Eco-Tourism Will Benefit Kenya Image

"SEVERIN SEA Lodge, Mombasa, is the first Kenyan hotel to take practical positive steps towards the conservation and protection of the environment".

Mr. J.M. Muthamia, the hotels environment officer, noted this while addressing a party of foreign tour operators on a familiarisation tour of Kenya's coast who paid a visit to the hotel to check on the implementation of its environmental standards.

They were particularly interested in the newly installed state of the art waste water and garbage treatment plant.

Since late last year when the hotel launched an environmental management unit, which follows their own in-house environment management plan, the plan, though not complete offers workable solutions to most of the conservation problems faced by the hotel.

It touches on issues such as land and buildings, heating and cooling, ground water, sanitation, hygiene, air, waste separation and its recycling.

The hotel encourage and actively implements the use of recyclable packaging materials such as paper.

Materials which can be separated such as plastic, glass, metal, are put aside leaving organic substances which are biodegradable and can go straight into conversation for compost.

Another Look At Kanji Hirji Shah's Super New Shop In The Shiva Towers Complex

NOTHING COOKED IN the pressure cooker, so to solve this we visited Kanji Hirji Shah's new shop in Shiva Tower opposite Pistacchio.

Parking was easy, but to assist you we suggest you either go down the road past the front entrance of Anglo-Swiss cake shop, or go beyond Kanji Hirji Shah where there is usually a stretch opposite them on your left by Kodak. (Telephone Numbers are 224720 and 314159).

For many besides ourselves, this is the time for renewals and the shop not only gave us, but fixed in, the safety valve and large rubber seal. Now, that's services with a smile. While being attended to we looked around and now want to share with you all the new stock.

So, first to oven cooking: There are casseroles insets of three, complete with lids (clear Pyrex type or opaque if you prefer) which you can use for the freezer, fridge, oven or even greater heat - the microwave, and from there straight to the table.

So strong is the material that change of temperature will in no way break these dishes (and think of saving in washing-up).

There's a complete corner of baking equipment for hotels and domestic use. These include roasters, Swiss roll tins, those for Yorkshire Pudding, Savarin tins and Pizza Pans.

Add to these the flute-edged Tart tins, bun tins (used in Mombasa largely for Queen cakes), and the big Spring Form cake tin, where you literally loosen the cake out as opposed to pushing or hoping to luck.

How does one cut a pizza? Ask Kanji Hirji Shah and they'll show you the special Pizza cutters. These live in the gadget department of the shop amongst ice-cream scoops, icing sets and birthday candles, disposable cups and paper plates.

Give a Chinese party in style. Here you'll find complete seven-, 12- or 20-piece Chinese sets. Every thing is there - the Wok, and a stand so it won't topple over, a cover, up to 12 pairs of chopsticks, china bowls with matching spoons and various tools and utensils. As if that is not enough they even supply a small recipe and suggestion book.

Meat tough? Now in stock at Kanji Hirji Shah are original wooden-handled steak knives (saws) and matching forks.

Do you remember one of the dailies this year on April 1 talking about the Australians coming to solve Kenya's water problem? Perhaps many of us were taken in because Australia has similar troubles. But in this case it's genuine. Even if you have controversial borehole water you can be absolutely positive it is all right for drinking without boiling. How? Go and look at the Australian-made water filter.

Quite simple on the outside there is one lead to the tap and an out-pouring spout the other. Inside there is more than our 22 feet of gut, and it is in this concealed stretch that the purifying takes place.

Simply super is a new-style coffee percolator-cum-tea maker, and you put it on your dining, tea or office table. Worth having a look at.

We asked Kanji Hirji Shah, who

The bride, groom or family only have to take their list and mention a few items and when the guest goes in they will be able to select what the couple really want. The price could be round the K.Shs. 500/- mark for a silver-plated Bell right up to the limit of dinner- and tea-services, but if we had our wedding again, our choice would definitely be that Wok and all the many items that go with it.

HEALTH TIPS

You Can Sleep Your Way To Health And Happiness

DID YOU KNOW that if you usually sleep less than seven hours a day that you risk your life? According to experts, people that sleep seven to eight hours a day have a lower death rate than those who sleep for longer or shorter periods of time.

Experts also say that people who take sleeping pills regularly have a death rate one and a half times more than those that do not. These findings give sleep problems an ominous tone and may be that nudge you need to be concerned about your sleep habits.

Mombasa was until recently considered a sleepy town but it now seems more common to find people who do not get enough sleep, like any other growing city.

According to researchers, people sleep less and less as they grow older. Women are also more likely to complain of sleep problems than men and about twice as many women use sleeping pills as compared to men.

People who complain about poor sleep are often inaccurate in their judgements. For example, many who say that it takes a couple of hours to get to sleep are generally asleep within 15 minutes when objectively studied, and those who say they customarily only get about four hours sleep a night usually get six or seven hours.

Some patients who claim they have not slept a wink at night after investigation are found to have slept six hours or more. In general anxious or nervous persons complain more about sleeplessness.

It is important to understand that the body has natural rhythms in its functioning. Sleeping and waking occur in a cycle every 24 hours. The time sleeping is needed to restore energy to the body and rest the mind. There are a small proportion of people who get only two or three hours of sleep a day and are completely happy about that. But most people need at least twice that.

Sleeplessness has many causes. Some physical causes include diseases that cause breathlessness or pain, the use of stimulating substances such as miraa, excess coffee, tea and smoking.

Alcohol causes sleep early in the night but when its effects wear off a few hours later may cause waking especially among heavy users.

Sleeping pills cause sleep which is unnatural. Their major disadvantages are that their sleep producing property wears off and this makes you need higher and higher doses to get to sleep.

by Dr. Eric Maina

After prolonged usage of the pills people become dependent on them. Any attempt to stop using them causes sleeplessness, nightmares and restlessness and this can be quite severe.

The commonest cause of sleeplessness is psychological. Anxiety, tension, worry and depression are particularly to blame.

The worry that one will not sleep, tends to make people not to sleep at all, a self-fulfilling prophecy. Here are some things that could help you improve your sleeping pattern:

- Establish regular sleep and waking times to help the body rhythm.
- Avoid daytime naps or waking late if you want to sleep at night.
- Exercise is good for sleep. It promotes quicker falling asleep and longer duration of sleep. Exercise must be regular to be useful and done during the day rather than evening.
- Hot milky fluids may promote sleep.
- Avoid stimulating substances especially in the evening. Cut down on your alcohol consumption.
- Reduce those sleeping pills and eventually do without them.
- Make your bedroom more suitable for sleeping. Noise, light even the temperature of the room can affect sleep. So can a snoring roommate. Alarm clocks sometimes cause more anxiety than alleviate.
- When sleepless get out of bed and read a book, watch TV or do another activity until you feel sleepy again. This is better than staying in bed worrying about your sleep.
- Deal quickly with your anxieties and tensions. More on this last point next week.

"Women In Small Scale Business" Share Stories Of Success And Loss

A SECOND MEETING of the business workshop "Women in Small Scale Business" has taken place in Mombasa to review the outcome of the first meeting.

In a very lively discussion, members shared their experiences of successes as well as failures in their enterprises. Encouragement and advice was given to those who still had problems of starting off a more consistent business.

The Chairman of the Kenyan-German Society Mr. Steven Ajuang, who had come from Nairobi, stressed the importance of further education in form of seminars in order to learn from experts as well as from the experience of each other.

Mr. Joseph Kosure, the District Trade Officer, offered his support and assistance to women entrepreneurs and encouraged them to form a strong network of cooperation.

Mrs. Mary Stevens, a lecturer of business studies at the Mombasa Polytechnic who conducted the course, urged the women to think independently and with self-confidence, and develop an attitude which differentiates between business and private matters.

The group finally came up with the following resolutions:

- A permanent group under the auspices of the Kenyan-German Society will be established for the exchange of business ideas also on an international level;
 - We shall continue to create more awareness to our women entrepreneurs to carry on their business in partnership and groups;
 - The issue of goodwill or illegal key-money should not be seen as a threat to business formation and development;
 - We should address our financial needs to our own savings or friends' lending/integrity/patience and not necessarily to bank loans and other finances, where interest charges may be beyond our capacities, and
 - The group agreed to hold a Women Trade Fair for the Coast before the end of the year.
- Any women who wants to become a member of this group or wants to participate in the Trade Fair should contact either Mr. Kosure, Mrs. Stevens or Ms. Ulrike Neubert, Director at the German Institute, telephone 316251, Mombasa.

BLOCK HOTELS HOST "TRIBUTE TO AFRICA"

A 'TRIBUTE TO AFRICA' was the theme of a cocktail and dinner party hosted by Block Hotels to 'thank' leading tour operators at the Coast for their continued support and to brief them about the latest developments in the group.

It is they who handle most of the overseas tourists coming to the Coast.

Most turned up in 'Afro' gear including their hosts among them being Roger Sylvester, Sales and Marketing Director; Tony Grove, Area Manager; John Mutua, Resident Manager, Nyali Beach Hotel; Aris Luhumyo, Manager, Shimba Lodge and Mark Holden, General Manager of Indian Ocean Beach Club, Diani, which opens later this year.

Such is Block Hotels fame for its great promotional parties - that most of those invited turned up.

Cocktails were served at the Pool Bar where ample opportunity was offered for social chatter, laced with the latest tourism trends.

It was the Rwandese dancers, with long white flowing hair, who roast goat, and lamb.

There was also a very tempting 'Caravan of Sweets' including small iced African doughnuts which were absolutely delicious.

The African Dream Band entertained with many African numbers including the Chakacha, which a few were brave enough to dance, as well as the Lambada.

It was all great fun.

Said John Mutua, Resident Manager, Nyali Beach Hotel 'Block Hotels is back with lots of developments and improvements taking place.

This kind of party is becoming more frequent.

There were rousing cheers when a tour operator suggested they might take place even more often.

Amid applause, Tony Grove, congratulated John Mutua and his team for such excellent arrangements. Adding 'Mr. Mutua has a great team here and is doing a wonderful job'.

He thanked tour operators for their support. Declared Mr. Grove, Block Hotels are the future for tourism in this country.

Briefing tour operators on the five year development plan for Nyali 'for which we have been given a generous budget' Mr. Grove said that during this period every room in the hotel will be refurbished while general improvements will be carried out.

In addition, more emphasis is to be laid on training both internally and externally including some exchange programmes.

He declared 'our investment in the future is with our staff.'

Said Roger Sylvester 'as far as the future of tourism in this country is concerned, Block Hotels is making a great contribution towards the development of more up-market tourism'.

"I know I said I'd be home by ten, but I've only had nine."

"Any other qualifications - apart from not being as stupid as you look."

"I know my husband will come to an untimely end, but will I get away with it?"

"I'm afraid my wife is out. Can I take a massage?"

"He was just going through our joint bank statement."

"When you said you would bring your Rover, I thought you meant your car."

A HUGE NEW travel market is opening up for South Africans and helping promote Kenya is Flying Springbok - the official magazine of South African Airways which will be featuring a Jambo Kenya section in its September and October editions.

SAA presently has one flight a week to Nairobi - on a Sunday.

The magazine is not only read by South Africans but by these travelling SAA to over fifty destinations of the world, its readership being around 700,000.

Recently in Kenya, as guests of United Touring Company and Block Hotels, were the magazine's Fashion Editor, Alex da Silva; journalist, Marion Scher, photographer, Costa Economides; two models - Jonathan Sherwin and Anthea Bosch, also a make-up artist, Ann Dempsey.

They travelled round the country taking fashion pictures.

Said Marion 'It is wonderful country for fashion photography and we literally had drag Costa away from each 'shoot' as such was his enthusiasm he could have stayed the whole day - every day.'

They visited Outspan, Lake Naivasha, Keekorok in the Maasai Mara seeing a much greater profusion of game and birds than in South Africa.

KEEKOROK

There was also game viewing from the air in a balloon at Keekorok which they found tremendously exciting.

All were thrilled to see thousands of flamingoes round Lake Naivasha.

Marion said 'we have had the most marvellous reception and treatment throughout. In fact, we would like to send some of our South African hoteliers here to learn about service for it is absolutely outstanding'.

She explained that South Africans had suffered from a lack of international tourism, while the domestic tourist tended to take what is offered without complaining.

Adding 'we have game parks and a coastline in South Africa, but Kenya is absolutely wonderful and we have had a fantastic trip'.

Special Report by NETA PEAL

The group spent two nights at Nyal Beach Hotel describing it as 'gorgeous' and with a tremendously wide range of facilities. It was also ideal for families.

Said Marion 'UTC have been absolutely wonderful and their driver and guides excellent.

It was Alloys Batsinduka, a Customer Services representative from UTC, Nairobi, who accompanied them throughout.

It was a 'whistle stop' tour at the coast - for they had only one full day to go sightseeing and take fashion pictures.

Accompanied by Salim Rahemtullah, UTC's Senior Representative at the coast, who knows Mombasa like the back of his hand, they visited Fort Jesus Museum and the Old Town, Mackinnon Market, taking fashion pictures in Blashara Street and in the centre of the town - the rest of their 'shoot' taking place at Nyal Beach Hotel.

Be Kind To Our Nature!

The plan deals with issues such as the use of ozone-friendly sprays, use of phosphate-free biological detergents, non-use of undergradable synthetic packaging for example the hotel encourages the use of recyclable packing material such as paper, the guests laundry bags are made from both material.

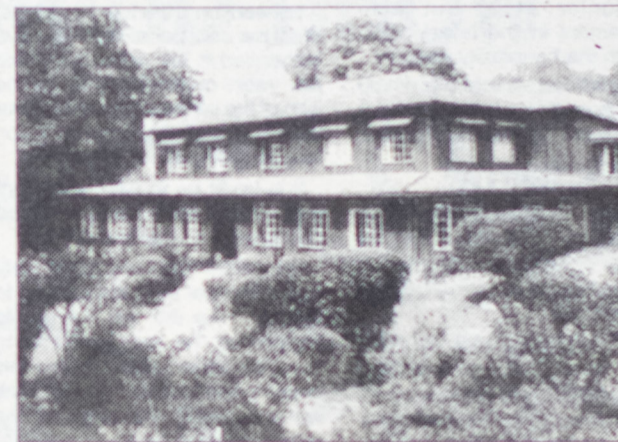

Mr. Muthamia added that since the beginning of this year, Severin Sea Lodge operates the most modern waste water treatment plant, a biological one using no chemicals.

This project contributes to the conservation of the environment and enables tourists to enjoy their travel and holidays without destroying the very things they have come to see.

Such ecotourism also generates economic benefits for local people while protecting the environment around them.

In the words of Mr. Muthamia 'the above concepts, contributes to the conservation of the environment. We at Severin Sea Lodge, have realised, that it would be meaningless, hypocritical and of no economic value for us, as hotel to condemn tourism.

'All those concerned, such as conservationists, environmentalists, hotelkeepers, tour operators, various ministries, etc must come together and find a workable programme of action, which can offer solutions, so as to allow tourists to visit without destroying the very things they have come to see and enjoy.'

The natural approach to Mt Kenya.

Surrounded by Nature's splendour, Naro Moru River Lodge is only a few kilometres from Mt Kenya.

Here, you can do whatever comes naturally. Try fly-fishing for trout, exploring the fertile slopes of the mountain or, if you're of a more adventurous nature, take a seven-day technical climb to the majestically rugged peaks of Mt Kenya.

Superb accommodation, experienced porters and guides, complete equipment rentals and all the best nature has to offer.

Naturally, your first approach to the mountain is a call to Naro Moru River Lodge.

Top Coast Hotel Staff Learning Up On "Hospitality Management For The 90s"

HOLIDAY RESORTS Limited have been congratulated by the Chairman of the Kenya Association of Hotelkeepers' and Caterers', Joshua Mwendwa, for making available professional managerial training not only for their own senior managerial staff, but from other hotels along the Kenya coast.

Twenty benefitted from two seminars labelled 'Hospitality Management for the 90s' conducted by a Human Resource Consultant Tony Robb-Whitaker, Managing Director of Navillus Executive Development Services, Cyprus, with branches in New York and London.

Holiday Resorts embrace Neptune Beach Hotel, Mombasa, also Neptune Village and Neptune Paradise at Galu Kinondo on the south coast.

Other participating hotels were Hotel Inter-Continental, Lagoon Reef and Kaskazi hotels, also Leisure Lodge.

The closing ceremony of the first two seminars took place at Neptune Paradise (which hotel opened just six months ago) and among the guests were the Provincial Tourist Officer, Coast, Sam Okungu, managers from participating hotels also Andre Janssens, Resident Manager, Neckermann, a leading tour operator in Germany which sends many clients to Neptune Hotels.

Guest of Honour was the KAHC chairman, Joshua Mwendwa, who presented certificates to seminar participants. He also took the opportunity of congratulating Amin Merali, Chairman of Holiday Resorts Limited for 'putting up such a marvellous hotel', (Neptune Paradise).

Addressing the gathering he said that it was not only important to train junior staff, but also management in the latest world trends in the hospitality industry.

He hoped that participants would benefit from this training and put into practice what they had learned.

PARTICIPANTS

Referring to the fact that the industry is going through difficult times, Mr. Mwendwa said 'we are all looking forward to seeing tourism soar again'.

Said the Provincial Tourist Officer, Sam Okungu 'Holiday Resorts have done quite a bit of work in promoting this country's tourist industry, both internationally and nationally.'

They participate in all our activities, for which I thank them very much'. Adding 'Mr. Chairman, I hope your group will continue doing so'.

Continuing he said 'we have been receiving a lot of co-operation from the private sector, for which we are most grateful'.

In a word to seminar participants, Mr. Okungu stressed how necessary it is to keep up with international competition.

Today's tourist, he said 'is very sophisticated, concerned about the environment and likes to receive value for his money, including good told seminar participants 'I cannot think of a nicer place than Neptune Paradise for such a training course'.

He appealed to all in the hotel industry to maintain and improve standards and thanked the Human Resource Consultant for making such advanced training available and by coming here to give us new ideas'.

He also appealed to participants to share what they have learned with their colleagues.

In welcoming guests, the Chairman of Holiday Resorts Limited Mr. Amin Merali, took the Speaking on behalf of participants, Patrick Mutua, Manager of Neptune Paradise, thanked the Chairman of Holiday Resorts for hosting this training seminar.

DECORATIONS

There was also a 'thank you' to other hotels for enabling senior managers to participate, and to government for maintaining a peaceful atmosphere making it possible for such seminars to be held, also the seminar facilitator Tony Robb-Whitaker for coming success of their hotels, investors will often employ management companies but sometimes they too need to have their skills updated'.

Adding 'we find we are advising not only hoteliers but management companies as well, for the aim of Navillus Executive Development Services is to ensure that management of the hospitality industry is keeping pace with the rate of change in this modern world.'

The biggest problem is not the art of management, but actually the art of keeping up to date.

The pace and rate of change is now so fast that managers are suffering with the problem of not being able to keep up to date. This is now leading to a new disease 'M.E.' mental exhaustion.

RELAXATION

Said Mr. Robb-Whitaker 'part of my job is to talk to managers about stress and stress factors which is a totally new field.'

The hospitality industry has the most unsociable working hours - long tours of duty and constant pressures in a fast moving hotel - as in the resort industry with a constant turnover of guests.

One of the things we do is to introduce hoteliers to a twenty minute relaxation programme which we advise they should do when they come off duty.

It involves relaxing the whole of the muscles of the body, and on this management programme we ran through this with them to show how they can completely relax.

We also looked at the behavioral side of the management scene because a lot is pinned on to human behaviour and the understanding of it.

You can't do much about the pressures, but we try to alleviate some of the problems by advising on organisation as well as on things like delegation and the better use

PARTICIPANTS IN THE TWO seminars 'Hospitality Management for the 90s' are seen at the closing ceremony at Neptune Paradise Hotel, Galu Kinondo, the guest of honour being Joshua Mwendwa, chairman, Kenya Association of Hotelkeepers and Caterers (second left seated). service. He is someone you cannot take for a ride.

It is important, therefore, to equip ourselves with new ideas and techniques so as to attract an increasing number of holidaymakers'.

He went on 'if the tourism growth of 10 per cent per annum we have witnessed in the world in the last few years continues, then by the turn of the century I am sure there will be something like two billion tourists going around the world.'

It is up to us in Kenya to work very hard to attract a good percentage of that figure'.

He noted that presently only about two per cent are coming to Africa. As far as Kenya is concerned, he said 'considering the great variety of attractions this country has to offer I do not think we are getting the share of the market we should be attracting'.

He spoke of the need for the maintenance of high standards and opportunity of also thanking other hotels for their participation.

Adding 'I am proud that Neptune Hotels have taken the lead in organising this management seminar conducted by a very competent instructor'.

Adding 'I believe that it is the human resource which is the greatest asset any institution can have.'

With this in mind Holiday Resorts will continue to ensure that we keep training our people'.

CONSULTANTS

Referring to a press report on what the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife, Mr. Noah Katana Ngala, had said when presenting awards to Tamarind staff at Mombasa to the effect that 'in order to survive our management resources and standard of service should be second to none. That is the only way we can keep Kenya on the map'.

Said Mr. Merali 'with this in mind my directors and senior management will always make sure that when recruiting people we train them to the maximum with one thing in mind - to give top service to our guests so that they want to keep returning.'

Adding 'this is not only good for us, but for Kenya and everybody concerned'.

He congratulated seminar participants for successfully completing the course and urged them to put into practice what they had learned and also to share their newly acquired knowledge with their colleagues.

He also thanked the Human Resource Consultant, Tony Robb-Whitaker, and said 'I hope you will keep coming back to us because we will keep calling you back'.

He concluded 'I hope that with finance and circumstances permitting we shall be able to carry on with these kind of seminars in the future'.

Master of Ceremonies was Heinz B. Reichstein, Director of Operations, Holiday Resorts Limited.

He said 'I think all participants are pleased with the seminar and with the new knowledge gained'.

of time'.

Said Mr. Robb-Whitaker 'we avoid the oriental discussions and instead devote time to practical things - like trying to make the life of a manager easier by improving the performance and productivity of people who work for him.'

Such practical training of senior management is also a money saver for the hospitality industry.

He revealed that there will be a 'follow up' on the seminar, and explained that the senior management programme had included motivation, delegation, communication skills and the art of managing people in the hospitality industry.

It had been more discussive and participative than lecturing.

The whole emphasis had been on participatives and management skills in order for them to improve their present managerial performance and ultimately to increase the performance of others.

Said Mr. Robb-Whitaker 'the response was excellent'.

Holiday Resorts Limited have three hotels offering between them a total of 760 beds, the latest being Neptune Paradise which opened last December. It is expected to be classified a 'Four Star' hotel.

Tall makuti roofs to each of the one-storeyed rondavels gives it an attractive African ambience.

Each rondavel has its own solar water heating system while all rooms are air-conditioned and have 'mini' bars.

They are elegantly furnished with Rambo furniture (made in Kenya) and attractive Mamo floors.

The hotel has four bars, an open-sided restaurant, also grill room called the 'Lobster Pot' overlooking the swimming pool.

There are facilities for water sports and recreation, while the gardens are kept in an immaculate condition.

Declared the chairman of Hotel Resorts, Mr. Amin Merali 'we place great emphasis on cleanliness in all our hotels'.

He mentioned that 'while we have had in-house training going on all the time, this was the first occasion to bring in a professional Human Resource consultant for training purposes'.

Having A Wonderful Time

THERE WERE CONGRATULATIONS for the Resident Manager (right) of Mombasa's Hotel Inter-Continental, Antoine Sayegh, from a fellow hotelier in Naples, Italy, who had enjoyed his stay at this hotel so much that he had extended it by a further five weeks. Mr. Robert Liotti owns a business-cum-leisure hotel in Naples. It was on the personal recommendation of a friend (who was so impressed by the hotel that he returns each year), that Mr. Liotti decided to try it. He had originally intended to stay two weeks but decided to stay longer because of the good standards and of being looked after so well. He told Mr. Sayegh that he is planning to return next year, together with his wife.

AZIZ KASSIM-LAKHA IS INDUCTED AS MOMBASA ROTARY CLUB CHAIRMAN

THE INDUCTION OF Aziz Kassim-Lakha as chairman of the 48 year old Rotary Club of Mombasa (the oldest at the coast) was a very memorable and merry occasion for around 230 Rotarians, their 'Anns' and guests who enjoyed some excellent cuisine and entertainment at the Oceanic Hotel as well as praise from Rtn. Abdul Samji who took over as Governor of Rotary International District 9200 on July 1 1992.

He is a member of this club. Mr. Kassim-Lakha is the Managing Director of Oceanic Hotels group which also embraces Ocean View Hotel, Bora Bora International Nightclub and 'Gambatto' which supplies fresh farm produce to these hotels.

His family also have interests in Uganda (to which they have now returned) these including Mountain of the Moon and Grand Hotels, as well as coffee and cotton estates.

Guests were from the Inner Wheel, Lions and Saturday Clubs, Jaycees, Round Table as well as Rotarians from other clubs at the coast with a large contingent, as usual, from Malindi.

There was a floral welcome for all - a rose for the ladies, and a carnation for the men, while all enjoyed a refreshing floral decorated cocktail on their arrival.

The function opened in the festively adorned restaurant with everyone singing 'Vive le Rotary' while following the speechmaking was some first class entertainment by a sensation Giriama songstress - Jane Joan-Grange.

Nabil Sansool, musician, composer, producer is presently producing her shows at he coast.

Said Nabil 'she is fantastic and could become the Number One singer in Europe'.

Jane sings to playback music in her shows but when requested for a Swahili song, and finding there was no music to accompany her, she did without. Shewas "sensational".

There was also some exotic entertainment by Maggie and Mwalimo from the Florida Nightclub, while music for dancing was provided by the talented Simba Six band.

Rtn Samji thanked members of the Rotary Club of Mombasa 'for helping make me DG for the year 1992-93' describing it as 'an honour for all of you'.

He announced that the Rotary District Conference would take place in Mombasa next year and that its organisation will be a mammoth task.

The District covers 72 clubs in eight countries that is, Ethiopia, Somalia, Djibouti, Uganda, Reunion, Mauritius, Seychelles and Kenya.

Rtn Samji said that on August 9 he will start visiting all of them and presenting each with a scroll.

The very first one he presented 'as my personal banner' to the immediate past chairman of the Rotary Club of Mombasa, Ebrahim Jagani, for his 'great contribution to Rotary and the sterling job he has done during his year in office'.

HAPPINESS

He then displayed the new Rotary Badge with its current theme 'Real Happiness in Helping Others' presenting the first to the new chairman of this club, Aziz Kassim-Lakha and his wife, Khatun.

Rotarians heard that Rotary is now represented in 184 countries of the world of which 12, including Albania and Ukraine, had joined during the past year.

Referring to the Rotary International Convention at Orlando, USA, Rtn Samji said '20,000 delegates from all over the world gave a five minute

The total assets of the Trust, he said 'now exceed KShs. 10 million'.

Under its Medical Trust Fund the club sponsored for heart surgery five children - two going to New York, two to India and one to South Africa.

The outgoing chairman also revealed that work on the Mtopanga Clinic is now almost the Rotary Club of Mombasa is the best in the district.

I am proud to be a Rotarian, but even more proud to be a Rotarian of the Rotary Club of Mombasa. I am certainly fortunate to have had the opportunity to lead this great club'.

He presented awards to 35 Rotarians who had achieved a 100 per cent attendance at meetings throughout the year as well as 'tokens of appreciation' to his team and others who had excelled in their service to others.

In introducing the new chairman he said 'Aziz Kassim-Lakha comes from a distinguished family and is the son of Rhemtulla Kassim-Lakha, a member of Kenya's former Legislative Council.

LEADERSHIP

Aziz was educated in Kiwumu obtaining his B.Comm Degree at London University where he qualified as a Barrister-at-Law.

He has been an active worker in his community and was appointed by the Kenya Government as a Member of the Wages Council and Hotel and Restaurants Authority.

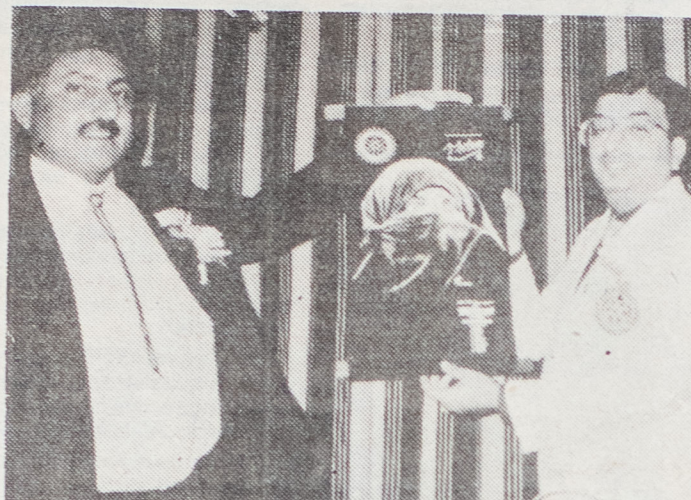

He is a former chairman of the Kenya Association of Hotelkeepers' and Caterers, Coast.

He has been a member of the Rotary Club of Mombasa for 28 years.'

Said the outgoing chairman 'I have little doubt that his club

He is seen during the induction ceremony receiving the chain of office from the out-going chairman, Ebrahim Jagani. It was witnessed by 230 Rotarians, their 'Anns' and guests from other service clubs at the coast and took place at the Oceanic Hotel. Mr. Kassim-Lakha is Managing Director of the Oceanic Hotels group which also embraces Ocean View Hotel, Bora Bora International Nightclub and 'Gambatto' which supplies fresh farm produce to these hotels. standing ovation to welcome all the former Eastern communist block countries back into the Rotary fold'.

He said 'of these ten have had no Rotary for the past forty years since the advent of communism.

Rotary had now been reurrected there while Albania and the Ukraine are two countries which Rotary had not previously set foot in'.

Said Rtn Samji 'It was a most befitting and joyous ceremony in welcoming them to Rotary'.

In his annual report the outgoing chairman, Ebrahim

Special Report by NETA PEAL

Jagani said that the club had continued providing water to the people of Kilifi and during the year 1991-92 three water projects in Makanzani, Nyailani and Ameni had been completed, entailing the laying of four-and-a-half kms of pipeline, at a cost of Shs 600,000.

Said Rtn Jagani 'I shall never forget the tears of joy in the eyes of villagers when they saw water gushing out of the taps ending their problem of having to walk over six kms for the nearest supply'.

He said 'Rtn Gaffur is revered by the villagers who call him 'Bwana Maji'.

The club has also set up its first Rotary Village Corps at Makanzani, while its Education Trust Fund is presently assisting 608 students by paying their tuition fees - Shs 822,000/- having been spent on this during the year.

complete.

He said 'we hope to have the formal opening and the handing over of the clinic to Crescent Medical Aid in the course of the next few weeks'.

When fully operational the clinic will serve over 80,000 residents in that area.

He told Rotarians 'the project could not have gone ahead had it not been of the generosity of Rtn Shariff Shatry and his family who not only donated the land but also helped raise Shs half million for it.

(During the evening Rtn Shariff Shatry became a Paul Harris Fellow having donated dollars 1,000 to the Rotary Foundation towards the work it does in helping those in need).

During the year, and to mark Rotary International's 75th anniversary, the club gained 13 Paul Harris Fellows and six Paul Harris Sustaining Members who between them contributed US Dollars 14,100 to the Rotary Foundation.

"BEST NURSE"

During the year the club also gave an award to the 'Best Nurse' as a means of uplifting the standards of nursing, organised two career guidance seminars - one at the Kenyatta High School, Mwatate, attended by 300 students, while its annual Careerama attracted around 3000 students.

The Vocational Services Committee also organised a Business Seminar for senior and middle level management.

There were Friendship Exchange visits to the Rotary Clubs of Arusha and Moeshi, and the club also hosted a team of South African Rotarians.

Under the club's sponsorship there are seven Interact and two Rotaract Clubs - the highest number in District 9200.

A two-day Interact Seminar organised at district level attracted over 450 interactors.

Such is the interest in Rotary that the club averaged a 90 per cent attendance throughout the year.

Declared the outgoing chairman 'I have no doubt that will continue to thrive under Aziz's leadership'.

The new chairman, Aziz Kassim-Lakha, commenced his maiden speech by asking everyone to be upstanding to applaud the immediate past-chairman, Ebrahim Jagani 'for leading our club to greater heights' then presenting him with a badge in recognition of his outstanding services.

He also congratulated Afshan Jagani on becoming Inner-Wheel chairperson for the year 1992-93. He assured her of the club's complete support.

He also took the opportunity of thanking members for unanimously electing him chairman of the Rotary Club of Mombasa, adding 'I am fully aware of the obligation placed on me to lead this great club and to maintain the required high standards that have been set in the past'.

He introduced his Board Members and Committee Chairman for the year.

Hovering Helicopters, Spoil Barges And Somali Cargoes

THE MOMBASA BASED salvage tug's Bisson I and Barbara returned to base last Saturday after having successfully docked and undocked docked the sheep carrier Mukairish Alsades at Kisimayo last week.

Anagel Champion sailed out in ballast on Tuesday afternoon minus her inbound consignment of bagged fertilizer. She forms part of the Anagel Shipping Enterprises fleet of some 47 vessels.

Certainly one of the larger Akti Miaouli based shipping companies. The vessels incidentally have a combined dead weight capacity of just over 1.3 million tonnes, averaging roughly 27,700 DWT per vessel.

The port appears to be fairly busy, however there are still a number of berths waiting for occupants.

Harbour tug Tewa continues to tow out the split barge laden with spoil excavated from Kilindini lighter wharf and dumping the spoil 'outside'. The hopper barge virtually splits herself in two, allowing the spoil to fall out of the opening created by the split.

Interesting to note was the effort made by two Westland Sea King helicopters based on HMS Invincible while she was here recently.

The two helicopters reportedly air lifted tons of building materials as well as a 40 foot radio mast to the top of a hill in the Tsavo East National Park.

The mast will form part of a radio network to assist game wardens in protecting the various endangered species of wild life from poachers.

The operation was, and I quote 'considered a major test of Invincible's worldwide operational capability in difficult territory'.

One of the Chinese-Tanzanian Joint Shipping Company vessels Ruaha sailed out on the 30th. She had been here for roughly two weeks discharging general cargo at Number Ten.

Sad news concerning the vessel Amaffi One. She was here at the beginning of June and sailed for Aden I believe, under the command of Captain Oriaso, seconded from the KPA.

Captain Oriaso disappeared from the vessel under mysterious circumstances.

Let's hope that the investigative team that flew to Aden to conduct an enquiry come back with satisfactory results as to the whereabouts or what actually happened, and not be 'stone walled'.

For it is especially sad when nationals disappear overseas and those endeavouring to seek the truth are continually thwarted in their efforts.

I see that the landing craft Citadel is now back at the Liwatoni buoys. She had been beached here for some time undergoing general repairs and maintenance. Does her moving mean that there might be an impending voyage coming up?

I.C.R.C. chartered coaster Dimatrios arrived back at the beginning of the week, she is the one with the two Red Cross emblems on her sides. (The name continues to remind me of some scalp infection!)

Our Heritage Of Faith

"TIME IS MONEY! Don't spend it on bargaining!" Were the words I read on the wall of a store where I had gone to buy an item last week.

After a "take it or leave it" look I saw on the seller's face I left wondering whether sayings such as these are now used to exploit people?

How many times have you heard somebody say: "Just a minute, please!" Only to appear after seven minutes without a sense of apology.

Last Saturday I attended a function which was to have started at 10 a.m. but instead it began thirteen minutes to 11 a.m.

On enquiring why we could not begin at the time indicated on our invitation cards, one of the organisers told me courageously: "Oh you see, we meant 'African time'".

Time is a critical element of stewardship, indeed a valuable quantity not to be treated lightly, thus the question which comforts all of those alive is not how much time we have left but how are we using the time allotted to us.

Diana Queenan said of chronic time-wasters that they should honestly answer the following questions:

"When you arrive at work, do you usually get down to business about a half-hour behind the expected time? Do you allow your coffee or tea breaks to extend beyond the allotted time?"

"Is a one-hour lunch insufficient for you? Do you receive many personal calls at work that you manage to extend beyond what might be considered an acceptable time limit in which to handle private matters?"

While we should face each day with the realization that this could be the last day of our lives, we should also be challenged by the knowledge that this is also the "first day of the rest of our lives".

Although there is the possibility of the routine process of living being cancelled at any moment, there is also the possibility of achievements yet to come. We need to be wide awake and alert to the possibilities before us.

The Owner and Master of time said: "I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work" (John 9:4).

"Redeeming the time, because the days are evil" (Ephesians 5:16).

There was a man who thought he had plenty of time just like you may also be thinking so he spoke with himself:

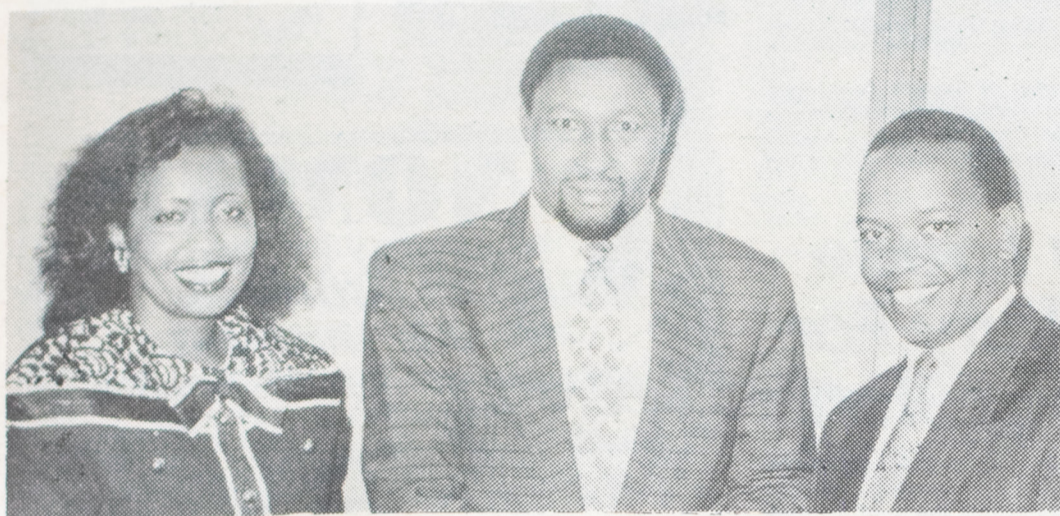

"I will say to my soul, soul thou hast much goods laid up for many years take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. But God said unto him, 'Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?'" (Luke 12: 19-20).

Did you know the time you have is called "today" use it wisely! Stop wasting God's time, yours, and other peoples!

"Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." 2 Corinthians 6:2 last part.

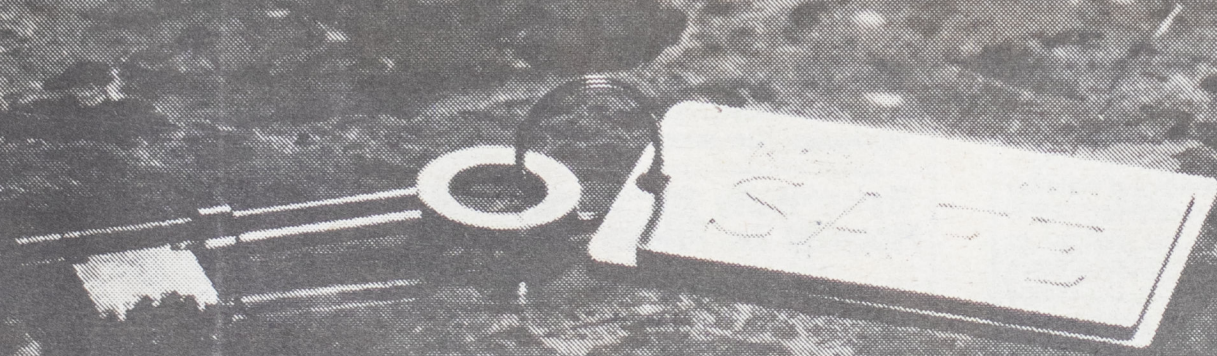

This salvation is found in Jesus Christ not in rituals or culture, not in religion but relationship. No timeouts.

Mombasas "High Society" bei der Eröffnung der Mamba Village Diskothek

ACHTHUNDERT Gäste aus der "High Society" Mombasas, darunter Vertreter von Reiseveranstaltern, Hoteliers und Geschäftsleute, wurden zu der Eröffnungsparty der neuen Mamba Diskothek eingeladen. Obwohl wegen der Unruhen am späten Nachmittag in Mombasa viele Läden vorzeitig schlossen und die Straßen in der Stadt abends leer waren, erschienen die meisten geladenen Gäste an der Party. Sie fühlten sich offenbar sicher zwanzig Meter unter der Erde in einem ehemaligen Steinbruch, der früher mit Busch und Abfällen gefüllt war und nach gründlicher Reinigung in eine riesige Diskothek umgewandelt wurde, wo Sitzplätze für 2000 Personen für Großveranstaltungen vorhanden sind.

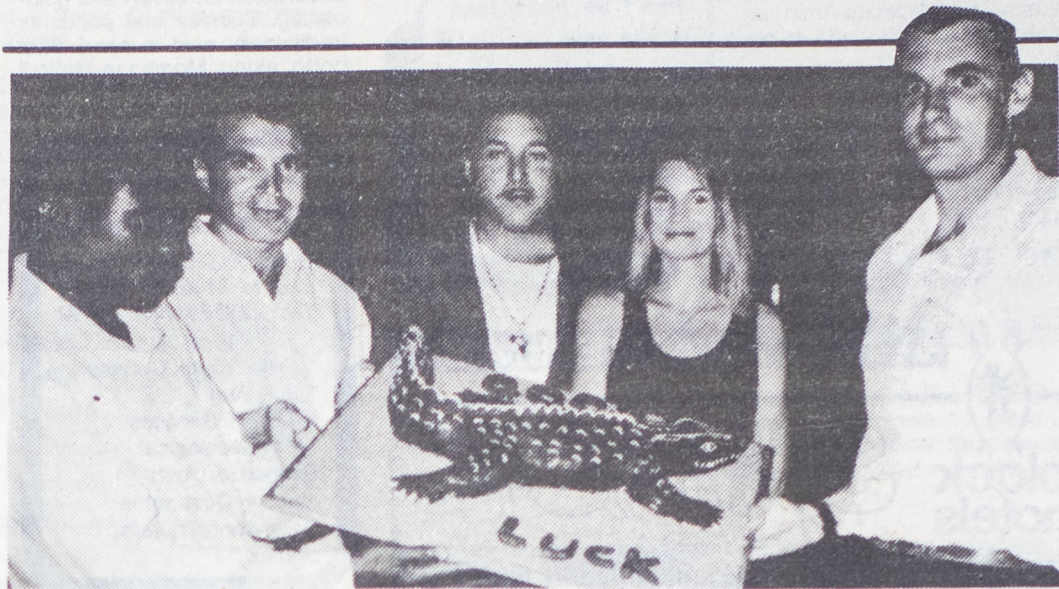

Eröffnungsparty zu ihrer Überraschung ein volles Dinner offeriert (die Mamba Disco hat eine eigene Küche) - ein afrikanisches Buffet, einschließlich Hähnchen, ZU DER ERÖFFNUNGSPARTY der Mamba Diskothek brachte Yul Wenger, Managing Director von Aquadrom Limited und Yul's Beach Restaurant in Bamburi (3.v.l.), einen Schokoladenkuchen in der Form eines Krokodils, den er Herrn Zilber, Managing Director der Kenya Crocodile Farm Limited (2.v.l.) mit den besten Wünschen überreichte. Rechts ist Yuval Regev, Farm Manager, Mamba Village.

Die neue Diskothek gehört der Kenya Crocodile Farm (Mamba Village), die 1985 eröffnet wurde mit 200 Krokodilen und heute auf ihrem Gelände 12.000 Panzer-echsen zählt.

Die Wände der Diskothek, die nur gereinigt und sonst im Naturzustand belassen wurden, sind jetzt beleuchtet. Am hellsten ist es in der Long Bar mit Ausblick auf die Tanzfläche, die groß genug ist, daß jederzeit 200 Personen tanzen können. Von der Bar aus überblickt man auch die Bühne mit ihrem natürlichen Hintergrund, den diskret beleuchteten Felswänden.

Riesige Makutidächer ziehen sich über den größten Teil der Diskothek. Nur eine kleine Fläche ist offen geblieben, damit die romantischeren Gäste direkt in den Himmel sehen können.

Im Steinbruch ist es sehr kühl, so daß sich eine Klimaanlage oder Ventilatoren erübrigen.

Die Akustik ist hervorragend. Aus dem Felsen wurde ein Stück herausgehauen, um Platz für Disc-Jockey "Danny" und seine Apparate zu schaffen. Er war seit 1978 D.J. in Strandhotels und ist seit 1985 mit seiner neuen Ausrüstung im Mamba Village.

Er weiß genau, welche Musik die Gäste hören wollen und kann sie ihnen auch bieten, wodurch die Beliebtheit der Mamba Disco wie ein Pfeil in die Höhe schoß. Vor einigen Monaten kamen eines Abends mehr als 1200 Gäste. Um dem ständig wachsenden Zustrom Rechnung zu tragen, wurde ein größerer Raum benötigt.

"Als wir uns nach einem geeigneten Platz umsahen, entdeckten wir den Steinbruch gleich nebenan, der seit 1950 stillgelegt ist und als Müllkippe benutzt wurde," sagte Ariel Zilber, Managing Director der Kenya Crocodile Farm.

Den Gästen wurde an der

Rind- und Krokodilfleisch vom Holzkohलगrill.

Nach dem Essen folgte die "Steve Hannington Show" mit den sexy Sängerinnen Carol und Emily und der African Sunset Band. Später lud Herr Zilber die Gäste ein, bis zum Morgen zu tanzen. Einige machten von dem Angebot gerne Gebrauch.

Unter den Gästen war Yul Wenger, Managing Director von Aquadrom Limited und Yul's Beach Restaurant in Bamburi. Er brachte einen großen Schokoladenkuchen in der Form eines Krokodils Getränke billiger haben als in jeder anderen Disco in der Stadt (Tuskar Export Shs 18/-). Nach 21 Uhr kostet der Eintritt Shs 50/-.

"Ladies Night" mit Discemusik und Show ist freitags von 20 Uhr bis 5 Uhr früh. Damen bezahlen keinen Eintritt.

Samstags ist "Rock Night" mit Discumusik von Disc-Jockey Danny von 20 Uhr bis 5 Uhr früh. Ebenfalls mit Showeinlagen.

Gäste, die im Mamba Restaurant nebenan gegessen haben, erhalten freien Eintritt in die Disco.

Später sollen auch Bands und große Shows von auswärts engagiert werden. Snacks sind an allen Disco-Abenden erhältlich.

Der Sonntag gehört der Familie. Die Eltern können zusammen mit den Kindern das afrikanische Buffet genießen. Dazu gibt es Musik von D.J. Danny und Shows für die Kinder mit Clown und Zauberer. Geöffnet von 12 Uhr mittags bis um Mitternacht. Ein Kinderspielplatz ist geplant.

Herr Zilber gab den Gästen bekannt, daß er nach 5 1/2 Jahren Tätigkeit im Mamba Village aus familiären Gründen Kenia verlassen wird. Er stellte den neuen Managing Director vor, der seinen Posten am 1. Juli übernimmt. Yuval Regev, Farm Manager, begann seine Arbeit für das Mamba Village am Tanafuß, wo er Krokodile fängt und Krokodileier sammelt.

"Er hat dort viele Abenteuer sagte Herr Zilber. Die Gäste zeigten ihre Anerkennung durch tosenden Beifall.

Das Mamba Village ist die größte Krokodilfarm in Afrika. In erhöhter Lage bietet das Restaurant einen herrlichen Ausblick über die Krokodilteiche (nachts beleuchtet) und offeriert Wild- und Krokodilfleisch, Meeresfrüchte und Grillspezialitäten.

Eine weitere Attraktion im Mamba Village ist der botanische Garten und das Aquarium mit 20 Schaukästen, wo viele tropische Fische und Korallen ausgestellt sind. Auch sie sind einen Besuch wert.

In der Reitschule kann man am besten morgens oder am Nachmittag reiten. Es gibt auch Lektionen für Anfänger. Ein Ritt am Strand entlang ist eine beliebte Freizeitbeschäftigung für Touristen. Die zwei Kamele werden oft und gerne fotografiert in der simulierten Wüstenlandschaft im Mamba Village.

"MAMBA DISCO"

Sehr zufrieden mit der neuen Mamba Diskothek sind die Leute, die in der Nachbarschaft wohnen. Sie beklagten sich oft über den Lärm aus der früheren Disco. Im Steinbruch in der neuen Disco kann man die Musik auch bei voller Lautstärke draußen nicht hören. Es sind auch keine weiteren Reklamationen mehr eingegangen.

DER RUBIN - DER KÖNIG ALLER EDELSTEINE

EDELSTEINE, diese faszinierenden, außergewöhnlichen Produkte der Natur, werden wegen ihrer Schönheit und Wertbeständigkeit seit Jahrtausenden auf der ganzen Welt sehr geschätzt. Gemstones Lapidary Limited hat uns den nachfolgenden Artikel über den Rubin, den Glückstein für den Monat Juli, für unsere Leser zur Verfügung gestellt.

Die Sanskrit-Bezeichnung "Ratnaradsch" für Rubin bedeutet "König aller Edelsteine". Zu den Korundkristallen gehörend, ist der Rubin nach dem Diamanten das härteste bekannte Mineral mit einem Härtegrad von 9 auf der Mohs-Skala (Diamant 10). Der Rubin ist deshalb bestens als Schmuckstein geeignet.

Korundkristalle sind hexagonal, eine Mischung aus kristallisiertem Gas, Sauerstoff, Leichtmetall und Aluminiumoxid. Die rötliche Ein 18karätiger Goldring mit Cabochon Rubin.

Farbe des Rubins wird durch Spuren von Chrom- und Eisenverbindungen hervorgerufen. Rubine gibt es in vielen Schattierungen, von orangerot bis purpur, hell-, mittel- und dunkelrot, von kräftig leuchtender Farbe. Alle anderfarbigen Korundkristalle gelten als Saphire.

Die bedeutendsten Vorkommen der edelsten Rubine befinden sich in der Gegend von Mogok in Oberbirma. Auf dem afrikanischen Kontinent entdeckte der Geologe John Saul sehr gute Rubine im Tsavo-Nationalpark in Kenia sowie im Umbatal in Tansania, deren Qualität sich mit den hellroten Rubinen aus Birma vergleichen läßt. In Tansania werden Cabochon Rubine von bester Qualität hergestellt, die bei Morogoro und Longido abgebaut werden.

Bei Gemstones Lapidary Limited haben Sie Gelegenheit, feine geschliffene afrikanische Edelsteine zu kaufen - Tanzanite, Tsavorite, Saphire, Topase, Turmaline, Amethyste, Granate, Rubine usw. - gefaßt und ungefaßt. Die meisten Ringe können innerhalb von 30 Minuten angepaßt werden. Es ist auch interessant zu wissen, daß Sie Ihren Edelstein aussuchen und nach Ihren eigenen Ideen in 18 Karat Gold fassen lassen können. Die Echtheit aller dort gekauften Edelsteine wird durch ein Zertifikat garantiert.

THAILAND
 Gemstones Lapidary Limited exportiert rohe und geschliffene Edelsteine nach Deutschland, Thailand, Indien und USA. Besuchen Sie dieses Juwelieregeschäft in der Moi Avenue im Stadtzentrum, wenn Sie das nächste Mal in Mombasa sind, und lassen Sie sich die Welt der Edelsteine von den Experten zeigen und erklären.

Barclays Bank Win Driftwood Rugby Festival

LAST SATURDAY JUNE 27 was indeed a momentous day for Coast rugby with the very successful hosting of the TNT Driftwood 92 Sevens festival, writes Kimani Mbugua.

Over 700 enthusiastic rugby spectators were treated to an exciting day of rugby action by the complete galaxy of rugby stars.

To grace the occasion were none other than the Kenya Rugby Football Union (KRFU) Chairman Mr. Dennis Awori, the TNT General Manager Mr. Henry Kubo, and the MSC chairman

Mr. Parminder Singh among other prominent personalities.

A total of 14 teams took part. Barclays Bank RFC retained the trophy after beating KCB 24-16 in the finals.

Local MSC, despite gallant efforts, found the going too tough for comfort and were bundled out at the semi-finals by KCB.

The bankers were a better organised and drilled side and deserved the win at 24-0.

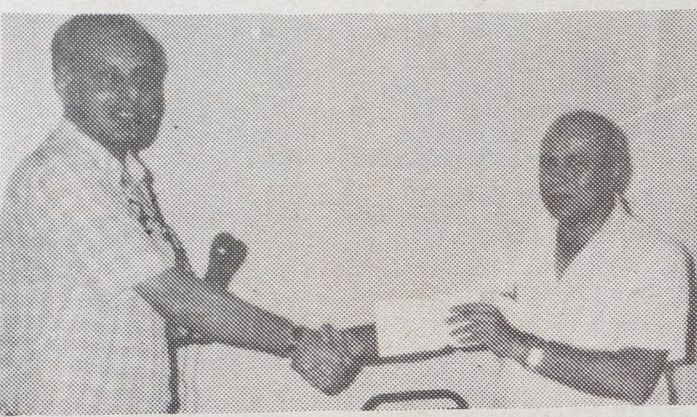

Kisumu (Kondele) RFC were commended for being the team that travelled the farthest distance.

M.S.C. Cricket Team Get Home With Five Wickets To Spare ...

ON SATURDAY MOMBASA Sports Club played against Coast Gymkhana who won the toss and scored 145 runs. The main scorers were Sandeep (47), Jayesh (21), Mohamed (16). At one time it looked like CG would get about 175.

Sandeep and Harish were aggressive especially with their middle order after Shakeel and Jeff had both bowled very good spells. MSC in reply lost three quick wickets but the Captain Huzefa (50) and newcomer Al-Karim (42) saw MSC home with five wickets to spare.

(11) Mehboob (16) Jasmer (16) all got into double figures but never settled down to play a big innings. MSC were all out for 184 in 46 overs.

Kutub (19/3) Mustan (45/2) Ali Dar (12/2) bowled well but Shiraz (33/1) was the most economical and dangerous. HKSC chasing 184 runs in fifty overs were never struggling although Shakeel and Jeff were always tidy and aggressive.

Shiraz scored the first century (eight sixes and fours) of the season and HKSC never looked like losing the game.

On Sunday the weather was different so was the result when MSC met Hatim Karimjee Sports Club. This was the first fifty over game at the Coast seen this season and it was played in a very good atmosphere and was very entertaining.

HKSC put MSC into bat when the wicket fell at 40 runs when opener Jeff was bowled.

Shakeel (2) was bowled off his elbow. Hamza Jiwaji (25) Jayesh (27) Upendra (28) Aziz (19) Huzeifa
