PLAYING AT THREE HOTELS:
Safari Sound at South Coast
 THE Safari Sound — one of the leading bands at the Coast — has just signed a contract with African Tours and Hotels and will now be playing for dancing at Mombasa Beach, Trade Winds and Two Fishes Hotels.
 The six maestros are all from the Coast. All are experienced musicians who formed the Safari Sound three years ago.

and have been the African Safari Club's resident band for the past two years.
 They have entertained in Europe, and at African Night Balls in Switzerland and Germany, which included the Hilton, Munich.
 Band leader is Farouk Omar who, for nine years, was with the Pharaohs and Night Riders as lead guitarist while John Sultan, composer and vocalist, who plays saxophone and flute, was with the Formula Five for three years. Hassan Yaba, guitarist, was formerly with the Florida Night Club and specialises in African music.
 They play the latest 'pop' music, and have composed eight songs, all with a strong 'African' beat. They hope to cut their first LP in Europe as soon as they can.
 'Supporters of Tototo Centre'
 They are pictured at the A.T.&H. regional office, Coast wearing Bushitis — traditional attire worn by some Arabs on important occasions, for the Safari Sound are strong supporters of Tototo Home Industries Centre, a project of the National Christian Council of Kenya which is giving training and employment opportunities to over 300 wananchi at the Coast who would otherwise be unemployed.
 The Safari Sound play at Mombasa Beach (Wednesdays and Saturdays), Two Fishes (Thursdays and Sundays) and Trade Winds Hotel (Tuesdays and Fridays).
