could ever want—beautiful flowers, beaches, savannah and wildlife'.

He mentioned that today Italians are more interested than ever before in holidaying further afield and of meeting and understanding other people in the world.

Mr William had brought to Kenya 35 employees of Italiana Petrolio on a 13-day Cran Tour of Kenya.

Italiana Petrolio is part of the ENI group which embraces over 20 companies, including Agip and Semi Graturismo—a hotel and tour division which has a village, Agip Motels and luxury hotels in Italy.

Said Mr William 'we offer employees holiday ideas and they decide where they would like to go'.

He revealed that he would be back again in the next few days with another group of 32. Both have identical programmes.

The first group spent five days on safari in the Maasai Mara, Nakuru and Naivasha, then staying five nights at Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental which they described as a 'splendid hotel'.

They also visited Watamu and Malindi and one day took over the Tamarind dhow for lunch.

DIE TOURISMUSINDUSTRIE an der Küste gratuliert der Firma Kenya Aerotech zu ihrem weisen Entschluß, als provisorische Erweiterung in der Abflughalle acht neue Check-in-Schalter zu bauen, was über eine Million Kshs kostete, schreibt Neta Peal.

Dadurch kann das Einchecken der Passagiere viel zügiger abgewickelt und das Gedränge zu den Stoßzeiten beträchtlich vermindert werden.

Ebenfalls gratuliert wurde Herrn Thomas Buchert, Condor Station Manager in Mombasa, der die Idee zu einer provisorischen Erweiterung vor Beginn der Hochsaison im November unterbreitete und überdies Pläne dafür entworfen hatte. Durch "Harambee" (Selbsthilfe) d.h. Spenden von Charterfluggesellschaften und Reiseveranstaltern, sollte das Geld für dieses Projekt aufgebracht werden. Da die Zeit jedoch sehr knapp war, übernahm vorerst Kenya Aerotech die Kosten und begann am 1. Juli mit der Arbeit.

Unterstützt wurde das Projekt auch von der Mombasa and Coast Tourist Association (MACTA) und vom Verband kenianischer Reiseveranstalter.

Zur Feier der offiziellen Eröffnung der provisorischen Flughafenverlängerung arrangierte Kenya Aerotech eine Cocktail Party im Nyali Beach Hotel, zu der Vertreter der neugegründeten Flughafenverwaltung, Regierungsbeamte, Kunden und Geschäftsfreunde eingeladen waren. Ehren-gast war der Ständige Sekretär im Transportministerium, Mr. Andrew Ligale, der seinen Minister Mr. J.J. Kamotho vertrat, weil sich dieser außerhalb des Landes aufhielt.

Die Erweiterung auf dem Flughafen war am Eröffnungstag anfangs November festlich geschmückt. Der Präsident von Aerotech, Mr. Samson M. Ndulu, erklärte, daß die Firma 1971 gegründet wurde, um Flugzeuge bei der Landung zu betreuen und die Rampen anzufahren. Heute hilft sie offiziell bei der Passagier- und Gepäckabfertigung auf den beiden internationalen Flughäfen in Kenia.

Mr. Ligale las die Botschaft

Erweiterungen auf dem Flughafen von Mombasa

UNTER DEN GÄSTEN an der Cocktail Party im Nyali Beach Hotel, arrangiert von Kenya Aerotech, waren: Norbert Michaelis, Flight Performance Operations Engineer von Condor, Frankfurt; Thomas Buchert, Condor Station Manager, Mombasa; W.M. Matu, Manager, Moi International Airport, Mombasa; Ernst Hoffmann, Resident Manager von TUI in Kenia.

des Transportministers vor, der nun auch ein Direktor der neuen Flughafenverwaltung ist. Er erklärte, daß die neue Verwaltung die Überseedienste koordiniert, d.h. den Einsatz der Beamten von der Zoll- und Einwanderungsbehörde, Polizei sowie von anderem auf den Flughäfen stationierem Personal.

Ein langfristiges Projekt, um den Internationalen Flughafen in Mombasa zu modernisieren, wird zur Zeit von der kenianischen Regierung in Verbindung mit der japanischen Regierung ausgearbeitet. Es wird rund Kshs 1,45 Milliarden kosten. Bisher hat die kenianische Regierung Kshs 18 Millionen ausgegeben, um den Belag der Landebahnen auf dem Jomo Kenyatta International Airport in Nairobi zu erneuern. Weitere Kshs 37 Millionen wurden bewilligt für Unterhalt und Verbesserung. Ferner sollen für Kshs 1,55

Milliarden alle wichtigen Flughäfen in Kenia modernisiert werden. Shts 1,35 Millionen sind für neue Ausrüstung, Stromversorgung und Neueinrichtung der Flughafengebäude im ganzen Lande vorgesehen.

Die acht von Kenya Aerotech zur Verfügung gestellten Check-in-Schalter können auch von anderen Fluglinien wie Kenya Airways benützt werden.

Mit der Erweiterung der bestehenden Check-in-Schalter um 100 Prozent wird die Abfertigung der Passagiere für alle Teil viel spedativer und zufriedenstellender erfolgen können.

Der Minister gab auch einige Zahlen und Daten für die letzten fünf Jahre 1985-1990 bekannt:

1990 haben auf dem Moi International Airport von Mombasa 27,008 Flugzeuge gestartet und gelandet, verglichen mit 22,054 im Jahre 1985. Die Anzahl der internationalen ankommenden und abfliegenden Passagiere erreichte 1990 565,622 (1985: 233,078), davon 466,632 (225,334) Touristen, 73,326 (48,431) waren Transpassagiere, und 391,757 (278,575) lokale Passagiere.

SICHERHEIT
 Wie daraus hervorgeht, kommen jedes Jahr mehr Touristen, Kenia hat auch erkannt, daß der Tourismus für das Land von größter Bedeutung ist und hält sich an den weltweit empfohlenen internationalen Standard bei der Betreuung von fliegenden Passagieren.

Dabei gibt es auch Hindernisse zu überwinden, z.B. wenn die finanziellen Prioritäten bei der Entwicklung der Flughäfen und der Infrastruktur festgesetzt werden sollen. Während die Landebahnen gemäß dem Standard gewartet und unterhalten werden müssen, sollten die Flughafengebäude gleichzeitig vergrößert und die Einrichtungen modernisiert werden.

In diesem Zusammenhang hob der Transportminister ein weiteres Element hervor - Sicherheit! "Wir tragen alle gemeinsam die Verantwortung, Flugzeugführungen, Bombendrohungen, Drogenschmuggel etc. zu vermeiden. Die Passagiere verlangen auf der einen Seite rasche Abfertigung, erwarten aber andererseits auch, daß wir ihnen einen sicheren Flug garantieren. Dies erfordert Verständnis und Geduld von beiden Seiten."

DAS MÄDCHEN ÜBERLISTET DEN RIESEN

VOR LANGER ZEIT lebte ein Mädchen namens Aketch zusammen mit seiner Mutter Nyduwiga. Eines Tages, als die Mutter auf dem Feld arbeitete, schnitt sie sich mit der Hacke ins Bein. Die Wunde entzündete sich und das ganze Bein war geschwollen, so daß sie nicht mehr gehen konnte. Die Tochter sorgte sich sehr, denn auf dem Feld ging die Arbeit nicht weiter. Aketch besuchte mehrere Medizinmänner. Diese konnten der Mutter aber auch nicht helfen. Ein Medizinmann sagte ihr, sie solle zum Riesen gehen und seine Königsgabe nehmen. Dann müsse sie diese verbrennen und mit der Asche das geschwollene Bein einreiben. Nach drei Tagen sei das Bein gesund. Am nächsten Tag verabschiedete sich das Mädchen von der Mutter und machte sich auf die Suche nach dem Riesen. Sie fragte unterwegs die Tiere nach dem Weg. Endlich erreichte sie eine breite Straße mit übergroßen Fußabdrücken. Sie folgte diesen und stand plötzlich vor zwei Riesen. Diese fragten: "Was tust du hier, Tochter eines Menschen?" "Ich möchte euren König sehen", erwiderte das Mädchen. Da hörte sie eine laute Stimme aus einer Höhle. Es war der König der Riesen und er schrie: "Was willst du von mir, Tochter willst du von mir?" "Ich möchte dich heiraten", sagte das Mädchen. Der König brach in schallendes Gelächter aus und sagte: "Du wirst hierbleiben, bis du dick genug bist, um gefressen zu werden." Das Mädchen aber fürchtete sich nicht und blieb dort.

Eines Tages war der König in tiefem Schlaf und seine Mütze viel ihm vom Kopf. Das Mädchen Aketch nahm sie, und Als die beiden Riesen fragten, was sie damit machen wollte, sagte sie, ihr sei befohlen worden, sie zu waschen. Schnell rannte Aketch nach Hause, verbrannte die Mütze und riß die Asche auf die Wunde von Muttters Bein. Nach drei Tagen war die Wunde geheilt und die Mutter wieder gesund.

AN DER COCKTAIL PARTY im Nyali Beach Hotel: Alfred Nderi, General Manager von Kenya Aerotech; Mrs. Mehrun Tejpar und Noorudin Tejpar vom Farways Safari Centre sowie Ernst Hoffmann, Resident Manager von TUI.

Das Rote Kreuz organisiert Augen- und Zahnklinik im Flüchtlingslager

DAS KENIANISCHE ROTE KREUZ, Sektion Mombasa organisierte eine sehr erfolgreiche mobile Augen- und Zahnklinik im Flüchtlingslager von Utanga an der kenianischen Nordküste.

Nachdem Mrs. K.A.A. Mulu, die Sekretärin des Roten Kreuzes, Sektion Mombasa, festgestellt hatte, daß die Somaliflüchtlinge im Lager von Utanga dringend Augen- und Zahnbehandlung benötigen, kontaktierte sie Mr. Ali Raza Karim, den Inhaber der Kenya Optical Company, und die Zahnärztin Dr. Lata Magon und erkundigte sich, ob sie an einem ihnen passenden Tag ihre Dienste zur Verfügung stellen würden. Beide sagten zu, und ein Mini-Camp wurde an einem Sonntag im Oktober zu diesem Zweck aufgebaut. Das Team führte Augen- und Zahnkontrollen durch von 10.30 bis 13 Uhr, gesponsort vom Lions Club Mombasa Island.

Mr. Ali Raza Karim untersuchte eigenhändig rund 120 Patienten und verteilte 75 Lesabrilien, davon 10 Zweistärkenbrillen. Der Lions Club übernahm die Kosten dafür. Es wurden 9 Fälle von grauem Star diagnostiziert, die einen chirurgischen Eingriff erfordern. Alle diese Patienten wurden später im Labor untersucht, bevor sie zu einer Operation, gesponsort vom Lions Club in Malindi, aufgefördert wurden. Der Lions Club sorgt auch für den Transport von Mombasa nach Malindi und zuzück und bezahlt die Operation sowie den anschließenden Krankenhausaufenthalt.

Drei Spezialbrillen wurden gratis angefertigt von Mr. Ali Raza Karim; eine Sonnenbrille und Augentropfen wurden ebenfalls von ihm unentgeltlich zur Verfügung gestellt.

In zwei Fällen ist eine Transplantation der Augenhornhaut notwendig, welche Operation aber nicht in Mombasa durchgeführt werden kann, sondern in einem Krankenhaus in Kikuyu bei Nairobi. Entsprechende Verhandlungen wurden diesbezüglich aufgenommen.

ANTIBIOTIKA

Dr. Lata Magon führte eine Zahnkontrolle bei mindestens 150 Personen durch. In dem mobilen Camp konnten jedoch keine Zahnbehandlungen vorgenommen werden. Dr. Magon versprach, die Patienten in ihrer Klinik später kostenlos zu behandeln und verschrieb vorläufig Antibiotika und andere Medikamente an die Patienten.

Ein Sprecher des Kenianischen Roten Kreuzes dankte Mr. Ali Raza Karim und Dr. Lata Magon für ihre selbstlose Hilfe, die dazu beiträgt, das Los der Flüchtlinge zu erleichtern.

TURTLE BAY HOTEL AWARD

DURING THE MONTH OF October, three employees of Turtle Bay Beach Hotel were exact awarded 'Employee of the Month' certificates, plus a cash award reward of Shs 2000/- each. These were: Mr Zange Birya (Pastry Cook) who received recommendations from guests and heads of departments on his excellent and imaginative pastry work. Mr Jonathan Ngumbao (Dining Room Waiter) his recommendations were from guests on his friendly attitude and good service, and Mr John Chadi (Head Cleaner) his recommendation is from the management for being dedicated to his work and very hard working.

THE MOTOR INDUSTRY boffs in Kenya are quite correct in saying that given the "free" market situation in Kenya, the number of models that survive the race will be quite few.

That is to say that the market will rationalise itself over a period of time. This has effectively happened for the Kenyan vehicle market.

The key element in how the market forces in Kenya work is that there is very strong brand loyalty amongst most motorists.

Kachumbari tells me of a large number of people who have stuck to the same brand of vehicle ever since they were in a position to own one, either off their own bat or provided by the company.

The one model that seemed to be a common denominator was the Peugeot. I tend to agree with Kachumbari's findings since quite a few people I know have owned the same "lion hearted" marque.

I remember sitting with Kachumbari at the Kadogo Club one evening recently and we were discussing cars.

One of the fellows who has always owned one of these vehicles came into the bar.

As we sat there discussing cars, this fellow interjected three times to point out that one of his previous cars had just passed the road outside the Kadogo Club.

Kachumbari then decided to carry out a survey amongst a group of people who he knew had traditionally driven cars for a long time.

He found that most of them could still find the vehicles that they owned when they started working. Most of them stayed in Nairobi if that is where they were bought.

Others bought in the province also moved to Nairobi on the change of ownership. A large number ended up as the much loved and now threatened yellow line taxis.

What does all this mean to the Kenyan motorist? The main lesson is that cars do not die so easily in Kenya. The population of cars will grow continuously with very little waste.

Brand loyalty is encouraged since people can actually see for themselves over a very long period of time how robust a particular kind of vehicle is. Resale values and maintenance costs become very transparent to the consumer.

In other parts of the world and especially the European and American markets, the motorists values are different.

The turnover of cars is quite high and they have a steep loss of re-sale value within the first two years of purchase.

After the European models tend to keep a higher price than the equivalent Japanese or American marque.

Why this is so is not so clear but one is inclined to consider that the expression "better the devil you know" has some effect on peoples choice of second hand vehicle.

Some of the older American models, especially the really large ones have a strange following in Europe.

Quite a few people have vintage cars which they cherish. These cars always seem to always appreciate in value.

Factors influencing the choice of vehicle in the European and American market are quite complex and vehicle manufacturers spend a lot of money on market research just to be sure that they will have the right product available on the market at the right time.

We are aware of most of the techniques used in this market research but one that Kachumbari told me I found quite unusual and yet on further inquiry turned out to be a very important piece of research.

How many of us will refuse a car because the colour is not right? In Kenya, very few since the number of colours available to the average motorist is limited.

One can have red, white, grey, shades of grey, tan, green, blue and that's about it. Any other colour is a special...and not to forget that one can also have some of those shades in metallic!

Yet colour is such an important issue that most vehicle manufacturers have a whole series of meetings and get quite a lot of research done to be able to either predict or set the tastes of the buying public as far as automobile colours go!

This exercise is taking place all the time and just as fashion designers are quite on about choice is that Kenyan motorists are missing out on motoring pleasure. The current trend in vehicle production is in four distinct consumer bands.

The first is the "dudu" band where literally every manufacturer now has a shopping basket in their range. In Kenya read Diahatsu.

The second is the "executive" bracket which in Kenya is satisfied by the Peugeot 405-605, the Uhuru and the variety of mercs that are (available).

The other pretenders to this class are the Fajero and the Trooper in their various guises.

All other cars on the Kenya market are a bog standard issue from their manufacturer based on rationalisation of the market.

In the rest of the world all three basic bands exist but there is this constant quest for performance and that is where we in Kenya lose out.

A lot of cars currently on offer in the 1400 to 1800 c.c. bracket are pushing out between 130 and 180 horsepower without turbocharging.

Very few ordinary vehicles in Kenya can do this and I do not see the franchise holders actually trying to dabble in this area.

A lot more attention is being paid to the environment and quite a few cars are now fitted with catalytic converters as a standard.

The level of passenger comfort is also incredibly high but I doubt that the Kenyan motorist is worried about that.

So long as the car can last longer, requires little and cheap service, is reasonably economical on fuel and can be resold at a good value, who cares about anti brake lock systems, cat. converters, recyclable parts, four speaker, stereos, seats with lumbar... and other special adjustments and so forth.

As Kachumbari says, the car that is made for Africa will not sell anywhere else in the world except perhaps.....somewhere like Africa!

COASTDRIVE with PATRICK OBATH

colour conscious or would use colour to create a particular theme so are car design groups.

A whole lot of effort is geared to determining the colour of cars.

One would suggest that if I were willing to wait long enough, I could get a pink car from one of the vehicle assembly plants in Kenya. The demand is there especially in Mombasa.

There is also a demand for yellow. Think of the number of yellow taxis one would sell.

This must make it a possibility since there could be enough demand to justify a run on yellow or pink vehicles.

The main reason for ranting

MOMBASA INSTITUTE LOSE TO MORE EXPERIENCED M.S.C. SIDE

IN A MOST ENJOYABLE 30-over game last Saturday Mombasa Sports Club's experience overcame Mombasa Institute by 48 runs, writes D.J.W.

With a stronger bowling side than in their previous encounter M.I. won the toss and put the home side in.

Hamza Jiwaji was in fine form, with a straight defence and strong led-side shorts laying the basis of the innings with 47 runs, including seven fours.

Julian Terry took over his role with a stylish innings of 45 and it appeared that of total of about 140 was likely.

However, Upendra Vora had other ideas. Batting at number 7, he hit five sixes and two fours to boost the total to 179 for seven wickets, his own tally being a very rapid 43 runs.

Meanwhile, Patrick Martins, Kamal and veteran Jayendra Shah each took two wickets. After losing a wicket on the fifth ball, Mike and another veteran Edwin batted with great enterprise, scoring at just above the target rate.

The run rate was slowed down by spinner Julian Terry who, after having Mike LBW for 20, bagged two more valuable wickets.

Edwin was run out unluckily, the ball being deflected off the bowler, but Jayendra batted with much of his old style, scoring 30 good runs.

TOO MUCH OF A TARGET ...

The large target proved too much for the later batsmen, as M.I. finished at 131 for nine wickets, Seifee Maloo taking two for 20.

Most of the players and wives were lavishly entertained at Mombasa Institute until after 11 p.m. afterwards — a fine ending to a good afternoon's cricket.

AS THE YEAR IS drawing to a close, it was time once again for the captains' prizes last weekend writes Followthru.

Terry Kairu, Lady Captain at Mombasa Golf Club had a field of 27 players including five juniors, and 82 men turned out for Nyali Golf and Country Club Golf Captain George Ndegwa's two day competition.

This number was augmented to 120 on Sunday morning when 38 invited ladies and men joined the main event.

There had been some rain during the previous few days and this had already made a considerable difference to both courses.

The Mombasa course is in fine shape, with good greens though with somewhat heavy fringes.

The ball is still running at Mombasa, but at Nyali it has slowed slightly (although by Sunday morning the fairways were again drying out).

The greens at Nyali remain slow but are becoming more even, so hopefully will be in peak condition for the Nyali Open in five weeks' time.

Weather conditions were generally good during the weekend, although Sunday morning was extremely hot.

The format for the Lady Captain's prize at Mombasa was an 18 ZHOLD hole medal-stableford combination.

Ann Rainsford had an excellent round scoring a nett 35% on the first nine and 18% points on the second in spite of a blank, for a differential of 17% which proved to be quite unbeatable.

Two players tied on a differential of 21% and for the second year in succession Saida Samji was the runner up. Taking third place on the same score was Perviz Barnsley.

The Best First Nine went to Nyali Lady Captain Kiran Patel on 36 nett and Rukhsana Mohamedali won the Best Second Nine with 17 points.

There were prizes for hidden however many excellent scores, this time the format being stableford.

Jacob continued his fine form scoring 39 points for a one under par round of 70 and his differential of 27 was quite unbeatable and a record for this competition.

So Jacob retained the title he won a year ago and with holes and hidden treasure which went to Vice Captain Akki Khan and Suhas Gudka. The Best Guest prize on a reasonable score of 25 differential went to Elisabeth Wilson.

Terry welcomed all the members and the invited guests and she thanked her Committee for their support throughout the year and especially the hard work of her Vice Captain Akki Khan.

She had thanks too for the Men's section and all the staff at Mombasa Golf Club who had helped her in many ways, and there was special thanks for the support of her husband Rebo and her family.

Terry thanked the ladies for providing the delicious tea and she presented the lovely prizes to the winners.

At Nyali competition for the Captain's Prize was fierce with no less than 14 players having a nett score of par 71 or better after the first day's play.

The outstanding round of the day was a gross 68 from Jacob Okello, the defending champion and this in spite of a seven at the first hole. Jacob's nett 66 gave him a three shot lead over Vishnu Dhutia on a good nett 69 and three players followed on nett 70—Ramesh Desai, Simon Stokes and Ken Eggleton.

Sunday's draw was seeded and with the ladies and invited men joining the field another mammoth golfing session took place commencing at 7.15 a.m. and with the final players finishing just before 2 p.m.

It was an extremely hot and humid morning and with 18 holes taking almost 4 1/2 hours, a good deal of concentration was required. There were his golf improving all the time he certainly looks to have a very bright future in golf. Many congratulations Jacob.

In a runner up spot was Peter Jamieson a handicap 7 player who started quietly on Saturday with a nett 73 but played wonderful golf on Sunday morning, 72 gross and a points score of 41 for a differential of 32, also an excellent result.

Wachira Mahihu and M.K. Mamujee were drawn together on Sunday morning, Wachira having scored nett 71 and Joe nett 72 on Saturday. They had a neck and neck battle and on the 18th green Wachira's long putt for a birdie just lipped the hole to give him 37 points to Joe's 38, resulting in a tying differential of 34, Joe taking third place on countback.

LATEST GOLF NEWS

Other good scores worth noting, all with differentials of 36, came from Simon Stokes (70/34) Kishor Gudka (71/35) Ben Okello (71/35) Rashid Sheikh (71/35) and Bob Nicholas (73/37).

Vishnu Dhutia won the prize for the best nett on Saturday 69, and Mustapha Yusufali took the best Sunday prize on 38 points counting out Ngari Mahihu and Davis Mulli on the same score.

The Best Guest (Men) was won by Hassan Ramadhan with 35 points and Trevor Owen was the runner up on 31.

The Ladies' Guest prize went appropriately to the Lady Captain Kiran Patel with 35 points and the runner up to the Lady Vice Captain Yvonne Edge on 34 points.

The wonderful support for the competition was a sure way of thanking George Ndegwa for all his hard work during his year as Captain.

George, for his part, was equally generous in his thanks to all those who have supported him throughout the year and he urged other members to come forward and stand for committee and become future captains as in fact the task was really quite enjoyable.

He noted that he still had two more months to complete, during which time the Nyali Open would be held and he asked for the members' continued help.

All the players and their families had enjoyed a wonderful buffet lunch in 'Il

Duetto' restaurant on Sunday as well as plenty of cakes and savouries for tea on Saturday.

George presented thank you gifts to all those who have made his year successful, too numerous to mention here, but including of course all the Golf Committee, the Club Chairman Wachira Mahihu and the Lady Captain Kiran Patel.

He thanked especially his secretary Mrs Grace Awori who has patiently dealt with various problems and typed out endless draws.

He also remembered the Ladies' section who so willingly produce delicious cakes and beautiful flowers for the Club, and last but not least special thanks to his wife Catherine for her loyal support.

Catherine presented the lovely prizes to all the winners.

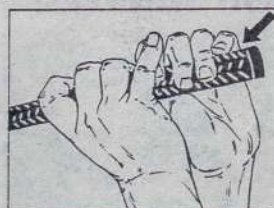

Many winners George and Catherine for a most enjoyable weekend.

Exciting Soccer Marks Final Stages Of Well Organised Butech Cup

ON THURSDAY MAKUPA Rangers verses Seamens ended with a goalless draw. Feisal of Seamens did well in repelling numerous attacks from Rangers.

The Memons vs G.T.I. game played on Friday resulted in a draw, while on Saturday Makupa Rangers thrashed Jaffery seven goals to one with most senior players away to Nairobi for their cricket game.

Jaffery sided a junior team which managed to maintain a one to nil lead for the first 20 minutes before Rangers managed to dismantle them with a surge of goals.

Agakhan earned their entry into the semis when Najib Ibrahim swelled his "bag of goals" by scoring a goal in each half on their match against Seamen's on Tuesday.

With Salim Ramji controlling the wall of defence Seamen's found it extremely difficult to reach the Agakhan goal mouth.

School boy Rahim Ashadali (Dadu) displayed exceptional ball control and was often the target of rough play by Seamen's players.

In the dying minutes Anwar Subeva of Agakhan unleashed a curving shot from the 30 yard line but the goal was disallowed by the referee to the dismay of the crowd.

On Saturday Agakhan play Hatim Karimjee and Memons meet Makupa Rangers on Sunday to decide the finalist for November 30, 1991.
