"What a day, excellent company, fantastic food and the most superb snorkelling and diving. This must be one of the most beautiful parts of the world. I hope we can make here it again."
...P. Coope, Bristol

The Dhow - 'Pilli-Pipa'

The tour is run and hosted by Bruce and Pipa Trzebinski. The exclusive full day excursion provides a fascinating guided underwater safari to the famous Kisite Marine National Park. The park together with the surrounding islands and the extensive reef system are the home to crystal clear waters which ensure an exciting variety of coral life and an abundance of vibrantly coloured tropical fish. This is followed by the exhilarating experience of a Dhow under sail and a 5-course seafood lunch. The al-fresco luncheon is served with wine, within the grounds of a private property, on spoilt Wasini Island. Numbers are limited, to not only maintain the personal nature of this excursion but also to minimize the impact on Kisite's fragile marine environment.

Martial Arts Thriller At The "Lotus" Cinema

MISSION OF JUSTICE, is now showing at Lotus Cinema. It is a Martial Arts movie about an expert called Kurt Harris, the only cop who can win back control of the streets. Mission of Justice's special message is: The war has begun.

The time is now....the place is Eastgate where crimes has gained the upper hand. Kurt Harris (Jeff Wincott) and his partner Lynn Steel (Karen Sheperd) are two elite cops fighting the battle against the forces of lawlessness.

The justice system's revolving door has taken its toll on Kurt who wonders if there isn't a better way to confront urban decay and hopelessness.

Kurt and Lynn are called to a liquor store being held up by three metalheads.

Kurt disguises himself as a delivery man and, with Lynn's help, knocks out two of the metalheads.

Meanwhile, the third one escapes with the loot down the street.

Kurt flies out, rounds a corner in hot pursuit and slams into the surprise of his life.

Jimmie has the metalhead pinned to the ground.

Kurt, bewildered, flashes his badge.

To this, Jimmie raises his fist.

It is adorned with a Peacemaker ring which marks him as a disciple from the Mission of Justice.

The liquor store owner runs up to shake Jimmie's hand as a crowd gathers to congratulate their hero.

Doctor Rachel K. Larkin (Brigitte Nielsen), the cunning and charismatic leader of the Mission of Justice, uses this opportunity to gain more publicity in her run for mayor.

Gloating in front of the cameras, Larkin reaffirms her Mission's goal of cleaning up the streets using her army of Peacemakers, each an expert in martial arts.

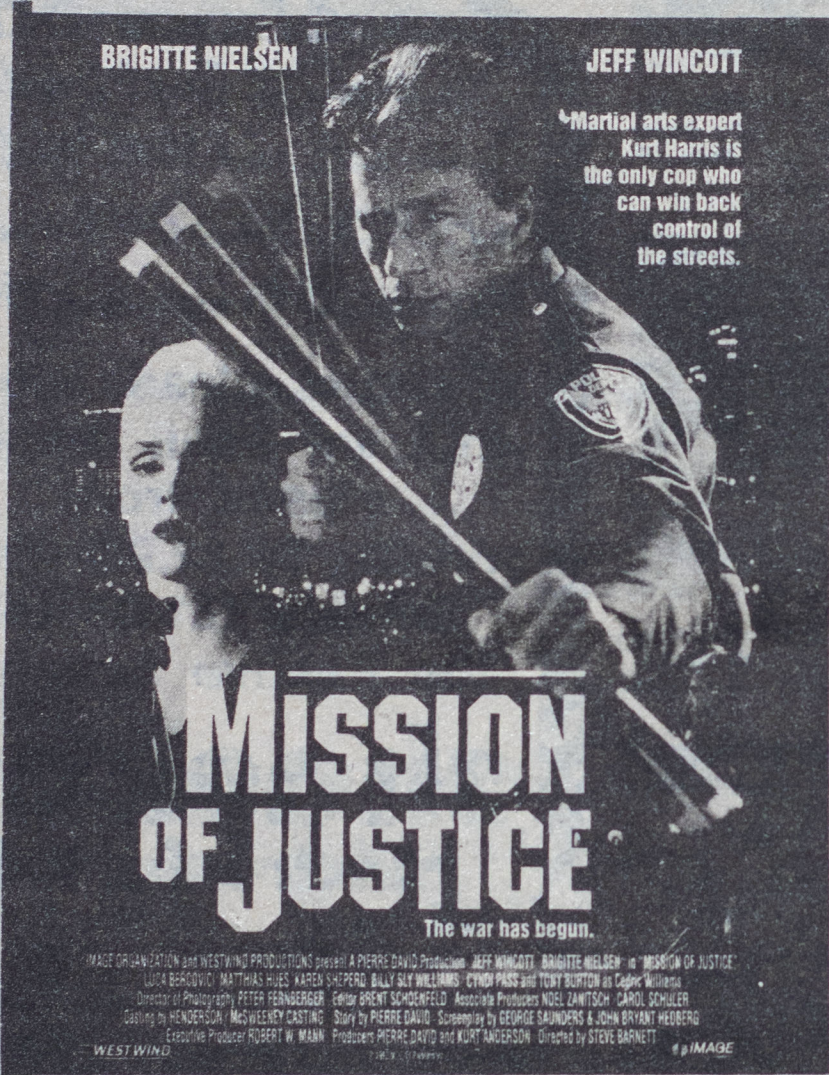

After all, Dr. Larkin maintains, the city is fraught with crime so pervasive that the police can't control it.

Heritage Of Faith

CHRISTMAS IS Communication! Joyce L. Gibson says "Christmas is a time of warm greetings, soft lights, and joyful music, it is a time of whispered secrets, delightful surprises, and thoughtful gifts. But Christmas may also be a time of deep loneliness and bitter awareness."

"God, how can we rejoice in your Son's birthday when we don't have anything at all?" Mr. Wiley spoke loudly, with a note of despair in his voice.

The sound of his own words caused a pang of conscience to strike him. Don't have anything at all?

He mused over the harshness of his words.

"O God, I'm sorry for being so unappreciative!" Mr. Wiley confessed.

"At least we are together as family. There is no sickness in our home. I do have a job, even if it doesn't pay much. We do know you and your only Son Jesus Christ. Help us share what we have."

How true for God indeed has to forgive some of us for our short-sightedness and help us see what Christmas is all about.

Faced with today's circumstances, it is easy to feel up against the wall, and become scared yet Christmas is a time God spoke out a message of hope:

"But in the last of these days God has spoken to us in the person of a Son, whom He appointed heir and lawful owner of all things, and also by and through whom He created the worlds, and the reaches of space and the ages of time - that is, He made, produced, built, operated and arranged them in order." (Heb. 1:2).

God controls the unforeseen, and provides a way for those who seem to listen to what He is saying! God through Isaiah (9:6) said His name will be wonderful counselor - Jesus indeed understands our problems, and the choices we must make.

The Mighty God speaks to us of His power.

The everlasting Father pictures for us a loving Father who never changes, and the Prince of Peace shows us a peaceful Ruler, what a welcome thought in a world of turmoil and tears.

Yes, Christmas is communication, God chose to speak to whoever will listen to Him.

Jesus made His Royal appearance in Bethlehem, a town floundering in the sea of insignificance, only five miles away loomed Jerusalem, the city of kings and prestige, but the Creator chose a small, unimportant place of birth!

Dear reader, you may be struggling with inferiority because of your background or status in life, but God gives you hope for Jesus has come to tell you that He loves you!

"Behold, the Virgin shall become pregnant and give birth to a Son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which when translated means God with us." (Mat. 1:23).

Rev. Nicodemus Waka Omumbwa, Changamwe Christian Centre, MOMBASA.

CELEBRATING AT THE NYALI BEACH HOTEL

A LOT OF money is being spent to bring Nyali Beach Hotel back to being the focal point as far as the Kenya coast is concerned' declared Block Hotels Financial Director, Ray Dunnett, when addressing around 500 clients, suppliers and Nyali residents at its Christmas Cocktail Party on the festively adorned Pool Terrace with lots of tasty hot and cold 'bitings' as well as drink.

Continuing he mentioned that the hotel's General Manager, John Mutua, had this year been presented by the parent company BET with an award from its Chief Executive, John Clark.

It was in recognition of the outstanding contribution Mr. Mutua had made to the development of BET's reputation for excellence through his commitment to raising standards through service.

BET covers 120 companies in the world and this was one of the few Chief Executives awards.

Mr. Dunnett told guests 'I think we should appreciate that it is Mr. Mutua who controls and motivates his team to give guests what they wish for at this hotel'. Adding, amid applause 'thank you, John'.

In response Mr. Mutua thanked everyone for their support.

He noted that 1992 had been a very difficult year and that if it had not been for their support the hotel would not have achieved the results it had.

Entertaining was the Nutronics band, as well as a very 'mod' and spectacular show by 'A Collection of Stars', also an Arabian number by 'Bad Company'.

VOTE FOR STABILITY IN KENYA.

VOTE FOR

PRESIDENT MOI

A MAN OF STRENGTH IN LEADERSHIP.

Throughout our transition to multiparty politics, Kenya needs the stability that only strong and steady leadership can deliver.

Now more than ever, Kenya needs the strength of leadership that President Moi has shown over so many years in maintaining stability, because without stability in Kenya, there can be no progress.

Now is not the time to experiment with untried people whose motive for being Presidential candidates is clearly only a desire for the power of the presidency and little else.

President Moi is the only Presidential candidate who has a proven record in protecting wananchi and has the strength of character to continue doing so.

His great leadership abilities comes from a strong body and an active mind. Every day he works from before daybreak until late at night. He travels to every corner of Kenya to meet with fellow Kenyans.

He takes no alcohol and stays fit in mind and body. And when he is not attending to the affairs of State, he does not spend his Sundays playing golf at an expensive club, instead he joins worshippers in prayer at church.

Nobody can doubt that he is the only Presidential candidate with the strength of body and strength of character required to do the demanding job of being President of Kenya.

So, on 29 December, vote for the only person who has already proved his strength of character and leadership ability — President Moi.

Vote for strong and trusted leadership and continued stability.

Vote for President Moi.

DIE ENTWICKLUNG DER FREMDENINDUSTRIE HÄNGT VOM ÖKOTOURISMUS AB

AUS DEM WELTWEIT ständig wachsenden Verantwortungsbewusstsein gegenüber der Umwelt - Flora, Fauna, Wasser und Luft - ist der Ökotourismus entstanden, was sich bereits fühlbar auswirkt auf die weitere Entwicklung der Ferienländer, Kurorte und Hotels, je nachdem, ob sie als umweltfreundlich eingestuft werden oder nicht.

1991 erhielten 950 Strände und 196 Yachthäfen in Europa die blaue Fahne als Symbol einer sauberen und gesunden Umwelt.

In Deutschland wurde in einigen Schulen Umwelt als Schulfach eingeführt mit mehreren Unterrichtsstunden pro Woche. Einige führende Reiseveranstalter haben eine Umweltschutzabteilung eingerichtet.

Deutschland, aus welchem Land das größte Touristenkontingent nach Kenia kommt, ist sehr umweltbewußt. Vor den wichtigsten Urlaubszeiten werden Karten herausgegeben, auf denen die umweltfreundlichen Ferienländer und Orte eingetragen sind.

Einer der größten Verfechter des Ökotourismus an der kenianischen Küste ist Andre Janssens, Resident Manager von Neckermann - einer der führenden Reiseveranstalter in Deutschland. Er ist gleichzeitig der Vorsitzende des Unterausschusses für Reiseveranstalter aus Übersee der Mombasa and Coast Tourist Association (MACTA).

Er war einer der beiden Vertreter von MACTA, die zu Afrikas erstem Seminar über Ökotourismus im Lake Nakuru Nationalpark delegiert wurden. Die Teilnehmer kamen aus verschiedenen Interessengruppen, aus dem privaten und öffentlichen Sektor, darunter Akademiker, Naturschützer und Entscheidungsträger aus Kenia, Tansania, Burundi, Mauritius, Deutschland, Holland, USA und Großbritannien.

Das Seminar in Nakuru endete mit der Gründung der Kenya Ecotourism Society (KES) als Mitglied des internationalen Verbandes.

Da 60 Prozent der Touristen in Kenia ihren Urlaub an der Küste verbringen, wurde Ende Oktober eine Sonderkonferenz in der Severin Sea Lodge abgehalten unter dem Vorsitz des Präsidenten von MACTA, Mr. Zul Harunani. Die Konferenz wurde offiziell eröffnet vom Minister für Tourismus und Wildleben, Mr. Noah Katana Ngala.

Unter den lokalen Rednern waren Karl Heinz Strauss, Vorsitzender von KATO (Verband der Kenianischen Reiseveranstalter), Sektion Küste; Beat Koch, Vizepräsident von KAHC (Verband der Kenianischen Hoteliers und Restaurateure), Sektion Küste; und Andre Janssens, Resident Manager von Neckermann in Kenia.

Herr Janssens betrachtet diesen Schritt zum Ökotourismus als ein Mittel, um den Rückgang des Tourismus in Kenia aufzuhalten. Kenia braucht dringend ein neues Image, und Ökotourismus könnte als ein weiteres Qualitätszeichen zu den bereits bestehenden Touristenattraktionen hinzugefügt werden. "Warum kann die kenianische Küste nicht als erste in Afrika eine blaue Fahne als Symbol einer sauberen und gesunden Umwelt erringen?" fragte Herr Janssens.

KES könnte auch offiziell grüne

Zertifikate oder Fahnen herausgeben, um Hotels und Reiseveranstalter zu veranlassen, umweltfreundlicher zu handeln.

Die Regierung könnte ihren Beitrag daran leisten, indem sie den Hoteliers bei der Errichtung von Abwasser- und Kläranlagen sowie anderen damit verbundenen Einrichtungen Steuererleichterungen gewährt.

Spezialbericht von NEIA PEAL

Bezüglich Hygiene, worüber einige Touristen und Reiseveranstalter ihre Bedenken äußerten, erwähnte Herr Janssens, daß Thomson UK, der größte Reiseveranstalter der Welt, einen Video-Trainingsfilm, für Hotelangestellte über dieses Thema herausgegeben hat, der bei der Thomson Vertretung in Mombasa erhältlich ist.

Herr Janssens wies ferner auf eine internationale Kampagne hin "Haltet die Städte sauber!" und fragte: "Warum nicht Mombasa?"

Herr Karl Heinz Strauss, Managing Director von Pollman's Tours and Safaris sprach über KATOs Verpflichtung, heute die Umwelt zu schützen und den Ökotourismus zu unterstützen, um die Natur für morgen zu erhalten.

Er bemerkte unter anderem, daß die Chauffeure von Safariunternehmen mehr Zeit als alle anderen mit den Touristen verbringen und Botschafter für Ökotourismus sein könnten. Eigentlich hätten zu dieser Konferenz auch Chauffeure eingeladen werden sollen. Er sprach über das Benehmen von Chauffeuren in Wildparks, daß die wilden Tiere nicht mit dem Fahrzeug gejagt und die Raubtiere beim Jagen nicht gestört werden sollten.

Große Ansammlungen von Fahrzeugen in den Nationalparks sollten vermieden werden. Die Autos sollten die Wege nicht verlassen und Abfälle nur an speziell dafür vorgesehenen Plätzen zurückgelassen werden, da speziell Plastiksäcke eine Gefahr für die wilden Tiere bedeuten.

An der Wand des Konferenzsaales in der Severin Sea Lodge war ein großes "Verpflichtungsblatt" aufgehängt, das die Reiseveranstalter gemäß Aufforderung von Herrn Strauss unterschreiben sollten als Zeichen, daß sie den Ökotourismus ernsthaft unterstützen wollen. Viele kamen dieser Aufforderung nach.

AKTIONSPLAN

David Thomson, Vorsitzender des Unterausschusses für Umweltfragen von KAHC, Küste, erläuterte einen Aktionsplan, der von allen Mitglieder-Hotels ausgeführt werden sollte, nämlich: Ein Energiesparprogramm; keine gefährlichen und giftigen Gase und Chemikalien verwenden, die die Atmosphäre verpesten; Hotelgäste und Angestellte darauf aufmerksam machen, weniger Abfälle zu produzieren und diese umweltfreundlich zu beseitigen.

Ein langer detaillierter Aktionsplan war an der Wand aufgehängt und wurde von vielen Konferenzteilnehmern als Zeichen ihrer Zustimmung unterschrieben.

Der Deputy Provincial Commissioner, Mr. Michael Kamau, dankte dem Tourismusminister für die gute Arbeit, die er geleistet hatte, sowie den anderen Rednern, die den Ökotourismus von allen Seiten beleuchtet und erläuterten. Er schlug überdies vor, daß bei der Erteilung von Lizenzen, Restaurant- und anderen Lizenzen diese zurückgehalten werden könnten, bis die Antragsteller umweltfreundliche Maßnahmen ergriffen haben.

SOPHIA LOREN IN MOMBASA

DIE FILMSCHAUSPIELERIN Sophia Loren war während ihrer Goodwillreise als Botschafterin der UN Flüchtlingskommission Ende November auf einem kurzen Besuch in Mombasa, bevor sie zusammen mit 35 Mitgliedern des internationalen Pressekorps und Vertretern von UNHCR nach Somalia flog, um vermehrte Aufmerksamkeit der Welt auf die notleidende Bevölkerung in diesem Land zu ziehen. Joseph Ravasio, General Manager, International Casino und La Terrazza Restaurant, wünschte Sophia Loren viel Erfolg bei ihrer Mission.

Deutsche Reisefachleute im Le Gourmet Restaurant eingeladen

IM LE GOURMET Restaurant, das auf französische Küche spezialisiert ist, wurde vom Diani Reef Grand Hotel ein Galadiner organisiert für die Vertreter deutscher Reisebüros, die von Jahn Reisen und African Tours and Hotels (A.T. and H.) auf Informationstour durch Kenia eingeladen waren.

"Sundowner"

Vor dem Abendessen gab es einen "Sundowner" in der wunderschönen Präsidentensuite des Hotels mit herrlichem Ausblick auf den beleuchteten weißen Sandstrand und den Indischen Ozean.

Dies war die dritte Gruppe, die von Jahn Reisen und A.T. and H. im Rahmen einer Werbekampagne für Keniareisen hierher gebracht wurde. Die Reisefachleute wurden auch auf Safari geführt durch Tsavo Ost und West mit Übernachtung in der Kilaguni Lodge.

Die Gruppe wurde angeführt von Joe Küter, Manager, Sales Promotion, vom Jahn Reisen Hauptbüro in München, der bekanntgab, daß die Buchungen in dieser Sommersaison mehr oder weniger gleich waren wie im Vorjahr. Dieses Ergebnis konnte allerdings nur durch Sonderangebote erzielt werden.

Jahn Reisen ist eine

Tochtergesellschaft von LTU, der größten Charterfluggesellschaft in Deutschland, die auch einen großen Reisekonzern besitzt.

Nyali Open Hat Trick For John Muchero

THE TWENTY-THIRD Nyali Open Championships took place at Nyali Golf and Country Club on December 19 and 20 and had a good entry of 81 players including eight from Moshi and Forty two from up country, writes Followthru.

DHL World-wide Express were the generous sponsors of the premier event of the Nyali calendar which is also the penultimate Kenya Golf Union fixture of the golfing year which now runs from one Kenya Open to the next.

Conditions for the competition were very good, although it was extremely hot on both days with little wind to cool the temperature.

The course was playing very well with the general comment that the greens were good while still remaining slow.

The draw on Saturday was seeded according to handicap (the limit being twelve) and leading the field after the first day's play were defending champion John Muchero, past winner David Wandua and a newcomer to Nyali, Richard Brown from Karen, all three having scored 72 gross.

One shot behind was ex-Nyali player Jacob Okello now Windsor Golf Club and closely followed by local player Peter Jamieson on 74 together with Hardeep Thethy and Jimmy Kingori.

Four times winner Ben Okello was on 75 with Windsor's David Farrar.

The Nett competition was lead by Richard Brown with an excellent 68 and four players tied on nett 70, John Muchero, Peter Jamieson, S. Nazareth and David Wandua.

KGU Chairman Tim Noad was one shot behind on nett 71.

Mombasa player John Onyango was among a group of five on nett 72.

Saturday's gross scores determined the draw for Sunday morning.

After the 1991 Nyali Open John Muchero and Ben Okello had both won the event four times and as reported in this column twelve months ago the 1992 event promised to be a battle between these two veterans.

It was Ben's son Jacob, however, who laid down the challenge completing 33 holes in just two over par and looking all set for victory.

A badly sliced drive at the 34th hole and poor putting cost him a double bogey but he recovered immediately with a fine birdie at the 35th.

His drive on the last hole was good but strong, finishing at the top of the sloping 18th green and with the pin placed very near the front.

Sadly he three putted to lose another shot and finished at four over par on 146.

Already in the clubhouse, Ben had played a near perfect second round of level par 71 for the same total of 146 and so was ahead of Jacob on countback.

All eyes were now on the last group on the course.

John Muchero had also had a problem on the 34th, three putted to put him at five over par and needing a miracle - two birdies for victory.

The seventeenth hole at Nyali is not a difficult birdie hole and this he achieved with no trouble.

John's final tee shot was excellent, always on target and stopping some fifteen feet below the pin.

His putt was firm and sure - a wonderful two and victory for the third year in succession.

Many congratulations John, and well played Ben and Jacob.

Nyali player Peter Jamieson, four handicap, played two excellent rounds of nett 70 and 71 to win the handicap competition.

He was one stroke ahead of David Farrar, three handicap, on 142 (72/70).

In third place was Jatinder Thethy of Royal Nairobi Golf Club on 143 (72/71) who counted out Richard Brown (68/75).

The Best 18 holes gross on Saturday was won by David Wandua with 72 and Richard Evans of Karen had 75 to take Sunday's prize counting out Jimmy Kingori, Stuart Cohan and Peter Jamieson.

The best nett score of the weekend came from Richard Brown and he won Saturday's prize with 68 and another veteran golfer Duncan Ndegwa of Nyali took the Sunday best nett on 70.

The Inter-Club Challenge Trophy (two best aggregate nett scores) was won convincingly for the first time by Windsor Golf Club represented by David Farrar and Jacob Okello with a total of 286.

Runners up were Karen Country Club players Richard Brown and Richard Evans on 291.

Royal Nairobi Golf Club took the third prize with cousins Charan and Jatinder Thethy having a total of 293, and last but not least in fourth place were Nyali Golf and Country Club represented by Peter Jamieson and Clive Pett on 294.

They counted out David Wandua and N. Kibuku from Sigona.

The Nyali Golf Captain Akram Sheikh welcomed Mr. Tim Noad the Kenya Golf Union Chairman and Mr. Chris Kirubi Chairman of DHL.

Akram thanked DHL for their most generous sponsorship which included the lovely prizes and tea on Saturday and a delicious buffet lunch on Sunday at "IlDuetto" restaurant.

He thanked all the golfers who had travelled from up-country to support the competition and he had special thanks for all the helpers at the weekend and in the weeks preceding the event.

They had all contributed to a very successful Open.

Mr. Chris Kirubi, Chairman of DHL said his company was very happy to be associated with the

He said the KGU fully supported the Nyali proposal to improve the irrigation system and this followed the KGU policy of the pursuit of excellence for all golf courses in Kenya.

Headed that it would no doubt be of benefit to the whole local community as after spending large amounts on fairway watering, prolonged and continuous rains were guaranteed (known as Murphy's law at Karen!)

Mr. Noad congratulated the winners and especially John Muchero on his fine achievement and said it had proved to be one of the most exciting finishes to the Nyali Open.

He apologised that the Nyali

Africa.

Mrs. Patricia Mbata, Manager of DHL Mombasa assisted by Jane Babsa the Marketing Manager gave out the prizes to the Inter-Club winners and Chris Kirubi presented the champion John Muchero with the trophy and the lovely prizes to all the other winners.

John Muchero speaking on behalf of all the competitors thanked DHL for sponsoring the event and said how much golfers need sponsorship.

He said every form of sponsorship was much appreciated and he hoped DHL would return next year.

John said he was more excited than ever at having won the Nyali Open for the third successive year.

He was delighted to see so many young golfers playing so well and after three putted at the 34th hole and being two shots behind he thought that the winner would be a young player and that was acceptable.

As it turned out, after finishing with two birdies his rival was his age-mate Ben Okello and that would have put far more pressure on him had he known!

He thanked the greengroomer Fritz Sutter for preparing the course so well and the members for giving up their weekend's golf.

So concluded a most successful and enjoyable Nyali Open.

It is worth noting that due to the fine condition of the course and the favourable weather the scores were noticeably better than in the past few years.

John Muchero's winning score being eight strokes less than 1991 and four less than the year before.

On Thursday December 17 a "curtain raiser" event was played for all participants in the Nyali Open as well as Club members.

64 players took part and the winner with an unbeatable score of nett 66 was Pratik Patel (76 gross).

Runner up was Pratik's mother Kiran with a very good nett 68 and on the same score was Gail Chater who was third.

The best gross prize was won by Jacob Okello on 73.

Last Saturday the ladies played the December KLGU Medal at Mombasa Golf Club.

The Silver Division was won by Kiran Patel on nett 76 and the runner up was Vice Captain Jean Elms who counted out Saïda Samji.

Kiran had the Best Gross of 84.

The Bronze division winner was Kokila Patel on nett 74 and Anju Desai was the runner up on nett 77.

Koki also had the best gross of 98.

The best putter overall was Anju who had 29 putts.

The finals of the Ladies' Scratch Trophy was played at Mombasa Golf Club during last week.

Kiran Patel was the winner beating Catherine Ndegwa in a good match 2/1.

Nyali Open and to be given the opportunity to sponsor such a prestigious event.

He said "It is an honour and we feel proud to sponsor the Nyali Open and we hope all the golfers have enjoyed participating".

He congratulated John Muchero for achieving a hat trick of victories and he hoped very much that DHL would be back for the 1993 Open.

Mr. Tim Noad, Chairman of the Kenya Golf Union, thanked Nyali Golf and Country Club for their extremely warm welcome and congratulated the Captain on the organisation.

He had particular words of praise for the catering at Nyali of which he said "no Club in Kenya comes close to the standards of catering at Nyali".

There were many smiling ladies to be seen at this remark!!

Open was no longer the climax to the KGU year but it seemed sensible to run the Golfer of the Year from one Kenya Open to the next, thus, the winner would be announced after the Sigona Bowl in January.

Leading points after the Nyali Open are 1) Muchero 63.83 2) Jimmy Kingori 55.3 3) Jacob Okello 53.4 4) David Wandua 47.5 5) John Klondo 44 and 6) Kuku Awan 40.

Mr. Noad promised that the 1993 Kenya Open would be the best ever.

The prize money has been considerably raised and a good field was anticipated.

Christy O'Connor winner in 1969 would be playing as well as Tony Jacklin who has made a return to the European Tour.

There will also be two top ranking players from South

Going Local With A Trade Name Can Cause Problems In A Literal Sense

NAMING CARS should in principle be quite easy. Pick a theme or style, find a suitable word in a language and presto the car has a name. The reality is very different. It is becoming more and more difficult to find names or worse still neutral names.

Because cars now reach many parts of the world one has to be careful in choosing names.

I put my head on the block some time back and tried to hazard how Datsun became a name for a car.

For those who cannot remember, it was the Nissan project manager's reaction when he was told that the deadline for naming a new car was high.

His reaction? "Dat Soon?"

And so a name for a car was coined.

There have been some clangers which I would like to share.

We all know it as the Pajero in Kenya.

It is known by that name in a lot of other countries but not in the European countries or Spanish speaking countries.

The manufacturers had to find a new name when they found out that in Spanish the word pajero means "to masturbate".

They changed the name to Shogun but I wonder whether that name would stick in the Swahili speaking parts of Kenya.

I would not use it!

Vauxhall is another car that is rarely seen in Kenya but it also had a Spanish problem.

They produced a car and named it Nova but when it came to exporting it to Spain they discovered that the word meant "No Go" in Spanish.

It appeared there as the Corsa.

The race for names has now become a science with agencies now coming up that specialise in this job.

They have computers that store a large number of names that are "no go" in most countries.

They also store names that have already been registered by some manufacturers in various countries just in case they should need them for a future product.

It would be disappointing to say the least if a car was named for one country and on exporting to another place, the manufacturer found he could not use the name as it was already registered as a trademark by someone else.

When such large data bases tell the users that they cannot find a suitable name, the users often give the computer certain attributes that they wish to see.

The computers then generate names.

An example of this process is the Renault Safrane.

The image was a luxurious, exotic car.

The computer threw up saffron which was changed to the name now used since it was unlikely that anyone would want to ride in vehicle that would evoke spices.

Numbers are becoming the vogue as names are used up.

Peugeot, Mercedes and BMW have mainly used numbers for their models and do not seem to have had clangers.

Their formula seems simple enough.

Use always three numbers (504 or 190 or 323) and possibly extend for injection and so forth.

However, even such innocuous things like numbers and letters can present problems.

Toyota produced the MR2 sports car.

Pronounced in French it sounds like "merde" hence it is now simply the MR for that market.

The worst that happens to car names is when they become a symbol of the car itself.

I remember that once, whilst visiting the UK, Kachumbari was asked by one of the top bosses at Ford as to what people in Kenya thought about the car.

Without hesitation, Kachumbari told him that Ford was an acronym for "Fix Or Repair Daily".

That was the reputation that it had.

Another that did not fare well was the Fiat Rustica.

It got a very bad reputation for rusting through rapidly probably because of salt applied on the roads but more likely for more fundamental reasons.

Because it was driven mainly by flashy, young, single Kenyans, the BMW also acquired acronym status when it was referred to as "Be My Wife", as it was seen to be an advert for the male seeking such company.

In some instances, local names are given to cars either as a sales gimmick or possibly to hide a murky past.

The most famous localised car names must be the Renault 4 which every Kenyan knows a Roho evoking thoughts of a little car with a mighty heart.

One however wonders about the Uhuru which seems to suggest that the car eventually found freedom, or independence from a heritage, when launched in Kenya.

The Dudu could be forgiven for making one think of all these little things that crawl all over the place and seem to be indestructible...until one gets a can of superwhateveritis and sprays them dead.

As Kachumbari says, there is nothing like a name, nothing left to....!

ONE OF THE five employees retiring and receiving a special gift was James Nyamai, Restaurant Head Waiter who has been working at Nyali for 34 years. He was thanked for his dedicated service by Tony Grove, Block Hotels Area Manager. The presentation took place at the hotel's Staff Christmas Party.

FUN AND GAMES AT NYALI STAFF PARTY

THE FLORAL and balloon decorated Staff Canteen at Nyali Beach Hotel, with colourful kikois draped from its makuti roofed ceiling, jumped with the sound of popular African music by the Saina band as many of its three hundred employees danced.

It was the annual fun, food and award loaded annual Christmas Party which was also witnessed by some of the hotel's 'repeat' guests.

Tony Grove, Block Hotels Area Manager, conveyed the seasons greetings from the Chief Executive, Roger Hartley; Managing Director, Graham Nicholls and other Directors, as well as a 'big' thank you for their great efforts during the year, adding 'you all deserve it'.

This was endorsed by the General Manager, John Mutua, who wished everyone a very happy Christmas and New Year.

Under an 'incentivescheme' Gold Star and cash awards went to employees who had made an extra special effort during the months of July to October, while 29 long serving employees (from 10 - 30 years) received certificates and cash awards, as well as congratulations from Tony Grove.

Five who were retiring were presented with special gifts among them being James Nyamai, Head Restaurant Waiter and Mzuve Musomba, Head Cook, who have been with the hotel for 34 and 38 years respectively.

Sports trophies and prizes were also presented and receiving much applause, and laughter, was 'Kanja' from the Housekeeping Department who received two chickens, one already cooked and ready for eating.

The General Manager had promised that if he could complete the hotel's marathon race he would give him a gift.

Kanja finished last!

Mr. Mutua kept his promise after noting that Kanja's favourite food is chicken.

There was some brilliant entertainment by the Okello drama group (based, as usual, on a marital dispute!) as well as from the Kimantu wa Kimatuka group of acrobats, fire-eaters and limbo dancers.

The General Manager and his management team had a busy time of it serving employees with their favourite 'nosh' which included chicken and roast meat.

Charity Matches To Raise Funds In Aid Of Soccer Families

TWO SOCCER COMPETITIONS have been organised to raise funds towards the late Kenya Football Federation (Kff) Coast branch chairman Sadla Khamis and the late "Chilla Boy" who was a Bandari FC assistant coach.

This was disclosed yesterday by the co-ordinator Ricky Solomon Tolle who named the two events as the "Fair Play" Cup under 23 and Sadla Youth Cup under 16.

Solomon informed COASTWEEK that they have invited any interested team to participate in the two competitions in the spirit of promoting Coast soccer standards which are in dire need of face lifting.

He remarked that Coast soccer fraternity has neglected the youth who are the stars of tomorrow in not allowing them to take part in any football leagues or tournaments.

"We strongly feel that these two competitions will gauge the youth teams strength and weaknesses as we hope top players in Mombasa will feature", said Solomon.

He announced that each team will be required to pay Sh. 350/- for each tourney.

The funds will go towards the families of late Sadla Khamis and Chilla Boy.

The teams will also pay the cost of referees before any match kick-off.

The following are the rules governing the two competitions:

- Age limit of all participants will strictly be under 23 and

by Abdul R. Shariff

under 16 years.
