

Camels, Crabs And A Flight In A Seaplane ...

MOMBASA S.K.A.L. CLUB VISITS WATAMU:

to Lake Ghala for scenes in 'Tracking Elephants'. For this his plane was painted a dirty mud brown.

The seaplane now repainted, visits Watamu on a Sunday. Apart from short jaunts, he does 'day trips' up the north coast to Kiwitu, and on the south coast to Wasini Island. From the plane passengers can go snorkelling in the beautiful marine park there.

Following a change in the monsoon, fishing has perked up tremendously, and on Saturday a 90 lb sail was landed, as well as an 82 lb katambesi. Seafarer's is a popular water sports centre. It has six deep sea fishing boats, also glass-bottomed boats for trips to the marine park, as well as some for sailing.

There is a scuba diving school based there run by Lorenz Riedl, popularly known as 'Lenz', which attracts members of diving clubs both here and overseas. Only recently, a group from Kenya's Impala Club spent a weekend there.

Lenz reports that the two moray eels, each about two metres long, are back in their Husseini. Together they walked from the NFD to Watamu/ Malindi to start the only camel operation along the Kenya coast.

Members of the Young Explorers' Club, together with John Arkle, Skai chairman, found camel riding great fun.

Curry Lunches

The tasty curry lunch on Sunday, a speciality at Seafarer's, was followed by a fashion show staged by Lawford's Boutique, with glamorous models showing the latest locally-made fashion gear they had created.

Keeping their cool as these models tashayed around them were a group of Skalleagues and other guests who had chosen a beautiful vantage point on such a hot day, which was from the swimming pool.

Skalleagues are leading personalities in the tourist industry and such weekends offer an opportunity for them to enjoy the facilities of hotels and lodges they send tourists to, but in which many have never stayed.

There was a big vote of thanks to Jambo Hotels for such an enjoyable weekend.

EATING OUT — Seen around the buffet table at Seafarer's Hotel are Peter Smyth, the new managing director of UTC, Mary Opembe from Pollman's and Liz Arkle, wife of John Arkle Skai chairman, and GM of UTC, Coast.

Sure Deo-Spray a new type of deodorant for all-day protection

... WENT FLYING in a sea-
plane sailing in glass-bottomed
... camel riding, dancing,
... meals together
... Hotel, Watamu,
... Neta Peal.

... out to be one of the
... weekends for
... Skai Club
... members of the
... Club along as

... two skalleagues and
... stayed at Jambo Hotels -
... Lawford's Blue Marlin
... Malindi Chalets. Most
... there in air-conditioned
... generously provided by
... Pollman's, while a
... discount was offered for
... living, as well as
... Stardust Nightclub,
... many shinning away there
... early hours of Sunday

... hundred and six members
... guests enjoyed a superb
... dinner together at Sea-
... Hotel with Harun Njoka,
... again turning
... a magnificent and tasty
... received some of
... advanced training at London's
... Ritz Hotel, the haunt
... of the world's upper crust.

... was provided by Wings,
... operator which is bringing
... tourists here from the UK,

Guest Of Honour

The guest of honour was Peter Smyth, the new managing director of United touring Company, who is also a director of Block South and Nyali Beach Hotel which UTC holds 80 per cent of the shares.

The only sad note was in the farewell to Wolfgang Riedl, assistant to the managing director of Pollman's Tours & Travels. Said the chairman, John Arkle: "He has been a loyal member of the Club, and we are only too sorry to see him go. We wish Wolfgang every success, and hope to see him again."

Kim Morbey, managing director of Jambo Hotels, introduced his new General Manager, Keith Green and his wife Shirley. Keith has been a member of Skai International for seven years, seven being in Bahrain and the rest in Bahrain and Zimbabwe.

There was also a tribute from the Byrnie Wings regional manager, which was echoed when he declared "John Arkle is doing a wonderful job as Skai chairman, making it more popular than ever before."

They danced at Seafarer's all night long, many then making in an air-conditioned room for Malindi's Stardust nightclub.

On Sunday morning, some were flying in Captain Peter Arkle's seaplane for a bird's eye view of the Marine Park and Mita Creek. Among them was Kim Morbey, accompanied by his 86 year old mother, Mignon Morbey, who arrived every minute of the day, as well as being carried away by strongman Sean O'Sullivan, Skai's vice chairman.

John Anderson comes from New Zealand where he was a spraying pilot for 17 years. He went to Zimbabwe to start seaplane operation on Lake Umbagog when the area was only declining there. In March he has been based on the Seahorse Killik Creek. The Cesna 185 is the only seaplane in Africa.

He was recently involved in making when Peter was filming film stars and cameramen

... was a toast from Hotel for Mrs. Mignon Morbey at the Skai... Seafarer's Hotel. Seen (from left) are Mohamed Hashim, John Arkle, (senior representative), Nassir Hashim and John Anderson, regional manager.

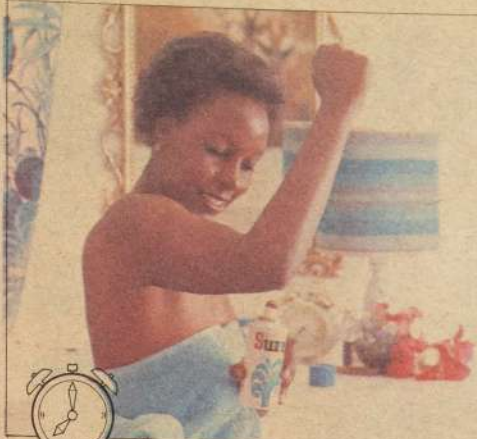

STEPPING OUT — A fashion show by Lawford's Boutique at Seafarer's Hotel was enjoyed by guests as well as members of the Skai Club of Mombasa and Young Explorers Club.

... cave again, and available for viewing.

Many men from visiting warships enjoy diving and deep-sea fishing there, and it was particularly popular with the Australian Navy.

Diving School
Lenz revealed that he has now started a scuba diving school at the Blue Marlin Hotel, Malindi, and gives lessons there every Tuesday. They start in the pool there, graduating to the sea at Watamu.

A popular visitor at Seafarer's is Gell who has given hundreds of visitors a ride along the beach since his debut there some 17 years ago. He belongs to Ismail

Morning

At work

After work

Evening

Sure Deo-Spray is more than a body spray. Sure doesn't just mask body odour, it works effectively against it all day long.

Sure Deo-Spray gives you the deodorant protection that you need to stay smelling nice throughout a hard-working day.

So stay confident and sure all day, every day, with new Sure. It's available in two mild, long-lasting fragrances.

Now start your day the sure way — with Sure Deo-Spray.

DEO-SPRAY
Sure Won't let you down!

PHOTO: NETA PEAL